Five Seniors Attain Membership In National Honor Societies

Recently five seniors, Joann Hazlewood, Martha Pictor, Julia Abrams, Sister M. Paulette, O. S. F., and Sister Hobart, O. S. F., were selected for membership in three national honor societies, the Delta Epsilon Sigma, Kappa Gamma Pi, and Delta Mu Theta.

Joann and Martha will become members of Delta Epsilon Sigma, a national scholastic honor society for students of Catholic colleges and universities.

Through the Beta Eta chapter here at Marian, the society admits seniors selected for high scholastic achievement.

With her remarkable four year average of 2.74, Joan readily fulfills this requirement. She has not only attained an admirable scholastic record but she has also contributed her multifold participation in extra-curricular activities. As secretary and president of the student board, she has shown her ability to lead and to work with people. Her flair for writing has added much to both the Phoenix and Fioretti.

Martha, too, has achieved eminence with a 2.52 average. Her talents have benefited the science club, of which she has been president, and the Phoenix and Fioretti. She also has added distinction of being a pioneer in her field as one of Marian's first students to complete a medical technology course.

Julia has been selected by Kappa Gamma Pi, the national honor society of Catholic women's colleges. Eligibility is determined on the basis of leadership in extra-curricular activities and scholastic achievement.

In the scholastic realm, Julia too has attained great heights. She won the Rosary College Scholarship for study abroad during her junior year and at present she

April Assemblies Feature Speaker, Constitution Vote

There will be only three student assemblies during April, because of Easter vacation.

Class meetings will be held on Thursday, April 12. Nominations for class officers will be made at this time, with elections in May. Terms will begin in the fall.

The April 19 assembly features a guest speaker—Father Raymond Bosler. His talk will center on the controversial subject of "Relations of Church and State." Among its many aspects, he will discuss the Protestants and Other Americans United (POAU), a group favoring strict interpretation of the Constitution. Father will also present other existing connotations of the First Amendment.

A native of Indianapolis, Father Bosler holds the title of doctor of theology. At present he is editor of the Indianapolis Diocesan paper, Indiana Catholic and Record, and chaplain of Butler university's Newman club.

For several years Father Bosler has won gold medals for his editorials in the Catholic press. In addition, he was granted the Stephen R. Wise award for his promotion of religious harmony. Besides his many duties, Father Bosler is a frequent speaker before civic and non-Catholic groups.

Joann Hazlewood, president of the student board, will conduct the assembly on April 26. Students at this time will have the opportunity to vote on the revised sections of the Student Association constitution. A copy of the revised constitution will be posted on the bulletin board with a copy of the present constitution.

St. Joe Welcomes Festival of Music; Bel Canto, Duo Trio Enter Program

The Bel Canto chorus will travel to Saint Joseph college, Collegeville, Ind., on April 21, to participate in the annual Festival of Music. Guest director for this occasion will be Miss Jo Anne Krieger, Marian graduate of 1954.

For the performance, Sister Mary Vitalis, director of Bel Canto, has chosen "Mother Goose Suite"—Horton, "If I Loved You"—Rogers and Hammerstein, and "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" from Brahms's Requiem.

Also participating will be the Duo Trio with a selection of songs.

Marian and St. Joe's chorals will combine for "Roll, Jordan, Roll," "Deep River," "Psalm 150," and "The Soldiers' March."

Mass will begin the day at 11 a. m. followed by lunch in the cafeteria. Afternoon rehearsals precede a mixer, held to acquaint members of the various chorales.

Donald Wassel Heads Variety Show; Freshman Class Sponsors Big Affair

The freshman class recently formulated definite plans for an all-school variety show. The last class meeting was converted into a quasi-pep rally for those interested. Enthusiasm has taken shape in the form of various committees whose job it will be to consolidate their efforts into a final success on April 15-16.

The theme for the production is Night Time, U.S.A., which is divided into three acts, beginning with Night Time, New Orleans, featuring blues and Dixieland jazz. Continuing north to Night Time, New York, the second act embodies the classical and popular music of Broadway. The third act will serve as a finale with an expression of all the regional tempos of the country in singing, dancing, and music.

