

carbon

STRIP - PARTY
ON SATURDAY
CONTACT: John O'Kane

NOVEMBER 7, 1969

VOLUME = No. —

ACTIVITIES

FRIDAY, 7 Nov.--Cross country today at 4:00--KNIGHTS at South Grove for Little State. For those interested in sharing your favorite reading selections with others, sign up for the READ-IN, 7:30 p.m. tonight, sponsored by ACTION. Tonight, Saturday, and Sunday, at 8:00 p.m. in the MH Auditorium, the MC Drama Dept. presents CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF under the direction of Robert Moran. The cast of this Tennessee Williams drama includes Barb Bates, Gayle Steigerwald, Dan Halbrook, Steve Hammerle, Pete O'Connell, Mary Wuest, and many others, and features Danny Moran as a no-neck monster. Danny made his stage debut in 1966 as Baby Jesus and has since speared in a cowboy movie. Talk about versatile!

SATURDAY, 8 Nov.--After the play at 8:00 p.m., come join in the fun at the grand opening of the GREEN DERBY sponsored by the Frosh in the Gym Lounge. Entertainment, refreshments and a good time--all for a cover charge of only 25¢. Can't beat that.

SUNDAY, 9 Nov.--Cars will be leaving Clare Hall at 6:45 p.m. for a Hootenanny at LaRue Carter Hospital. Anyone interested in going, please contact Kathy Schlomer at Ext. 248.

Last performance of CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF at 8:00 p.m.

MONDAY, 10 Nov.--This is it, gang, the beginning of the end: MIDTERM. Choose homecoming queen candidates by nominating 2 girls from your class in front of the auditorium from 9:30 to 4:30. OK, hidden talent, come out, come out wherever you are! The Homecoming Variety Show needs you. Auditions will be held at 7:00 p.m. in the MH Auditorium. All kinds of talent welcome (except Jewish Redbird--sorry, JR, we do not want to see your Marilyn Monroe imitation.) Gym sports women at 7:00 p.m. Lecture Series continues at 7:00 and 8:15 p.m.

TUESDAY, 11 Nov.--Only nineteen more days until Louisa May Alcott's 137th birthday! Oh, joy!! In keeping with the MIDTERM-week spirit, I offer the following lines (stolen, of course, from someone else):

A maiden at college, Miss Freeze, had B.A.'s and M.A.'s and Lit. D.'s.
Said her doctor, "It's plain, you'll collapse from the strain
For you're killing yourself by degrees."

(Well, anything is better than Jewish Redbird's nauseating puns and coffee.)

It's BOWLING NIGHT at the Westside Bowling Alley, 2324 W. Michigan sponsored by WARA. 50¢ per game--8:00 p.m. If you can provide transportation, please contact Wanda Rogalski, Ext. 248.

WEDNESDAY, 12 Nov.--Lecture Series at 7:00 and 8:15 p.m. Women, Gym'n sports at seven.

THURSDAY, 13 Nov.--Thought for the day..

Be happy! --mtk

AMERICA--the BEAUTIFUL

Why is everybody so uptight about a little war? What's all this marching and yelling about? What's wrong with all these young kids dressing crazy, wearing beards and all that hair?

Ready for it?

Tyrranus Nix appeared in black and white (the American way) this week and appealed to the silent majority to follow him in his pursuit of a just and fair peace in Viet Nam. However, the only silent majority I know of are all those dead soldiers whose blood has made Viet Nam more red than Tyrranus ever feared it would be. So it's too late for them to hear you, Dick. How about speaking to us--the outspoken majority. Most of us are 18-21 who have to go and fight your silly war but we don't even get a chance to vote on it. If we do fight and are fortunate enough to return, you threaten to veto a $60 increase in our GI Bill. So if you're the people's choice--how about listening to the people.

Yet Tyrranus Nix has the nerve to rattle his jaws about how the outspoken majority will have no influence on his present or future policies. I think that maybe it would be wise for him to invest $1.00 in a long distant phone call to a certain Texas trail boss and find out how much influence we really have. No more Hershey bars Tyrranus, let's end the war.
(continued next column)

Should you follow Tyrannus in his search for a 'just and fair' peace? Before you answer that look north to Chicago and see how 'just and fair' this country has become. Last week Bobby Seale was bound and gagged in an American court of justice. Yesterday he was sentenced to four years in prison for contempt of court. Some justice - now he has to spend four years behind bars before he can even stand trial for his former 'crime'. If that happens in a Russian court room Americans would be outraged. Are you outraged? What will you do about it?

