12 More Qualify For Scholarships

Supplementing the Indianapolis 1953-1954 scholarship students announced in the last issue are Mary Shiela Mears and Norma Jean Jarboe, St. John Academy.

Other Indiana scholarship recipients are: Regina Fehlinger and Emilie Murray, Immaculate Conception academy, Oldenburg; Marilyn Strasburger, Fowler; Anna Miller, Jasper; Rosemary Blume and Julia Woods, Marion; Marilyn Shaw and Erna Gibson, Muncie.

The Ohio list, still incomplete, includes: Mary Rae Loesch, Mother of Mercy high school, Cincinnati, and Virginia Klingensmith, Fenwick, Middletown.

Baccalaureate, Induction, Tea, Mark Weekend

Baccalaureate exercises in the college chapel, June 6, will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Fr. Edward T. Bockhold, pastor of Holy Trinity church and an educational leader in the archdiocese of Indianapolis, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

A Cappella choir will sing Veni Creator by Comire and, at Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, Woollen's O Salutaris and Tantum Ergo. Schola and congregation will sing, antiphonally, Praises to Jesus and Mary by Sister M. Vitalis.

Reception for the seniors and their guests will follow.

Afternoon events will be: the formal induction of the class into the alumnae association at a homecoming tea and the special induction ceremonies of the Greek letter honor societies.

Vote Gives Presidency To Pauline Siefert

In an all-school vote, May 4, Pauline Siefert was elected president of the Student association for 1953-1954.

Other officers elected on the same ballot were: Mary Wechsler, junior, vice-president; Pat Doerger, sophomore, secretary; Rita Skillen, junior, treasurer. Sophomores, Rosemary Haxton and Therese Lowe, are Sodality prefect and CSMC presiding, respectively.

An English major, Spanish minor, Pauline was secretary of the Red Cross and assistant editor of the Fioretti during her sophomore year. As a junior she has been chairman of the Red Cross, editor of the Fioretti, and treasurer of the Student association.

Summer Session To Begin June 15

Lectures on Indiana state parks and the Far East, a movie, a puppet show, and a violin-voice recital will highlight the summer school session June 15-July 24.

Classes, which will meet daily 8:30-11:30 a. m. will include courses in literature, history, education, philosophy, anatomy and physiology, art, and social studies.

Problems in the teaching of reading will be considered at two school age levels in four Wednesday evening conferences.

Demonstration discussions, July 25, will treat elementary school use of Catholic magazines. Civics clubs and comic strips will also be discussed.

Sister Agnes Cecile will teach Children's Literature and Language Arts courses at St. Joseph college, Collegeville, June 22-Aug. 1.

Sister Clarence Marie will teach The Literature of the Social Sciences and The History of the Book in the graduate library school of Rosary college, Riverforest, Ill., June 29-Aug. 7.

Chaplain's Message to the Graduates

Never was it so important to the security and welfare of mankind that the decisions made by the people of this country should be based upon complete knowledge and rational and dispassionate analysis. Perhaps never has the pressure been so great to act upon partial information, suspicion, hate, fear, prejudice, laziness, and love of ease. The temptation to grow tired of thinking and to trust to feeling was never so insistent.

At such a time, the college of liberal arts has more than ever the responsibility of the spirit of inquiry, the readiness to accept unpleasant truths, the disposition to think things through, the patience to bear with uncertainty, the willingness to modify old beliefs, the preference of principles to expediency that distinguish the educated person. In devoting itself to the cultivation of these qualities, Marian college believes that it is contributing in a substantial way to the well-being of its students and of the society of which they are to become active members.

At the close of the school year, which is the close of their college course for the members of the Class of 1953, There cannot but be poignant regret both for them and for those members of the college community that remain behind. But there is joy too in the remembrance of experiences and discoveries shared, of hard work done together, of difficulties overcome by common effort, and most of all in the confidence that, in large measure because of what the college has done, the new alumnae will continue to think upon the things that are true and honorable and just and to be valiant in the service of God, to His honor and the welfare of their fellowmen.