The program will be open to the public April 15-16, in the auditorium. Committees organized to make this show a hit are: producers and auditioners—Don Wassel, Joe Horan, Dan Dufour, and Barbara Wernsing; make-up—Barbara Libs; music—Charles Boehm; dialogue—Dale Magnus; dancing—Pat Mertz; settings—Gail Ebach; costumes—Janet Wright; and finances—George Waning. Don Wassel will head the entire production.

Arrangements for ticket sales will be announced soon. All are cordially invited to come and spend a pleasant evening as guests of the class of '59.

Activities Schedule

The Home Economics club sent four representatives to the State Home Economics clubs convention in French Lick, Ind., on March 23-24.

NCMEA members are selling tickets on a portable radio to be chanced April 8, at St. Mary's-of-the-Woods, the location of their next meeting.

The NFCCS Regional Congress will be held at Nazareth college, Nazareth, Mich., April 14 and 15. It is at this time that the new officers for the coming school year will be elected and plans for future school activities will be taken up.

A new project is being taken on by the Fioretti staff. A mixer will be held April 27, with all proceeds used for publication of two yearly editions of Fioretti.

Easter Greetings

The entire faculty, along with the Phoenix staff, wish all students and readers the joys and blessings of the Easter season. May all experience renewed faith, hope, and charity.

Graduating Seniors Join Alumni Ass'n

New officers have been elected for the Marian Alumni association. Beginning their terms in the fall are: Margaret Mellen Kern, president; Mary Stieff Cohoat, vice president; Mary Wechsler Roney, secretary; Pauline Comella, corresponding secretary; Mary Patricia Sullivan, treasurer.

The next meeting of the association will be held on April 24 in the mixed lounge of Clare hall. All graduating seniors and any other person who has completed at least one full semester of study at Marian and who would have graduated this year, (associate members), will be admitted at this time. Mrs. Robert J. Hebenstreit, president, will distribute membership cards to the new members, among whom are eight men.

"April in Paris" is the motif of the meeting, featuring a fashion show with styling for men, women, and children. General chairman for the event is Mrs. H. J. Baker, assisted by Mrs. Matthew Dennin.

Third Order Plans Fish Fry April 13

Campus unit of the Third Order of St. Francis will sponsor the "Tertian Frolic," a fish-fry and dance to be held Friday, April 13. Tickets, costing $1, will include an evening of record dancing from 6-10:30 p. m., plus a delicious meal of boneless fish sandwiches, cole slaw, and potato chips. Dinner will be served until 7:30 p. m.

For those who cannot make it for the meal, dance tickets are available for 50 cents. Tickets purchased before Easter vacation will give the holder a chance on a cash door prize.

Auditioning for Don Wassel, Variety Show chairman, is Pat Mertz, freshman.

Awards Go to St. Mary's, Whiting In Annual One-Act Play Festival

Seven casts took part in the fourth Annual One-Act Play Festival held at Marian college, March 17 and 18. They represented Catholic colleges and theater groups in the state of Indiana.

Awards were presented to the best actor, actress and productions. Receiving the St. Genesius medal for best actor was Phillip Donahue, playing the role of Cuthman in Boy With a Cart by Christopher Frey, a medieval English play presented by St. Mary's college, Notre Dame. The play itself, directed by Edward Garzero and using a cast of sixteen women and four men, was rated the best production.

Best actress award went to Mary Moldraski of Whiting, who directed and played the title role in Chiara, a 13th century production.

Marian's production, The Twilight Saint, by Stark Young, was directed by Sister Mary Jane, O. F. S. Students participating were: Anthony Vespo, Anne Diener, Dan DuFour, and Marsha Seraphine.

Notre Dame dramatized Hello Out There, a comedy by William Saroyan under the direction of Reginald Bain, Jr. St. Joseph's college enacted Robert Middlemas's melodrama, The Valiant, under the direction of Ralph Cappuccilli.

Antigone, a classic Greek tragedy by Sophocles, was the contribution of St. Mary-of-the-Woods group, directed by Sister Mary Olive, S. P.