On November 15, we the American people wish to demonstrate against a government which refuses to listen to us. Yet, this government of the people, by the people, and for the people refuses to grant a parade permit for more than 300 people. Sounds something like Chicago, summer 1968, doesn't it? I hope not.

But will we go - and someday - maybe on that day - we will be heard because somehow mom's apple pie has left a sour taste in our mouths. Peace -- Tom Hanrahan

READ

FREEDOM FAST

War protest continues yet President Nixon's policy also continues. On Nov. 15th a "March on Death" has been declared. Thousands of students, including a contingency from Marian, will march in Washington, D.C. for an end to the prostitution of Vietnam by our war policy. Dissenting students in the majority believe in non-violent action to a point where violence is the only alternative.

We have heard this in the civil rights movement and have seen violence in our cities. We have heard this in the educational reform movement and have seen violence on our campuses. Yet has violence gained any lasting changes other than the irrational swing to the right in government which may last as long as the violence continues and the present government is not completely destroyed. Violence has struck down our leaders. Violence has encouraged a regression and reversion of civil rights legislation. Violence has encouraged hard-line dissent policies on our campuses. Violence has not made lasting changes in our society.

The March of Death may begin a new era of useless violence due to the closed ears of the present administration. We, the undersigned, feel a definite need for a serious non-violent alternative. Our country's policy is not based on moral judgements but on securing economic stability. We act as a people not on the values of our theistic foundation but on the GNP.

However, we also believe that the majority of student dissent is not serious action taken by students to effect a policy change. We do not believe that war and other problems in our society are real. Therefore, to internalize our beliefs we will eat only bread and water on the days of the Vietnam Moratorium days in Dec. (3 days) and Jan. (4 days). Perhaps this will only help us gain a little better appreciation of human life. However, we hope to spread this idea to all campuses and people involved in the Moratorium. In February the preparatory period will end and unless a significant change in Vietnam is noted, we will fast for two weeks, hopefully as a national movement.

Also, at that time active boycotting of all food establishments will begin. Our country is in love with our social full stomach. Perhaps, by these means, we can make people experience some economic and dietetic discomfort which may encourage support for an end to the War in Vietnam.

Gene Bourke
George Buessem
Kenneth Callahan
Kevin Cassidy
Thomas Cassidy
Michael Consolino
John Dorsey
David Haire
Tom Hanrahan
Robert Heitz
Dan Holbrook

Mary Schultz

We!
the undersigned
CONTINUED NEXT

Betty Johnson
Phil McLane
John Mahoney
Michael Miller
Marianne Pennington
Michael Quinn
Stacy Smith

Supported by the Vietnam Moratorium Committee

If you are interested please contact any of the above people or come to our gathering initiation, 10:30 a.m., Thurs., Nov. 13, in the Perc.

John Mahoney

MONDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES

President Nixon has insulted the nation. The bullshit that was excreted onto the now famous yellow legal-pad was shoved into the faces of America last Monday night. The highly questionable facts and reasons for U.S. presence in Nam were not explained but only reiterated. As hard-line policy at that. This affirmation, especially based on the text of that speech, is immoral, illegal and a humiliating defeat for our country.

The entire program was tragic.

The "facts" disputable.

The presentation was absurd, however, his silent fools believed him. This same majority watch and believe Mod Squad.

Now.

We know the foreign policy. We know the basis of this policy. We know the attitude of Nixon and consequently much of America. Balance this with a human life. The huge pile of bullshit will weigh less. Much less.

Michael Miller

The Lost Word

It is through communication, that we acquire a unique individuality and certain qualities characteristics of the rest of society. This ideal is achieved through the verbal and written word; however the verbal word in our era carries more import. Radio, television, and the telephone and media of the vocal communication. Often this media is utilized to propagandize false values. In this aspect, people are controlled - freedom of thought is abolished.

In our own country, mediocrity endangers the very existence of our spirit. Such as euphorisms as 'Today has been cancelled due to a lack of interest,' emphasises the attitude of many citizens. Sensationalism and pleasure are goals that people seek. They listen to others: the radio, the movie, the television but they fail to express their own thoughts. Whenever they have to think, they procrastinate.

The written word has been demphasized, which is a failure of our society. On paper our words can be preserved and shared with others. With just vocal expression, our ideas are lost and can be quoted as contradictory statements.

Therefore it is essential that we formulated our thoughts though written. The written word enhanced our ideas. As a result, we become more creative opinionated individual segments of humanity. Words are beautiful self-expression.