—Monsignor John J. Doyle, Chaplain

Archbishop Confers Degrees; Notre Dame Professor Speaks

Archbishop Paul C. Schulte will confer degrees at Marian College commencement exercises, June 7, at 4 p. m. In the graduating class will be 15 students from Indiana, 5 from Ohio, 1 from New Mexico, and five from Hungary, Lithuania, Peru, and Viet-nam.

Notre Dame Professor Speaks

Vincent E. Smith, Ph.D., professor of philosophy at Notre Dame and editor of New Scholasticism will give the commencement address.

Thomistic philosopher, scholar, and researcher, Dr. Smith became interested in philosophy through his study of physics. He has contributed articles to the leading philosophical publications, The Thomist, Thought, and The Modern Schoolman. His latest book, Idea Men of Today, is a study of the two conflicting contemporary philosophical systems, scholasticism and the scientific school.

Graduates will be presented by Monsignor John J. Doyle.

24 Receive B. A. Degree

Receiving the bachelor of arts degree will be: Irene Chee, Red-rock, Ariz.; Joyce Ann Edwards, Richmond, Ind.; Marilyn Miller, Oxford, Ohio; Edda Fiorino, Marilyn Huber, Audrey Kraus, Marie Martino, all of Cincinnati; Alma Larson, Vincennes, Ind.; Rita Sheridan, Princeton, Ind.; Marta Kilezer, Hungary; Mary Quyt thi Nguyen, Viet-nam; Iris Pena, Peru; Cese Povilaitis, Lithuania, and Alice Ann Field, Janice Gaughan, Rosemary Giblin Stuflick, Catherine Haney, Helene Herber, Helen Hoffman, Rita McCann, Dorothy Powell, Julia Schwartz, Barbara Stahl, and Rita Wokna, all of Indianapolis.

Bachelor of science degree will be conferred on Mary Lu Method, Indianapolis, and Elizabeth Csaszar, Hungary, and the bachelor of science in education on three Sisters of St. Francis.

First Freshmen of New Clare Hall Say 'Goodbye' During 7th Centenary of Franciscan Patroness

Four years ago the new Clare hall was opened to its first freshman class. This year, during the seventh centenary of the death of St. Clare, that same class is leaving Marian to carry to others the spirit of Catholic living learned here.

During the past years this holy follower of St. Francis has become well known to us. We have passed her picture in the main entranceway many times each day. We have learned how she founded the order of Poor Clares; how she stopped the Saracens from attacking their convent by holding the Blessed Sacrament up before them, and how at her death on Aug. 11, 1253, she was visited by a choir of virgins among whom was the Blessed Virgin herself.

As Marian takes another step in its expansion, we see that St. Clare has taken good care of all of us and of the hall dedicated to her. We trust that the watchful care of St. Clare will continue to gladden and inspire the underclassmen of each succeeding Marian generation.

As we, the seniors, leave, we ask also that the underclassmen pray for us that we may always follow St. Clare's example of loving and serving God and His Blessed Mother.—J.A.E.

To the Doubters Of Thomas

Many questions arise,
From far and from near,
On the works of Aquinas,
Whom students all fear.

Why take his Summa
That's dated and old?

Its every objection
Is answered two-fold.

Who said he's correct
In the judgments he placed?
Upon whose authority
Is his teaching based?

"St. Thomas is pre-eminent,"
Pius XII once did write,
"For the teaching of students
And the spread of truth's light."

"So no one need doubt,"
He did add, of this sage,
"Thomas leads well the combat Against ills of our age."

—Patsy Miller

Goodbye — Good Luck — Good Seniors

The end of a school year and its accompanying time of farewells has come again. For most of us, underclassmen or juniors, the good-byes will only be temporary, but for some they will no doubt be final.

Each one of us can certainly remember the time when she entered Marian, a "green" freshman; and each of us remembers that, without the aid of some friendly upperclassman, those first few weeks would not have been so easy, if not impossible. We soon saw that upperclassmen were very important people in more ways than one.

So thanks, seniors, for all the really good times which you have shown us; thanks for the help. Good-bye, good luck, and be good.—R. W.

Daily Eucharistic Sacrifice in Days Ahead Our 'Concert' of Unity in Marian Spirit

What would it be like to live without the Blessed Sacrament continually present in our churches as do Russian rite Catholics? There might be people stopping in chapel to pray for exams, letters, phone calls or a thousand little things, but it wouldn't be the same.

