What was wrong with that dumb student board this year? Always making a big fuss over student rights and stuff. Why don't they learn from some of the 'big men on campus' that the important thing is to play intramural sports. That's where it's all at. Instead they just go around getting in trouble and act like they're doing something for the good of the students. How dumb! It's putting that ball through the hoop for the big score and really hitting each other competitively and acting tough, that really matters. I'm sure glad Marian College hasn't been fooled by all this and still give praise where it's due, to the "tough" guys. This year's board, especially, has been really dumb. I don't know who they were, and I don't care. (but I can sure name most of the members of the championship intramural basketball team). All this stuff about Board of Trustees, Judicial Panels, and Perc Renovations. Big deal! All I can say is, "I'm in love with a man who acts like a man!" And us girls should still be the Prom Queens. Those guys and girls on the board should act like they're supposed to. Thank God Marian College has been smart enough to ignore those dumb student board people this year. (I wish the captain of the intramural basketball team was student board officer).

WHO ARE YOU ?

Have you ever wondered who you are? It's only natural. You spend much of your lifetime listening to other persons relate to their own existence and you begin to wonder what is left of yourself.

Transcendental Meditation may give you some insight to yourself. Merv Griffin has been a mediator for a short time and he says that it has changed his life. "I meditate 20 minutes in the morning and 20 minutes at night, and just that amount of time makes me alert mentally and fit physically. It has helped me immeasurably in my work on television; I think I am a better questioner, and I respond more quickly.

On Monday, April 21, at 8:00 p.m., on Channel 4-TV, Merv Griffin will devote his entire show to Transcendental Meditation and the Science of Creative Intelligence. Merv's quests will include Maharishi Mahesh Yogi; Dr. Harold Bloomfield, a psychiatrist; and Michael Learned, who plays on TV's "The Waltons".

Then on Thursday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m., in Doyle Hall Lounge, there will be a follow-up lecture given by an instructor of TM from the Indianapolis office of the Students International Meditation Society.

Plan to see the Merv Griffin Show on Monday and attend the lecture on Thursday to find out how you can enrich your life and really get to know yourself.

DAVID HALBERSTAM

David Halberstam was born in New York City in 1934 and graduated from Harvard in 1955. For five years he worked for newspapers in Mississippi and Tennessee before joining The New York Times in 1960 as a foreign correspondent. While reporting for that paper, he won a Pulitzer Prize in 1964 for his coverage of the Vietnam war, an award which was soon followed by the Louis M. Lyons Award, given by the Nieman Fellows of Harvard University, and the George Polk Award.

Mr. Halberstam's first assignment by the Times was to cover the war in the Congo, where he became a war correspondent for the first time. His reports on the Katanga fighting won him his first nomination for the Pulitzer Prize. After winning the award in 1964, he went to Poland for the Times, and after a year was expelled by the Communist regime for his hard-hitting stories on the economic malaise there.

(Con't next column)

THE MAKING OF A QUAGMIRE; a book on his experience and knowledge of Vietnam, was published by Random House in 1965. He is also the author of two novels, THE NOBLEST ROMAN AND ONE VERY HOT DAY' A lengthy report for Harper's magazine on his impressions upon revisiting Vietnam in 1968 was chosen as the best magazine writing of the year and included in the book, "Best Magazine Articles, 1968". Mr. Halberstam's other works include: THE UNFINISHED ODYSSEY OF ROBERT KENNEDY (1969); HO (1971), a study of the late Ho Chi Minh; and THE BEST AND THE BRIGHTEST, his latest book, about how the men in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations exercised power in office.

On Wednesday, April 23, David Halberstam will be in Indianapolis, Room 102, Cavanaugh Hall, IUPUI. All students, faculty and interested persons are invited.

DEAR CARBON

This week, Marian College will usher in spring with a recital so unique in the field of entertainment. People from miles around will be attracted to our innocent campus. The event is called the Care A Thon. It runs for 72 hours straight and is packed with action and fun (not necessarily for the whole family).

The project is a fund raising venture to keep Operation Upbeat functioning. It is a good cause and depends upon the generosity of the people participating. The events taking place are an effort to keep people in the spirit of giving.

The sights and sounds of the Care-A-Thon stagger the imagination. There is the incredible Marathon dance which keeps people hopping and hopping for an average of 15 hours. There is an assortment of skits and a variety of bands. In general, the Care-A-Thon is a good time for everyone.

However, people are needed to keep the Care-A-Thon hopping and bopping. Volunteers are needed to be Disc Jockeys and workers. The Care-A-Thon is also the scene to make if you have a skit or a band.

If interested, the people to contact are Bruce Council, LuAnn Elsbury, Bill Pedtke or Dennis Kelly. You can usually find one of these people in the Perc. If not, call me, Bill Platt, and I'll convey your message to one of them. See you there.