The Indianapolis Catholic Theater Guild presented St. Patrick's Day, written by Richard B. Sheridan and directed by Richard Maloy.

Sister Patricia Ann, S. C. N., regional chairman of the National Catholic Theater Conference; Nazareth college, Nazareth, Ky., Mrs. Dorothea Bertorelli of Arthur Jordan's Conservatory of Music and Civic Theater; and Mr. Frederic Rhoades of Civic Theater, acted as judges.

Political Conference Attracts Marianites

Ten Marian students attended the Student Conference on Politics held at Purdue university on March 17. Those attending were Paul Henn, Joe Meyer, Paul Fox, Mary Ann Busemeyer, Barbara Dunn, Janice Smith, Emilie Murray, Mary Byer, Carol Ann Gapen, and Rose Mary Glaser.

Principal speakers included Sen. Homer E. Capehart, (R) Indiana, Claude Wickard, democrat candidate for senate, Rep. Charles B. Brownson, (R) eleventh district, and John Brandemus, democrat congressional candidate from the third district.

The opening discussion was a political debate between Mr. Brandemus and Rep. Brownson. The topic was the platforms of the major political parties. The next session was divided into three panel discussions—"How to Break into Politics," "Women in Politics," and "The Role of the Independent Voter."

Following the noon banquet, Sen. Capehart and Mr. Wickard each delivered an address on national policy. The concluding agenda item was the meeting of the Young Democrats organization and the Young Republicans club. Ideas were formulated and passed on concerning campus activity for political clubs.

Re-born World Offers Thanksgiving To Risen Christ at Easter Season

"If there were no Easter, our hope for salvation would be vain and empty," comments Saint Paul. Easter is a time of rejoicing, for Christ has brought to us a new fire of life, the fruit of redemption.

On this festive day the angelic chorus of heaven rejoice, for "He is the Christ of yesterday and today, of time and the ages, throughout all eternity." By His resurrection, He has destroyed our death and, as our divine Regenerator, restored us to life.

A great act of love can be offered during the Holy Week which is the most solemn week in the liturgy. On Holy Saturday we can light our hearts from the flame of the Paschal Candle, signifying Jesus Christ, the true light of each man's life. It is our obligation as His students to spread the light that is burning within us.

The Resurrection is our guarantee for everlasting happiness, for it symbolizes and is the cause of the resurrection of humanity in its fight for life over death.

Along with the host of angels and saints, let us open up our hearts on Easter morning with thanksgiving. Standing before the altar of God, let us promise never to let the light of His grace and the flame of His love flicker and go out.

Slogan — 'Vote, But Vote With Care' — Demands Thought, Discretion in April Campus Elections

Besides being noted for spring showers and the opening of baseball season, April is also the month of campus elections. For some reason there exists turmoil of one nature or another each year during campus elections—students don't vote, polls aren't open long enough, wrong slates are nominated, etc.

We can't predict the future and guarantee the absence of all confusion, but if we pour a little thought and Christian courtesy into ourselves, chaos will be minimized.

First, let's show some consideration for the nominations committee. Their job is not an easy one, so before waiting until election day to complain about the slate or a point of procedure, make your suggestion beforehand, and if it is well taken, the committee will act accordingly.

Second, we must consider the candidates—qualifications, experience, and enthusiasm for student leadership. It is well to remember that our officers and leaders not only serve in their capacity on campus, but they are representatives of Marian college. They represent us at inter-collegiate functions, extracurricular activities, and on other social and academic occasions. Would your choice mirror the ideals and practices of Marian college?

Into the new constitution, subject to an all-school plebiscite, have been placed wise prerequisites for office of Student Board president and other board members. The regulations have been imposed to safeguard the selection of qualified personnel.

To quote from the Associated Collegiate Press Review: "Never, never take a blind guess and arbitrarily pick the first name on the ballot or the name that strikes you as sounding best. Disqualify yourself and skip over that section of the ballot. Someone does know the candidates, someone does have a vital interest in the race. Don't void his vote with a wild guess."

Third, and most important—vote! Voting is a serious responsibility. Exercise it with thought and discretion. Vote—but vote with care.

