JOKE OF THE WEEK:

Once, when asked who his girlfriend was, Dennis
H. replied: "Clare Hall, She's a brick house".

Sister M. de Paul Schweitzer

The problem is....
The solution isn't....
The question remains,

To honor the men of Doyle Hall, the Carbon Co-Editors designed the TAD Poll to salute them all in a humorous manner. In our opinion they all deserve awards greater than our humble praise. So, here's to you Boys!!

The results from the TAD Poll taken Wednesday night in the Caf are in! From the 16 men nominated for the HOPS TOAD award, Joe Greenlee took first place with 23 votes. Kurt Guldner came in second with 11 votes. These men will receive an all expenses paid trip to their favorite malt shop, compliments of the Carbon, for their drinking capabilities (or should we say "capacities"). The winner of the LEAP FROG title, Dale Wernke, won by a wide margin over the other 21 nominees with 13 votes. Rick Johnston receives the runner-up position with 5 votes. Dale & Rick can pick up their new jocks in the Carbon Office April Fools Day.

There were 23 nominees for the HORNY TOAD title. Ron Kinnamon wins the award with 8 votes and Bryan Mills finished a close second with 5 votes. Compound W will be sent to these men as we don't want them chasing us around the desks in the office, nor can we afford to fumigate the office after they leave. (Just kiddin' guys!) The BULL FROG title is awarded to Mike Pratt (8 votes). Tom Maples (6 votes) and Dennis Hanley (5 votes) are the runner ups in this category from 21 men nominated. The BULL FROG winners will each receive a personalized roll of toilet paper to clean up their act. Mike Bauer with 6 votes, is the recipient of the ALL STAR FROG award for being the best, all around man on campus. Jeff Zartman, Ron Dye, & Mike Pratt tied for the second place position, each receiving 4 votes. There were 28 men nominated in this category. These men can collect their hugs and kisses from the Carbon princesses on April 1st.

Naturally Steve & Dan Greenlee are the winners of the TREE FROG award and will receive a bark worse than their bite (a D. Hanley wolf call). The FROG LEGS award goes to Mohammud Latifi. We have 2 pairs of L'eggs pantyhose for you at the Carbon Office.

It is interesting to note that both Dan Stockwell and Kim LeSage were nominated for the Bull Frog title. Also, Mr. Elmendorf received one vote in the Horny Toad Category. Larry Fox and Mike Bauer were nominated for all categories and Tom Philpot was nominated for all but one category.

Congratulations to all -- and remember we love you just they way you aren't.

BLOOD DRIVE

The bi-annual blood drive was held yesterday, Thur. March 29th. Marian tries to meet a quota of 80 pints per year. Yesterday's Spring drive, the first for 1979, yielded 41 pints of blood. The remaining 39 needed to meet our quota will be asked for in the November Fall Drive. Thanks to all who gave blood, for you gave the gift of life. Thanks also to every one who worked and to those who tried but were not able to give. We will look for your support once again in November.

"WHAT WE HAVE HERE IS A FAILURE TO COMMUNICATE"--Cool Hand Luke

An oft heard quote, especially from students trying to deal with their prospective administrators and vice versa. To help bridge this "communication gap" is the Marian College Undergraduate Student Survey. This survey like all surveys is a very simple means of communication but hopefully one which will yield a broad range of information.

The results should be useful to everyone from the President's Office to the students who discuss common concerns at the Mug Rack. The quantitative information -- sex, age, home, etc. -- will help describe the "typical" Marian Student and, in future years, how he/she has changed. The qualitative information -- evaluations, statements of concern, comments, etc. -- will be used to give a better understanding of students' attitudes and concerns and to give some objective feedback to the administration and faculty about how students feel the administrators and faculty are performing their jobs. The most important use of the survey is as a tool to initiate more communication.

All this is provided if enough of the surveys are returned. As of Thursday noon, only 30% have been returned; a much higher return rate is called for from such a small campus. If you have misplaced your survey, stop by the Student Services Office for another, if you have already handed yours in, encourage your friends to complete theirs. This is an open invitation to voice concerns about Marian, be sure to take advantage of it.

This survey alone will not bridge the communication gap at Marian, but it is a start and the more who participate, the better the start. Who knows, if this survey is a success, maybe the next one will be called the Marian College Administrative Officer Survey with the students asking the questions.

Mike Bauer

P.S. Anyone who would like to help tally the survey is invited to contact me at ext. 384 or stop by the Student Services Office and leave your name.

"KIDS ARE PEOPLE TOO"

This is a very special year for kids all around the world. The United Nations had declared 1979 as the "Year of the Child". Its a year set apart to think of a child in a special way and continue in that manner the rest of our lives.

Children are born of LOVE. They have to grow in and with love. They have to learn to give and take love. It's not the toys, not the sweetmeats, not so much the food that the child needs most (though they are a part of a child's life). Food takes care of the bodily needs of a child. Though a child might grow strong bodily, it might still be weak emotionally. If it does not receive the love and affection of its parents which she/he craves for, there can't be a healthy, well-balanced growth taking place within a child.