Many of us not only have the privilege of making visits during the day but also of living in the same building with the Blessed Sacrament. While some of us stop to attend Mass on the way to school in the mornings, others have only to walk down the stairs to participate in what Cardinal Newman calls "the greatest action that can be on earth."

It may not be quite as easy to carry over these practices of our school days into the summer months and the years after graduation, but we can try, each as he is able, each, as Cardinal Newman says, in his place, with his own heart, with his own wants, with his own thoughts, with his own intentions, his own prayers, separate but concordant, watching what is going on, watching it progress, uniting in its consummation; not as painfully and hopelessly following a hard form of prayer from beginning to end, but like a concert of musical instruments, each different but concurring in a sweet harmony, we take our part with God's priest, supporting Him, yet guided by Him.

By continuing to assist at daily Mass and to make visits to the Blessed Sacrament we can, "separate but concordant," retain the spirit of Marian. We might remember and pray for each other especially on these summer feasts of Our Lady:

Mother of Divine Grace	June 9
Our Lady of Perpetual Help	June 27
Visitation	July 2
Our Lady of Mount Carmel	July 16
Humility of Our Lady	July 17
Mother of Mercy	July 25
Our Lady of the Snow	Aug. 5
Refuge of Sinners	Aug. 13
Assumption	Aug. 15

Rounding It Out

By Helen Hoffman and Joann Hazelwood

The World's First Love, by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, will bring to its readers a greater love of Mary as well as a deeper devotion to her.

Persia in My Heart, by Najmeh Najofi, paints a true picture of Persia, its family life and culture, as lived by an American-educated Moslem girl.

Who Speaks for Man?, by Norman Cousins, shows the logic of the need for a world organization to be a spokesman for man as a member of the human race in our shrinking world.

Don Camillo and His Flock, by Giovanni Guareschi, is an interesting sequel to The Little World of Don Camillo. It concerns Don Camillo's war against a Red leader.

The Sojourner, by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, author of The Yearling, is another successful story of the influence of a good man and his search for his missing brother.

Calvary in China, by Robert W. Greene, M.M., focuses a spotlight beyond the bamboo curtain to give us an idea of what life in Communist China is like for an American priest.

A Good Man, by Jefferson Young, reveals the life of the share-croppers as seen by a first-hand observer.

Swords of Anjou, by Mario Pei, is a fictional version of the great French epic, The Song of Roland.

Catholic Outlook Counts Dignity Essential, Inseparable From Truly Cultured Woman

With summer coming we will be getting jobs and working in different surroundings—surroundings which may challenge our principles and ideals.

The dignity of woman is one such principle which has been incorporated in every phase of study here at Marian. We are expected to live by it off campus as well as on campus.

In a discussion at the National Catholic Home Economics association meeting this spring, three key-phases were used to summarize the distinctive traits of woman. They are: "to be reserved," "to conserve," and "to serve."

"To be reserved" implies "deeply internal self-realization" (Farnham) and "delicate sensitiveness" to what is proper in speech and action (Pope Pius XII).

"To conserve" applies not only to keeping material things in a sound or safe state, but also to the watchful care over the right use of intellectual powers and supernatural gifts. It calls for self-sacrifice and patience.

"To serve" presupposes "compassion" (Aristotle), "solicitude" (Marholm), "tactfulness" (Ellis), "adaptability" (Menninger), and "pliability" (Chesterton).

Keeping these traits in mind will be a help in our personal striving for that inner and outer dignity which is the hallmark of the truly cultured woman, no matter what her environment.—H. H.

Delta Mu Theta Adds Alumnae

Wanda Tofoll Kiles, '49, piano, and Rosina Menonna, '49, voice major, who have an outstanding record of achievement in music, will be inducted into the Beta chapter of Delta Mu Theta, national Catholic music honor society, June 6.

Since graduation Wanda has directed the choir of St. Francis de Sales church, choral groups in Catholic Theater guild productions and County Festival choruses. In addition she is the accompanist for the local CYO orchestra as well as for the Columbians, Knights of Columbus singers. Over local network she has been piano soloist.