Be It Done Unto Me According to Thy Word

Because Palm Sunday falls on March 25, the feast of the Annunciation has been moved to April 9 this year. Among the many feasts honoring Mary during the Church year, the Annunciation is one of the oldest.

From the time of her presentation in the temple at the age of three, until the Annunciation, Mary devoted her life to Almighty God as His humble virgin servant. Why was she, a simple Jewish girl, chosen to be the Mother of God's only Son? Mary herself could not understand this, for she said to the angel Gabriel, "How can this be, because I know not man." The angel answered, "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee. And therefore the Holy One to be born shall be called the Son of God."

Although this young girl did not understand, she graciously and humbly accepted the will of God. Human nature was exalted! Mary consented to carry the God-Man, Jesus Christ. We, too, though in a different manner, can be Christ-bearers, Christ-ophers, in every sphere of life, bringing love where there is hate, light where there is darkness. —J. L.

Freshmen Prove Journalistic Abilities; Acquire Experience

As March rolls around each year, the regular Phoenix staff members are relieved of their monthly tasks to let the freshmen exercise and display their journalistic abilities.

News gathering, deadline meeting, copy-reading, and layout, all posed their problems, but we hope that we have succeeded in making this issue interesting and enjoyable to students, teachers, and all readers of the Phoenix.

Experience the Best Teacher

Working on the school paper gives staff reporters and editors an opportunity to develop a greater sense of curiosity, alertness, and interest in their environment. In addition, it allows the students to become better acquainted with members of the faculty, student organizations, and campus activities.

Co-editors elected for this issue are Phillis Willoughby and Paul Fox. Phillis was an assistant news editor on her high school paper, while Paul edited his high school year book.

Many Hands Make Light Work

Phillis and Paul were assisted by page editors—Dorothy Baird, Jane Le Feber, Judy O'Connor, Barbara Lamarre, Norberta Mack, and Dave James. This month's columnists were Mary Ann Kaelin, "Cross Campus," and Dave James, "What's the Score?"

Our "newsgatherers," the staff reporters, included Barbara Libs, Emilie Clevenger, Rita Jo Marsh, Miriam Gannon, Sally Marshall, Mary Ann Wolf, Barbara Wernsing, Deloris Deiwert, Linda O'Brien, Alice Hayworth, Ruth Ramsdell, Carole Kerske, and Joan Schlacter.

Carolyn Wiegale managed our business affairs, while Emilie Clevenger took care of the paper's circulation. Secretarial jobs were most ably handled by Nancy Gale, and Doretta Hood. Nancy also handled the photography. Art talent was contributed by Gail Ebach, with Gretchen Grosdidier and Angela Koers writing headlines.

Sympathy

The faculty and students extend their deepest sympathy to Sister Mary Carol, department of history, on the sudden death of her brother Charles, and to Miriam Schopp '51, on the death of her mother, for years a member of the Marian guild. Prayers will continue to be offered.

A Bachelor's Plight

In spring, I'm told, one's thoughts
Will turn to "who knows what,"
But I can't understand myself
For 'tis not what I've got.
She looks the same to me
I'm not the least attract'd,
Spring has not set cupid free
And he's not yet attacked.
Perhaps I'm growing old
And spring is for the young,
But that does not make sense
For I'm only forty-one.

—Joan Schlacter

Cross Campus

by Mary Ann Kaelin

Well, what do you think of this issue of the Phoenix? Excellent? Good? Not so good? Let's be fair in our opinions! If you have decided that it comes under the category of "not so good," you must remember that we freshmen haven't had the experience in writing feature articles for "big time" papers, so you will just have to "grin and bear it."

Has anyone noticed the pungent odor in Clare hall during the foods lab lately? Judy O'Connor explained that they have been cooking with cinnamon for the last few weeks, but didn't give the reason. Could it be that there is a surplus amount in Indianapolis? She described the smell as being "yum yum," but the resident students who eat the products might express it in other words. Only kidding—just don't forget the sugar next time.

The new basketball goal outside the lounge is adding quite an attraction of late. Matter of fact, there seem to be more people outside the lounge than in. From the looks of things we will have a good girls' team too.