A chubby baby might be good to look at, cuddly to hug at, sweet to kiss at, but when the baby starts growing and shows signs of "mischievousness" -- which is a part of growing up -- then some tend to lose interest in the child. He/she becomes more demanding and we are not ready or just do not want to give what the child actually needs -- more attention. We aren't tolerant enough, we lack patience, lack understanding. Hence, people start abusing the child. We satisfy our emotional outbursts of anger and fury on the child, ignoring the child's emotional need. He/she may annoy us, not on purpose but of ignorance. Discipline is essential, but it does not mean "violence". Discipline with a pinch of patience would make a difference. Where love abounds, understanding and affection follows.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT:
NEELMINO EMMANUEL

- Beth Wathen

The second youngest of seven boys, Neelmino Emmanuel admits to being "homesick sometimes." It has been two years since Neel has been back to Sri-Lanka, a small island off the coast of India. However, he is fortunate in having a brother who lives in Chicago, and who he can visit regularly.

How did Neel find out about Marian? "I saw something about Marian College in a magazine," remembers Neel. He wanted to attend a small college in the U.S., as opposed to a larger institution, to become more familiar with the English language and American way of life, and benefit from the individual attention a student can better receive at a smaller college. The size of the school and classes are what Neel likes most about Marian.

The sophomore, Sociology major learned his English while going to school at a mission in Sri-Lanka. English is the second language learned in Sri-Lankan school: therefore, Neel had a good background in English before coming to this school to study.

Although Sri-Lanka is a predominately Hindu country, Neel is Roman Catholic. According to Neel, the Catholics in this country have a much easier time practicing their religion than their Sri-Lankan counterparts. Catholics in his country are brought up in a much stricter environment, and most Catholic children are educated at mission schools. Neel feels that there is a Christian atmosphere present at Marian, and sees the Catholics at the College as "more free" in practicing their religion.

Neel is uncertain about his academic future. He may transfer to a larger university, but he may continue at Marian to earn his bachelor's degree and stay with the friends he has made while at Marian.

Today the CARBON joins the entire Marian Community in Welcoming the Little Brothers and Little Sisters to our fresh green acres. We hope you all would have a jolly good time and a memorable weekend on this special year of you yours.

Neel.

P.S.
The Marian College Theatre will be staging a children's show next Saturday at the Piene Theatre. Please don't forget to enjoy the "Concerto in a Major Dispute" written by Susan Close and directed by Jack Werle.

SEE PETER

Hi, my cherri-berri-bims! See Peter sitting here, watching Laura and her Gentleman Caller make out. They ought to be dynamite once they get to rehearsals.

Big news on the theater front! Three one-act plays will be presented in Peine Arena. Some of the themes are salesmen, sex, old people, sex, sex, and sex. What else is there? Anyway, the shows are: "Chuck", with Bob Fischer and Belinda Bower; Dennis McCullough directing "Red Carnation", with Denise Uhriq, Tom Bohrer, and Mark Bradley; Dina Harding directing. "Memoirs" with James Denny Clark and Cathy Anderson; Dennis McCullough directing. Lord, that man likes to tell people what to do. Performances are at 12:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. April 5th. Names will be taken, and those who don't show up will be treated to 8 hours of "Chopsticks" being played by a Mexican dwarf with big feet.

The children's show is carrying on, as are most of the actors. But, despite stage plot changes exchanges of characters, and script rewrites, we shall prevail. We may even perform. See you the 7th! You are coming, aren't you?

Bette/Blair phoned. She was hysterical. The operation came out all wrong. All I understood was that the doctor was on something at the time, and that something had gone wrong. We'll have to see. She's coming home this week. Ben's coming back soon. His documentary has been confiscated by the Swedish censors, who said, "Shnort yehum avort kestunkha!" (Which translates to, "Make Linda Lovelace look like a Girl Scout!") It has been burned and its ashes force fed to Ben. And Margo, whom I have chastised for her article, is being sewn back together by elves. I hope they leave the needle in her"_____."

ATTENTION STUDENT "EATERS":

Effective this Saturday, March 31, 1979, all boarding and E.L.S. students must show their I.D.s or meal tickets in order to be served. Any problems regarding this regulation should be directed to Peggy, Bob, or Leroy personally.

KABUKI THEATRE AT MARIAN COLLEGE

SHUN KAN is a scene from an original five act play written by Monzaemon Chikamatsu and was first presented as a puppet play in 1719. The story is based on a chapter in the HEIKE MONO-GATORI, the TALES OF HEIKE.

Shun Kan, Naritsune and Yasuyori were among the conspirators against the Heike clan, but their plot was exposed and they were exiled on the island of Kikai-ga-shima. Three years later there is a general amnesty and a boat comes to take the exiled back to the capitol. But for some reason or other, Shun Kan alone of the three had not received a pardon.

