EDITORIAL

The "power" of student government to effectively influence college policy exists to some degree. In the past however, many proposals put forth by Student Board have been given little merit, if any. Despite this fact, Student Board has continued to work for the best interests of students. This is illustrated by the fact that policies such as Guest Hours Policy and student representation on Faculty Council exist. Nevertheless, I have recently detected a breakdown in the sincerity of the Board to carry out this goal.

Attending their meetings, I have witnessed the fact that many Board members are taking their responsibilities very lightly. There have been a number of occasions on which members have caused disruptions and showed disrespect for guests. Also, there has been a general lack of interest on the part of Board members in carrying out the duties of the office to which they were elected. If allowed to continue, I feel as though the Board will lose any chance of accomplishing anything substantial this year.

I was appointed as Carbon co-editor on the basis that I was qualified and interested. I do not doubt the qualifications of any Board member, but if one was not interested in the office, one should never have run.

FROM THE MASSES:

STUDENT BOARD

Dear Carbon,

In recent weeks, I have been angered by a number of disgusting rumors that Prom will be open to underclassmen instead of the traditional "closed ceremonies". Being a junior this year, I have a few comments concerning this issue.

First, I feel the years I have spent at Marian have given me the traditional right of attending this gala affair. This right should not be extended to any hot-shot, overbearing, underclassmen who have not spent the years developing the refined art of fancy foot work and drinking till dawn. (Remember, all you OLD White House regulars) One must keep in mind that one uses a certain amount of acquired ability to boogie and booze at the same time. Second, underclassmen do get the chance to take part in crowning a queen at Sweethearts. Some lucky underclassmen might even be fortunate enough to "snatch the crown" or vice-versa.

In closing, I would like to emphasize that Prom traditionally has been a time for Juniors to say farewell to Seniors. This sacred moment should not be shared by those who just wouldn't understand.

What is it that grabs you propels you to write those echoes on walls of blue or gray?
A free-hand artist, hip to the music
scribbled poems, no! rhyming lines.

With such a mature well-groomed hand
you scrawl those eulogies of feats gone by.
Oh, miscreant, troglodyte of the stalls,
pen those mephitic gibes on your nose
for such hieroglyphics belong to you.

DAY STUDENT SURVEY:

Recently a questionnaire for day students was placed in both the Phoenix and the Carbon. It was hoped that the questionnaire would provide a means by which to assess some of the needs of "day" students and gather other useful information so that some effort could be expected by the college on behalf of "day" students.

There were 12 responses to the questionnaire. Some of the results were:

- Average Age - 21 years
- Miles Commuting (one way) - 9.1 miles
- Travel Time (one way) - 27 minutes
- Ride Needed - 10 no, 2 yes
- Average Hours Worked per Day - 5 hours
- Best Means of Communication -
 - Perc -1
 - Main bulletin board - 12
 - Campus newspapers - 5
 - Other -1
- Interest in Day Student Organization -5 yes, 7 no
- Interest in Periodic Meetings (discussion & information giving) - 5 yes

A meeting is planned for Nov. 19, 1973, noon to one pm in the SAC Aud. for all "day" students. The intent of this meeting is to hear the day students "concerns, interests, and questions." The meeting will be conducted by Fred Brames.

SPORTS

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

The opening games of the playoffs were run-aways as expected. In the first route the Bad Josés trounced the Degenerates 32-7. The degenerates did have the distinction of being the second team to score on the Bad Josés this season. Without a doubt, the best offensive play of the game occurred when Noel Kurtz made a tremendous stab of a Ken Aust pass for his first score of the season.

In the following game the Stoned Rangers definitely had an off day as the Vice Lords overpowered them 26-6. In a game that was never close, the Lords jumped out to a 20-0 half time lead and coasted to the victory.

This sets the stage for the the championship game this Sunday between the two powerhouses of the league. The Vice Lords and Bad Josés will undoubtedly write a chapter in Marian sports history. As if that isn't enough, the game will be highlighted by half time entertainment provided by the Pep Band and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Due to previous articles we feel we should devote this article solely to the Stickettes - Wazuri game. Looking back on past articles we feel our criticism was unjustifiable. (no apologies - just fact) Since the Stickettes had not met COMPETITION we had reported it as such. Since they have, we will report it as such.

Last Wednesday's game, Stickettes showed us they were a team we thought they weren't. Both teams displayed power and finesse on the court. Although Wazuri was the designated winner - the victory was only in points.

With Harbor and Zilpha battling at the net while Maxine and Belles were setting-up, the game went on and on and on... Although Bauer's serves "smoked" over the net it was not quite enough to stop Wazuri.

Both teams are prospective play-off contenders. If perchance, Stickettes should beat Schucks Garden, a three way tie will be at hand between Wazuri, Stickettes and Schucks Garden.

This is Main, Little Wap and Starkie signing off with Thanksgiving in sight and Vermont in View.

The Standings at the end of this week are:

Schucks Garden	11-0
Stickettes	10-1
Wazuri	10-1
A.V.I.S.	9-2
Hysterix	7-4
Snatches	7-4
Cool Ghoules	6-5
Wacky Women	6-5
Dimrods	5-6
Ball Bumpers	3-8
Main's Troubles	3-8
Volley of the Dolls	3-8
Wild Wild West	3-8
Hot Sauce	2-9
Watergate Women	2-9
Amazons	1-10