Eighteen future life-savers of Indiana are undergoing training every Wednesday at the pool. It's a picnic to see them "supposedly" saving their buddies! It was very impressive to have witnessed the minutes when Jim Laughlin gallantly swam forward to save Mr. Parker. It reminds all life-savers to thing straight and act correctly.

A good item for human interest was contributed through the courtesy of Professor Kyle. He enlightens us that the trees that have been cut down on the campus are the famous old American elms which have become diseased. They are being supplanted by Chinese elms. Interesting?

The main subject in various biology classes for a few weeks has been "birds." Sister Marie Bernard commented that she never saw so many "birds" until she came here. She may have a point there.

The bridge game is getting to be a regular center of intelligent concentration. One must develop the mind carefully to be able to play the game, so as not to place a strain on one's brain. Some people get a bit "shook up" if a trump is miscalculated or a wrong card is played. I'll bet studies are a breeze if you are fairly good at bridge.

April 1 is rounding the bend so don't let anybody put one over on you, and above all, don't fool yourself!

Religious Clubs Promote Vivacity In Student Body

The mite boxes in the cafeteria, lounges, and the Percolator were evidence of the CSMC's attempt to encourage self-sacrifice and charity. Several inspiring posters on the bulletin board also reminded us of our Lenten duties. As a result of the shamrock sale, held on March 15 and 16, Marian looked a little like the Emerald Isle and the missions acquired needed funds for worthy causes.

The rosary in the chapel on Monday, sponsored by the Sodality, has given students an opportunity to do some extra praying during the holy season. Members of the Sodality benefited by the informative discussion of a "positive" Lent. Also, as constant reminders of our resolutions, posters were placed in strategic spots.

Once more the smiling faces and helping hands of Legion of Mary members were found at the downtown Maria center for underprivileged children. On Sundays other members taught catechism. Firm resolutions and added prayers also played a role in the Legion's contribution.

Investiture of new members and profession of the novices held the spot light in the activities of the Third Order of Saint Francis. A regional convention was held, and a fund-raising project was sponsored. Another highlight will be the fish fry and dance on Friday, April 13.

Student Affiliates Hear Dr. Greene

Dr. Hoke Smith Greene, professor and head of the department of chemistry at the University of Cincinnati, and an authority on developments in atomic energy, spoke to the American Chemical Society student affiliates of Marian college, Butler university, and Indiana Central college, Sunday, March 18, here at Marian.

His talk, "Career Opportunities in Chemistry," presented the advantages for chemistry majors at all levels of education. He discussed the importance of graduate work under today's conditions, the importance of adequately trained scientists in view of the developing international affairs, and the financial remuneration of beginning chemists.

Performing a complicated experiment are Nancy Gale and David James who earned top honors this past semester in chemistry and mathematics. Awards were presented through the courtesy of the Chemical Rubber Co.

Mr. Lei Demonstrates Unusual Dance Steps

Versatile Mr. Jon Lei, a professional dancer, presented an instructive and entertaining assembly on March 22. Classical and native dances of various types made up the program.

After studying at the Catherine Dunham Studios of New York City, Mr. Lei did extensive touring of both Europe and South America with a dance troupe.

At present he owns and conducts a dance studio in Indianapolis.

Contest, Lectures Aid Homemakers

The Home Economics club, an affiliated branch of the state-wide organization, counts among its recent activities a trip to the Stokely-Van Camp test kitchen. Here they heard a lecture on the work of the home-economist in the test kitchen, and examined the equipment.

Club members, together with the art and clothing classes, visited L. S. Ayres on March 15, to attend a demonstration entitled "What's New in the Home Furnishings Field for 1956." There were suggestions on how to select draperies, rugs, furniture, and such room accessories as clocks and curtain rods. Enamel furniture of all colors and metallic accessories were recommended.

Another item of interest to members is the annual Lennox China Table Setting contest. The contest, now in progress, closes April 17. It consists in original combinations of china, silverware, glassware, and table-linens appropriate for designated occasions.

Box Jacket, 'Italian Cut' Shirt Lead Spring Fashion Parade

by Rita Jo Marsh

This season is the time of year when fashion designers have a "field day," manufacturers work overtime, style magazines double their quota, and the general public ends up confused, but happy with the styles forced upon them by some Paris creator.