Fan mail from outside the borders of Indiana as well as inside complimented Rosina's weekly program over WITZ called "Rosina Sings". She has been vocal music supervisor of the Jasper city schools for four years and during that period has also been choral director of the city's Philharmonic Music Club, a cultural organization requiring some form of musicianship. She has been a member of Holy Rosary parish choir and has frequently served as soloist for weddings.

The high school girls' glee club, directed by her, carried off two first-place awards and one second-place award in the Southern District of Indiana Music contest.

Weddings

Marlene Seal, ex '55, to Mr. Fred Queisser, St. Philip Neri church, Indianapolis, May 2.

Irene Holtel, ex '49, to Mr. Leo C. McNamara, Jr., Holy Family church, Oldenburg, June 25.

Marian Murtaugh, ex '54, to Mr. Daniel A. Rentmeesters, St. John's church, Dover, Ind., June 6.

Joyce Breen, '52, to Mr. Robert O. Rehfeld, St. Bridget's church, Liberty, Ind., July 18.

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Don Graneto (Virginia Nordmeyer, '50) a son, James John, April 27.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roland Maurer (Jane Pike, ex '53) a daughter, Karen Elizabeth, May 22.

Britain, embraced the Russian rite in response to the Holy Father's plea.

Objectives of the Russian apostolate, whose headquarters are at Fordham university, are: to spread the true knowledge of the Russian religion and customs among American Catholics, to train other American priests for the Russian apostolate, to publish Catholic books in Russian and English, and solicit prayers and funds.

Peculiar features of the Mass were: the symbolic piercing of the first particle of leavened bread, the gradual robing in gold-colored belted alb, cuffs, and chasuble; the use of two altars; the ornate gospel book commonly set with jewels; the absence of genuflection, replaced by a reverent bow; the constant invocation of Mary; the chanting of five litanies in the ancient Slavonic of the Mass; and the reception of Holy Communion under both species, as the priest pronounced each individual's baptismal name.

A Marian choir of four chanted the mass responses, the commonest being "Gospodi pomilui" (Lord, have mercy on us).

Fr. Stineman Visits City High Schools

Fr. William F. Stineman gave the first of a series of talks on Marian's coeducational program to Cathedral high school juniors May 21.

At Mary-crownings, St. Thomas Aquinas church, Indianapolis, and St. Leonard's, Terre Haute, he delivered the sermon, and, during Vocation Week, Apr. 20, he was guest speaker at St. John's academy, Indianapolis.

Social Studies Class Display Activity Units

Activity units for integrating the teaching of English, history, music, art, religion, science, geography, and arithmetic around a central theme were displayed by the social studies class May 26-29.

The units included: an Indian village, by Irene Chee and Marilyn Huber; Coffee, a Good Neighbor Product, by Alice Ann Field and Rita McCann; Transportation in Indiana, by Margaret Ann Barbee, Maryann Beckerich, and Barbara Gingrich; Fashion Through the Ages, by Janice Gaughan, Dorothy Powell, and Mary Quyt thi Nguyen; Life in a Swiss Village, by Barbara Stahl and Iris Pena.

Convention Honors 'Motu Proprio' Of Blessed Pius X

"To restore all things through Christ" was the theme of the National Catholic Music Educators Association convention, May 3-6, Atlanta, Ga., commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Motu Proprio by Pope Pius X. It was this encyclical which sparked the movement for the restoration of good church music.

The breaking down of both religious and race prejudice was reported as a significant outcome by Sister Mary Vitalis, of the faculty, who as Indianapolis archdiocesan president and chairman of the committee on Catholic College Women's Choral Instruction, took part in the national and committee executive board meetings. Sister Rosemary, C.S.J., '52, of Tipton, also attended.

For Catholics of Gerogia, less than one per cent of the population, the convention's front-page publicity was a "first."

Pontifical High Masses, daily congregational chanting, programs by the Trappist choir, Conyers, Ga., the Pius X Choir, New York, and the Xavier University concert choir were among the highlights.

Bishop Sheen Visits College, Previews Mission Rally Talk

Spellbound students and faculty stood on the steps of Clare hall Friday, May 22, listening to the words of Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, whose voice and sincere personality have captivated so many people.