C.B.

that will affect his freedoms, his self-attained responsibility to himself and other people, and his ability to make his own decisions. But does he achieve these goals by being hindered by unnecessary rules?

I feel that we, the women in Clare Hall, should be forced to THINK. We need to make our own decisions and acquire a sense of responsibility for our future life. One big step in this direction would be the elimination of women's hours. The time to act is NOW, not ten years in the future when it's too late.

A senior,
Cathy Meyer

To the Editor:

As stated in the MARIAN College Catalog, the goal is to give its students "mature, inquiring, and honest minds, well-integrated personalities, healthy bodies, well defined goals, high moral standards, sound esthetic tastes, and a sharp sense of personal and social responsibility." Basically this is a very high ideal, yet the women residents of this college are being suppressed from achieving this goal entirely.

Because of the present system of hours, the women have to resort to such childish things as sneaking out or in after hours, giving the names of non-existent places for overnights. Hours also inconvenience people by having them bring you back before hours if you are to sign out for an overnight and by the excessive noise caused when everyone comes in at their specified time. Do actions like this help the development of maturity?

Why is it that at college you have to be told when to be in when at home you're left with the decision of what a reasonable time to be in is? Is it up to a college to degrade your maturity by limiting hours? Let's look at it realistically. There are 24 hours in a day that belong to you. So why take them away after 3 a.m. or midnight. MARIAN College, don't make me regress but help me achieve your goal.

Wanda Rogalski

Dear CARBON:

Before I came to college I was given the responsibility to come in early when I went out. I was not checked on; but was considered mature enough to be in at a reasonable hour. Then as a high school girl, my maturity was more respected and acknowledged than now, as a college woman. Does this imply that college suppresses, rather than develops maturity and responsibility? Now that I am in college, I have all kinds of restrictions. This tends to decrease my sense of responsibility, rather than build it up.

A Sophomore

To the CARBON:

Humble apologies to the student body from this Phoenix editor for the GROSS ERROR in the Hours story on page 3 (11/4). The typographical oversight should have read: "Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors would have no hours, while the Freshmen would have hours of 12:00 a.m. during the week, 2:00 a.m. on weekends, and 1:00 a.m. on Sundays."

LS

SPORTS. . . .

Turkey Run

For Homecoming week-end coach Dickison has come up with a new sport called the Turkey Run. This is not definite as of yet but, if the turkeys can be obtained this will become a reality.

The object of the sport is for a seven man or woman team to run two miles each. The team with the fewest total points win a turkey for each runner. How would you like to win a big bird for Thanksgiving? It is easy! Get your teams together now. Cross-country men are not allowed to enter.

X.C.

Bruce Hudson finished first for Marian last Thursday, but despite his tremendous effort the team, as a whole, lost.

This past Tuesday Marian ran Butler at Butler. The score was 23-37. Despite the loss this was the best effort that Marian as a team posted against their rivals--Butler. Bruce Hudson finished 1st for Marian and second in the meet while Don B. finished 4th in the meet.

The state final will be held on Nov. 7 at South Grove. This consists of all the X.C. men in the state (college and university) running against one another.

Basketball

Basketball season is approaching and Marian Knight's are looking as tough as ever, losing only two lettermen from last year, Beaver and Tonto. Although these men were key figures on the court, Coach Reynolds has a good group of guards with Steve Drake and Bob Hasty being probable starters while Randy Stahley and Tim Berger will probably be the forwards. This leaves the center spot open for Tom Dolezal, the 6'8" junior flash. Since all of these men have kept training rules throughout the summer they will certainly be ready for the 1st game.

Juggerball

"Juggerball is coming." This was the cry throughout last year but all the students were saying that "Juggerball has gone," and will probably stay there. Despite the lack of interest last year, Coach Dichison, in a desperate effort to build up the intramural activities on M.C. campus, decided to try it again this year. It will start after intramural football and all teams should be turned in as soon as possible. Rules may be obtained from the intramural gym, Harry Groton, or Don Merrille.

Intramural B. Ball will begin upon the completion of Juggerball season.

D.B.

Dear Editors:

There will be an important membership meeting of the ORGANIZATION OF STUDENTS for HUMAN RIGHTS Wednesday night at 6:00 in room 157. This meeting is for all interested non-apathetic, non-racist, non-hating, and so-called loving, liberal, enlightened, and concerned students. Will that individual please show up?

Peace,

Tom Gannon

Paul Broxterman

An education of facts and figures, memorization, and dictated "book knowledge" is only secondary in attaining an education. Some of the major assets of a mature adult are his awareness of his environment and world issues
(continued on page 4)