Our direct teletype line with Paris informs us that the predominant color this year is to be "toast"

Campus Conservation Corps Uncovers Old Trails Plants Shrubs, Flowers to Beautify Grounds

As you look out a classroom window you may see small groups of students equipped with rakes, hoes, trowels, and snippers. They are the Campus Conservation corps.

The project, called "CCC," was brought into existence by unanimous vote of the sophomore class. Proposed and discussed last fall, it did not go into effect then because of weather conditions.

CCC is doing more than helping get the leaves raked and hauled away—it is also giving young trees a chance to grow. This is done mainly by using some of the dead leaves as fertilizer, and by efforts to stop erosion.

This organization's weed-pulling campaign has resulted in the re-discovery of old trails along the fire place, wishing-well, and lake, as well as those to and from the peninsula and wishing-bridge.

Biology classes are cooperating with the CCC by planting flowers and shrubbery around the library, residence, and music buildings. They are also replacing top-soil around Marian and Alverna halls.

Sister Mary Adelaide and Sister Marie Bernard, directors, invite students from all classes to help beautify the campus. Headquarters are located in the biology laboratory where workers may select the type of project they desire.

—"French toast," of course. Last year's "avocado" will be another notable color contribution. Brilliant, flashy hues from South America, however will prevail in cotton and silk prints.

Fresh Styling

Sheath dresses with box jackets or long spring coats will be the outstanding pattern. Long torsos with full skirts, displaying a dazzling array of spring crinolines, will also be prominent. "Princess style" waists add femininity to full skirt creations.

Dress styling, centered on the back, calls for high front necks, scooping backs, and the revision of the "bustle bow."

Straight skirts and overblouses are the "thing." The popular mid-dy and skirts having the "linen look" will be most effective.

Men's Fashions

Men, too, will be sporting the new "slim look." Tailoring for slimmer and taller lines will play the most important role in suit designs. Wrinkle-proof nylon and orlon suits are giving ground for more silk fabrics.

No offense to the Germans and Irish in our alma mater, but it seems the Italians are running first this season. The "Italian cut" sport shirts are in demand. Along with the South American prints, "ruffles" in sport shirts are still making fashion headlines.

Styling in mens shoes has varied little. Mesh is again the favorite, and the moccasin type toe adds verve to men's spring fashions.

Red Cross Volunteers Donate Blood; Fund Drive Tops March Activities

Working in cooperation with the Indianapolis chapter, Marian college's Red Cross unit is sponsoring many important and beneficial activities for the Red Cross.

Among these are the new plans being made by the Civilian Defense corps. Marian students and members of the faculty are working with Red Cross leaders to re-organize the campus as an emergency hospital unit, in addition to our position as a medical treatment station. After these plans are completed Marian will be equipped to serve Indianapolis and surrounding areas in any disaster.

Another helpful function being backed by Marian is the blood drive. On March 7, six donors gave blood to hospitalized vets. While it probably seldom occurs to us to donate blood, any of the Marian men who are ex-GI's can emphasize how important this Red Cross service is. Included in this month's list of donors are: Paul Fox, William Wheeler, Jack Kane, Carol Borton, Mary Angela Koers and Gertrude Lenhardt.

Twenty members are enrolled in senior lifesaving, conducted by an authorized Red Cross instructor, Mr. Robert Parker, assistant water-safety director. This is a skill useful to anyone interested in swimming, since in addition to being prepared in an emergency many summer jobs are open to the holders of a lifesaving badge.

St. Vincent's hospital has found five new Jills-of-all-trades in Marianites. At the completion of the home nursing course some of the girls decided to put their new knowledge into practice and now work six hours a week, doing nurses aid work at St. Vincents. Included in this list are Ann Diener, Gail Ebach, Carol Kerske, Suellen Farrell and Isabelle Hernando.

Resident women students constitute a volunteer choir at Mass on alternate Sundays for the TB veterans.