Naritsune, one of the exiles, had married Chidori, and island girl from a nearby island. The envoy, Seno, will not let Chidori return on the boat.

This historical play includes a wedding celebration, some Samurai sword play, an heroic sacrifice of personal freedom and aesthetic dimensions which carry the message to the audience.

CURTAIN TIME: 8 p.m.

TICKETS: $5.00 adults; $3.00 Students &

Children.

Co-ed Volleyball play started last Monday night in Clare Hall Gym. Over 100 students are participating in this favorite athletic competition on Campus. That's approximately 19% of the dorm student population.

Mr. Henderson is the Intramural Director and believes this recreational sport is an exciting and constructive enhancement to the students' daily academics.

Competition is divided between two leagues — Red Division and Green Division. — with play continuing for five weeks followed by tournament action just prior to Finals Week.

After one week of competition the Snipes are leading with 2 wins and 0 losses. Blob & Co., Travelers, and Winning is Everything each won one game and lost one game. The Mad Dogs have won one game and Paisanos lost both games.

In the Green Division: Rowdies and I Tappa Keg are leading with 2 wins and no losses. The Miller's are 1-1 as well as Klut'z Clan. The Untouchables and Hangovers lost both games.

BASEBALL NEWS

As some of you may already know, the baseball team went to Florida over Spring Break. The team played a total of 7 games, with 6 of them counting. The other game against Florida Junior College, Junior Colleges do not count on the record. Since returning, the mighty Knights have played Butler twice, and lost, to bring their record to 3 wins and 5 losses.

This years young, powerful, and explosive team promises to be a sure pennant contender. The team has displayed a solid defensive unit that boasts 6 returning Letterman and 2 Freshmen. They line up like this: Catcher, Dale Wernke; First Baseman Bob "Punky" Greer; Second Baseman, Kurt Guldner; Shortstop, Fred Shipley; Third Baseman and Co-Captain, Ken Schmutte; Leftfielder and Co-Captain, Tim Berringer; Center Fielder, Darryl Simko; and Rightfielder Tom "wildman" Philpot. The defense looks good this season committing only 5 errors and turning over 5 double plays, three in the first game. The outfield does its own thing; Simko and Berringer each made two diving catches. The best catch thus far this season belongs to Tim Berringer who made a diving catch over the home run fence against Butler last Thursday.

The men on the mound are also setting records. While in Florida, Tom Maples threw two victories in one day. In the first of those games Tom relieved starter Gary "Otto" McGee in the 6th and pitched three innings. The second game Tom was the scheduled starter, he pitched 7 innings to record another victory. Jeff Zartman got the Knights off right with a victory in his first appearance of the season. Other pitchers to see action in Florida were Paul "Butch" Butcher, Paul Dodson, Mark Bateman and Tim Berringer.

The offensive punch this season has been led by Fred Shipley, Dale Wernke and Ken Schmutte all hitting over .400. The rest of the squad is hitting the ball well producing a team batting average of .290. The demons of the base paths have been hard at work stealing bases with 7 runs scored. Darryl Simko has hit the lone-home-run this season. Unfortunately Darryl's run does not count as it was in the Junior College game.

The rest of the Knight's roster looks like this Infielder, Tom "Kool" Finchum; Scorekeeper and. (Continued in first column of this page...)

NEVERENDING THANKS

Thank you God for your gift
I've had it all my life.
The gift of life is the best on earth.
It started at my birth.
It's been with me through my joys and sorrows
And would stay if I die tomorrow.
With your love I can succeed.
When it's within me there is no need.
Without your love we'd all be lost
No price can buy it as it has no cost.
Just ask and you'll receive
A life guarantee in which He'll never leave.

He is a great man
To lift the ban
On pot and cocaine.

Many are glad
And many are sad
They say he's not really sane.

They took him away
And ruined his day
When they labeled him totally insane.

Life is not sad
And everyone's glad
Along with their pot and cocaine.

COME OFF IT

There's little time and so much joy
For me to spread to girl and boy
So, come hither, and Oh, to hell with it!!

I've seen too many poems
Promising an idyll without a price.
Forget it.
You can't give me paradise and I can't give you
Heaven,
For that is within ourselves.

I can fulfill a need or show you a good time,
But only you can grasp the stars you want.
My stars are too hot or too cold to please you,
And yours are too thorny or ethereal for me!
So, if while we're together, take heart,
Give a kiss or a laugh, and enjoy yourself.

Accept it for what it is.
Friendship.
Love.
Not Olympus.
Don't rely on me for your happiness,
It's too heavy a burden.
Nor shall I weigh you down with my hopes.
I shall not break another's back to cure my ailing soul.

And remember this,
Just between you and me, my friend,
I Love You.

That's all. Ayn Rand's Bastard Child.