Escorted by Archbishop Paul C. Schulte and Fr. Victor Goosens, Bishop Sheen made a brief visit to Marian during his mission tour of Indianapolis.

The revelation of a few school-day anecdotes gave a personal atmosphere to the 20-minute interview which was climaxed with his blessing.

Mental Patients, Vets Hear Music Students

Mental patients at the new La Rue Carter Memorial hospital heard selections from the senior recital of Audrey Kraus and Marilyn Miller, May 28. Marjorie Hercules was accompanist.

A similar program was given May 29 at the Women's Prison with the addition of a comedy skit. Legionaries of Mary, sponsors of the program, also contributed.

At the Veterans hospital, May 22, Mary Agnes Kodama and Mary Elizabeth Koike entertained with familiar songs. They were accompanied by Audrey Kraus, violin, and Gertrude Lenhardt, accordion.

At Marian, June 19, and at Oldenburg, June 21, Audrey and Marilyn will present their recital in abridged form.

Later in the day a crowd of 16,000 thronged the Coliseum at the State Fairgrounds to hear Bishop Sheen's plea for the missions.

Scanning the globe, the Bishop selected seven groups of spiritually needy people to whom he applied the seven looks of Our Lord. All, like Jerusalem and Russia, have the essential Christian background, he noted, but have been led astray spiritually. The U. S. he compared to Peter warming himself comfortably by the fire while Christ underwent His Passion.

It is on the U. S., the most comfortable nation in the world, he said, that the burden of directing others to God falls. A practical suggestion was to lessen the annual ratio of $90 per person for cigarettes to 20c for the missions. To this must be added love and charity, he concluded.

Club Edits Bulletin Elects New Officers

The spring issue of News and Views, bulletin of the Indiana Home Economics association, was published by the Marian Home Economics club.

Katie Haney, club president, contributed an editorial, and the campus home economics news was written by Zita Kriese. Gertrude Montag and Mollyann Brezette did art work for the bulletin covers. Secretarial work was done by Magdalena Solares, Margaret Gootee, Mary Catherine Harrieder, and Virginia Suazo.

Guest editorials by state home economics leaders and activities of the member colleges comprised the remainder of the bulletin.

New officers for 1953-1954 are Zita Kriese, president; Therese Lowe, vice-president; Clare Watson, secretary, and Norma Smith, treasurer.

Filing cabinets for the new foods and clothing laboratories will be purchased with proceeds from this year's cookie sales.

Win Over Illinois Newman Club Brings First Sports Trophy

Marian athletes acquired their first permanent trophy May 24 by winning the annual Newman club volleyball tournament at Turkey Run for the third consecutive year.

Playing Indiana university in the first set, the team won both games 15-0. In the play-off match, against Illinois university, Marian lost the first game and won the next two 15-12 and 15-7.

Trophy players this year were: Irene Chee, Audrey Kraus, JoAnne Krieger, Lee Lieland, Therese Lowe, Alba Meneghel, Mary Lu Method, Rita McCann, Judy Rahe and Dorothy Powell, captain.

During Play Day, May 26, Dorothy Powell was awarded the 1953 Marian sports trophy for outstanding participation in sports. A special letter award for A.R.A. service was also announced by Mrs. Coleman Clarke for Alice Ann Field, who did not participate in sports but was A.R.A. president.

Senior letters also went to Irene Chee, Marilyn Huber, Audrey Kraus, Mary Lu Method, Rita McCann, Dorothy Powell, and Rita Sheridan.

Alliance Francaise Honors Marie Martino

Marie Martino was one of seven Indiana college students who received medals for proficiency in French at the annual banquet of the Alliance Francaise, May 15, at the Marott hotel. French and Spanish are her major subjects.

Awarding the medals was M. Francois Briere, French consul from Chicago. Acceptance was acknowledged by each student with a short speech in French.

Other Indiana college students receiving medals were from Ball State, Butler, Indiana university, Purdue, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, and Wabash.

Colleges to Host Science Fairs

College participation in the sponsoring of Science Fairs for junior and senior high school students was discussed at a meeting of 10 Indiana colleges and universities, May 22, at Butler university.