Red Cross has always had an active unit at Marian; from the looks of things at present we are still earning our high rating. With fifteen solicitors in the field it is hoped that the fund drive will reach its $150 quota.

Opportunities Open In Civil Service

The Sixth U.S. Civil Service Region, Cincinnati, has announced openings in the student trainee program for cooperative and summer employment of interest to college students.

In the Indianapolis area, there are openings for engineering and physical science majors at the U. S. Naval Ordnance plant. Salaries range from $2960-$3175 on an annual basis. The department of agriculture also has an opening in the soil conservation service.

Other kinds of jobs included in current openings are in: general administration, staff management, line management, and specialists in most any field. Those qualified for GS-5 jobs earn $3670 per year, while GS-7 jobs bring $4525 per year.

The next test date will be Saturday, April 7, and consideration is being given to testing on a monthly basis, thereafter.

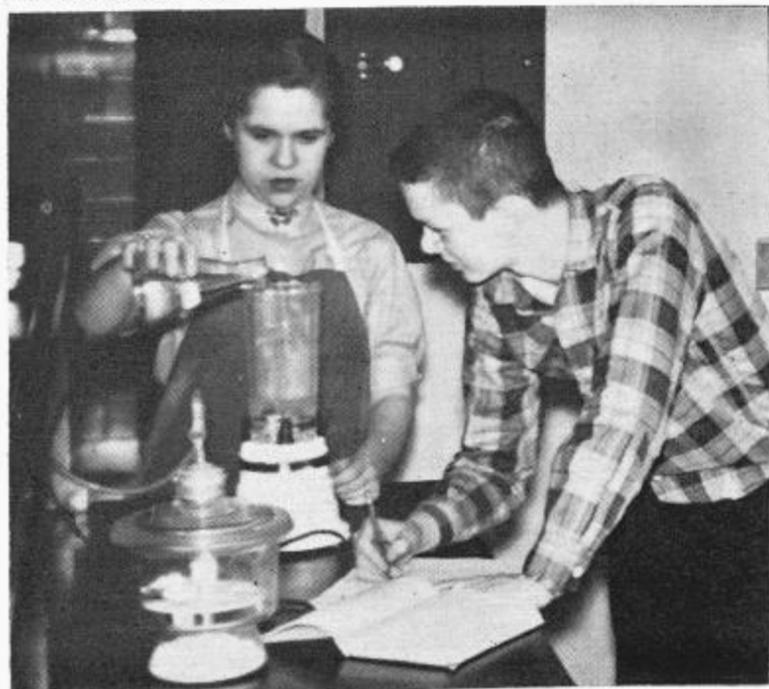

Welcomed Visitor Returns to Marian

by Judy O'Connor

Here she comes, at long last, riding on her magic carpet of new grass and bringing a volley of green. Latest communications with this august visitor reveal that she has included leaves and buds, robins, and some new furry friends in her retinue.

Though usually thought to be very mild natured, like anyone else she has occasional fits of temper, and is especially given to pouting. I can hear murmurs in the background now—"Just like a woman"—and you're right! Every time this gal pouts, her father comes in and begins to storm again. She has to exercise bushels of tact and gently but firmly convince him to leave.

What a household! Can you imagine any of us telling our "Mein Papas" what to do as Spring does to Winter?

What's the Score?

by Dave James

Well, here it s tme for the Maran men to start another season of sport—baseball. This writer personally promises a good record for the BASEBALL nine. How is it possible for such a prediction to go awry, when there are such greats (?) as "Rapid Richard" on the mound and the "Brownsburg Flash" behind the plate.

Ed Seyfried, the coach, doesn't have many players due to the old bugaboo—grades. Dick Fenoglio, Don King, George DeHart, Larry Kyle, Pat Henn, Dave James (could he be another great?), Bob Gough, Bill Niehus, Jim O'Bryan, Ronnie May, and Don Werner make up the material for Ed's winning team. How about that? Maybe, with a little persuasion, the team might be increased by 3 or 4 players.

The first game of the season, only a few days off, is a doubleheader with St. Joseph's. (Hmm, St. Joe and two games, too!) You may think that is rough, but take a look at the rest of the schedule.