For The Carbon

If a student has inadvertently removed from the Library reference shelf the Library's copy of Writer's Market, 174, would he please return it as soon as possible? It is a valuable tool for my Creative Writing course and for students who are interested in publishing their works so that they may check prospective publishers' markets.

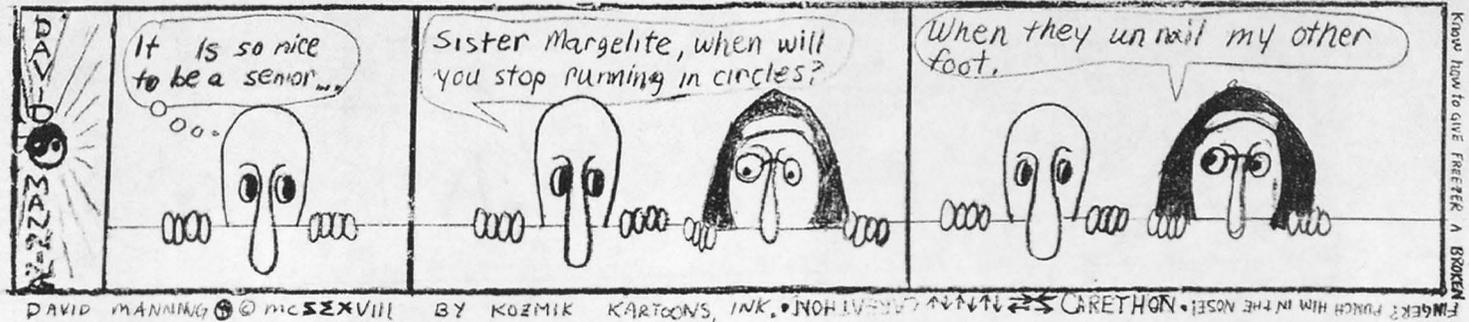

Thank you, Joseph Kempf

Dear Carbon

Thank you, thank you for letting me come aboard and helping to steer this beautiful ship. There are many ways to describe this journey, but I think enjoyable and interesting are the two most fitting adjectives.

Many thanks to the people who put up with my obnoxious presence on Thursday nights. I appreciate the help from the sports editors. Theresa you're beautiful. Karole, you are fantastic. And good luck to next years editors.

Shorts

Spring has finally sprung and so has the long awaited softball season. This year will be short, but hopefully, sweet. Due to the late Spring break, the nine teams will play eight regular games with the four best records going to the play offs, the last weekend of school.

It looks like a two division field, as the Balls of Fire and One Hung Low look like the teams to beat. Flip with these two five teams are Sarges Raiders, Evil Ways and Pseudo Jocks. The bottom bracket consists of the ever popular Mind Friars, The Old Men, if they ever show, (after all, we go to classes don't we) and two girls teams, The New Breed and the Old Ladies.

THE STANDINGS

|                | W | L |
|----------------|---|---|
| One Hung Low   | 4 | 0 |
| Balls of Fire  | 3 | 0 |
| Sarges Raiders | 3 | 1 |
| Evil Ways      | 3 | 2 |
| Pseudo Jocks   | 2 | 2 |
| The Old Ladies | 1 | 2 |
| New Breed      | 1 | 3 |
| Mind Friars    | 0 | 4 |
| The Old Men    | 0 | 4 |

- Baby Powder
- Birds & Bees & especially honey
- Crazy Foam

Viciously vieing for the number one spot in League A are the Special K and the V-6. It looks like Andy K. keeps the Specials ahead with a challenging combination of height and power.

Boasting a respectable 7-0 record, the V-6 prove to be a real threat to contenders. Agility and aggressiveness seems to be the prime factors in keeping this group ahead, although no one can discriminate the power hitting of Holms and Holzhausen.

At the other end of the totem pole appear the Marvin U-Who's and the Six Guns. Both teams support a no win record, but who's counting?

On the rise in A's Eat My Shorts II. Voche's pay off after awhile.

In League B it's the Cream O'Wheat opposing The Misfits for top billing. Teamwork seems to be the secret for the successful 7-0 Misfits. Those frequent Papindria-Conley set-ups are also responsible.

Surprisingly, there are no teams in League B maintaining a zero win-loss ratio. The Hardy Gang, La Societe Du Libertines and the Never Will Be's however, have won only one. Keep hackin!

Cack is pretty hot in League C. Cack's combination of jovial jocks and jumping jockettes is the hopeful recipe for play offs. Foxie's fighters are 7-0.

Close behind them is 6-0-Hell's Half Dozen. Starkie and Luthie's antics are well-blended with Wally's power serve..

Nobrac is League C's only consistent team with a no win record.

Ah, well, after next week the thrills and agonies of competitive college volley ball will come to an end. The two top teams of each league will play in the play offs on April 21.

Although the season is about to end, there is still time to improve that record. So get out there teams, and show your balls.

T.D.