Sister Mary Rose and Sister Marie Bernard represented Marian which will be one of the regional colleges to exhibit the science projects.

Organized on a local, regional, and national level, these fairs aim to stimulate scientific interest not only in the participants but also in the community. Rating criteria include: creative ability, scientific thought, thoroughness, skill, clarity, and dramatic value.

From the 6 Indiana regions, 14 students took their prize-winning exhibits to the National Science Fair at Oak Ridge, Tenn., this year. One, an exhibit on plastics was sponsored by Sister Mary Constance, St. Mary's academy, Indianapolis, an alumna of Marian college.

Florida Trips, Camp, Playground Work Top List of Student Vacation Plans

Vacation sites for Marian students this summer extend from Canada, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Maine to Texas and Arizona, and from New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania through Iowa to California. Most popular destination is Florida.

Interesting types of summer work are: Katie Haney's management of the Triangle Insurance agency; Thelma Runyan's position as governess at Cranberry Lake,

"Floral Jewelry" was the intriguing title of the assembly panel on pollination presented May 21. Topics discussed included: the parts of a flower, structural types of flowers, adaptation of flowers for pollination, unique cases of pollination, and economic aspects of pollination.

Members of the panel were: Ann Herber, Julia Abrams, Lillian Gonzalez, Charlene Hatherley, Carolyn Zapp, Rosemary Tisserand, and Joann Hazlewood.

Slides to illustrate discussion topics were prepared by Gloria Hamilton, Gertrude Lenhardt, and Sister Marie Bernard, instructor.

German Club

Over 150 letters of thanks from German children and adults receiving Red Cross packages have been translated by the German club. These letters have come from such places as Niebelungen, famous for the Niebelungen saga, Bingen on the Rhine with its Mouse-tower immortalized by Longfellow, and the Rock of the Lorelei.

Inter-American Club

Results of Inter-American club elections are: Alba Meneghel, president; Leonore Rodriguez, vice-president; Magdalena Solarez, treasurer, and Lillian Gonzalez, secretary.

French Club

Dining at Rene's French restaurant, May 13, a dozen members of the club enjoyed French food, music, and table service. On the return trip all joined in singing French patriotic songs.

Red Cross

Thelma Runyan, the newly elected 1953-1954 Red Cross chairman, will be assisted by Margie Hercules, vice-chairman; Patricia Mudd, treasurer; and Rosemary Tisserand, secretary.

Receiving life-saving certificates are: Elizabeth Csaszar, Lillian Gonzalez, Betty Harkins, Marta Kilcer, Mary Evelyn Maloney, and Norma Smith.

Visiting Lay Apostles Explain Objective

En route to the Archbishop Ritter World Mission exhibit in St. Louis, Mo., May 17-24, two lay apostles from the Women's International Society of Catholic Auxiliaries were week-end guests on campus.

The objective of the society, they explained in an illustrated lecture, is to assist the national bishops of mission countries in the formation of well-trained leaders in the trades and professions, who will instruct their own people in Christian living.

Established in Brussels by Fr. Vincent Lebbe, a Belgian Missionary to China, in 1937, the auxiliaries today number 100 active members working in 12 countries.

Other recent missionary visitors to the college were Bishop Paul Leonard Hagarty, O.S.B., vicar-apostolic of the Bahamas, and four Medical Missionary Sisters, also bound for the St. Louis exhibit.

New York; and Rosemary Tisserand's journalism apprenticeship at the Evansville Courier and Press.

Working with and for their own fathers will be: Carol Welp, Angela Hunger, and Sally Schwegman.

Laboratories, chemical and home economics, will be the service centers for Mary Quyt thi Nguyen, Martha Pictor, Clare Watson, and Therese Lowe.

Work and play await camp counsellors and city playground directors: Alice Ann Field, Lee Lieland, Pat Mudd, Barbara Siska, Barbara Stahl, and Carolyn Zapp.

Kindergartners Dance Sing, Dramatize

"What's in the Basket?" the kindergartners asked in the welcome song of their year-end program May 24.

They presented their own basket of songs, action poems, dramatizations, and dances, including selections by the children's harmony band and rhythm band.

After the program, visitors examined the children's display of art work.