With lots of practice and spirit, I think they can win for us, but we must also give our support at least to the home games which are within walking distance of school. Home games are to be played at Riverside park, south of the Naval armory.

So what do you say? Let's get out and root for the baseball team.

There has been talk about having an intramural softball league for the men. If this goes over like intramural basketball, you can count on a well organized league. Amateur basketball, supervised by Jerry Kreuzman, was comprised of six teams and climaxed by a tournament. Team III, headed by Harry Griffin, Bob Kretschmer, and Dick Fenoglio nosed out team I, led by Ted Heede, Joe Deiter, and Jim Burke, in a double overtime, 48-46.

An intramural all-star team coached by Herm Schrader was beaten by the Marian varsity 85-57 in a game which was close for the first half. (Oh well, maybe next year.)

What happened to the plans on the mixed bowling league? There was a long list of names on the bulletin board about this. It could turn out to be a very enjoyable activity.

Now that you have come this far, I hope it wasn't too hard to stumble through. Dale will be back next issue to try to improve it.

Don't forget the baseball team!
Happy Easter!

Y'all Come

Drag out those dungarees, straw hats, and flared skirts. Tune up the fiddle and head for the old barn. The Athletic and Recreational association is sponsoring a good old-fashioned square dance, in the mixed lounge, on April 20. Mr. Henry Lohse will call the evening's entertainment, beginning at 8:30. Y'all come!

Confident Coach Plans Big Season

Jim Clark is one never to let a conversation drag, provided he has a good cigar to keep him content. It's a sure bet that the talk will eventually get around to sports—particularly water sports.

Swimming coach since last year, Jim is confident that swimming will be a major competitive sport on campus because Marian's a small college. Under his tutorage, a women's team has been organized under the banner of Marian, one of the first college-sponsored women's team in the country.

Mr. Clark

Athletic Club Director

Besides his duties at Marian, Jim has been associated with the Indianapolis Athletic club as aquatic director, since 1941. During this time he has built an enviable record for consistent good showings.

Born in Terre Haute, Jim moved to Indianapolis and was graduated from Cathedral high school. He attended the University of Illinois studying physical education, and Indiana university, taking law. During his school days he earned letters in football, basketball, and track. At one time he made it to the finals of the Olympic swimming tryouts.

Plans for Marian

Regarding his plans for the future of Marian's team, he has scheduled a fourteen-meet season next year, including Notre Dame, DePauw, Xavier, Indiana State, Ball State, and others. The meets will be held on a home-and-home basis. It's hard work, but he believes that the teams can do it if they get into shape, work hard, and are backed by the students who can give them the "go power."

Jim lives with his wife and three children at 115 N. Traub Street. He also has a married daughter.

Women in Sports

by Linda O'Brien

Marian's powder-puff basketball team lost its final game of the season when they were defeated by the nurses of St. Vincent's hospital, 30-28. The game was well played and definitely a hard one to lose. The score at half-time was 14-10, in favor of St. Vincent's, but in the fourth quarter, Marian staged a late rally, falling short by the scant margin of 2 points at the sound of the final gun.

Coached by Mrs. Thelma Clarke, the girls' team was composed of Mary Ann Kaelin, Linda O'Brien, Rita Jo Marsh, Judy Hirn, Lillian Gonzalez, and Rose Chan, forwards; Carolyn Wiegeler, Dottie Baird, Deanna McGarvey, Erna Gibson, and Annette Richards, guards.

Ladywood became the first victim of the Marian college girls' swimming team in a recent meet at the I. U. Medical center. Mary Sue Swartz paced Marian with two first places, capturing one in the breaststroke and the other in the backstroke.

One of the more exciting races was the 25 yard freestyle in which Marianite, Jane Gordon, and Judy Mayer, of Ladywood, tied in 14.6 seconds. Judges declared Judy the winner.

Other team members placing in the meet were: Kathy Richards, Fran Stricker, Joan Friday, Jean Sprauer, and Janet Hintz. The final score was 29-21.

According to Mrs. Clarke, consideration is being given to construction of a softball diamond in back of the tennis courts. The organization of a softball team and a tennis tournament are being planned for spring activities.
