THE SOGGA OF SAGA!

- Scene 1. A cafeteria worker dishes up the potatoes only to find a little "meat" in them. The plate is quickly tucked under the counter.
- Scene 2. The cafeteria worker stifles herself while "La Cucaracha" roams a nearby wall!!!!
- Scene 3. The salad person bends over to get plates just in time to see Mr. & Mrs. Cockroach and their 12 children scurry away.
- Scene 4. "Susie coed" enthusiastically digs her fork into her pie only to find (sob!!) that a roach has beaten her to it!!!!

Dramatic moments from the newest horror flick "ROACHES"? ? ?- -No, just a few HORRORS seen "not long ago in a Caf not far away!!!" Need we say more Paul??

TO THE MASSES:

Some people take problems seriously while others laugh them off. This is natural as it is human nature. It isn't natural (but one never knows at Marian College) for a Caf director to laugh off the problems of cockroaches in the caf. It is no laughing matter when roaches are crawling on the plates that our food goes on, crawling around the food and racing us to the serving line. I realize spraying the entire caf can be expensive, but it would be cheaper in the long run it seems to spray than to refund everyone's money. (We'll need it for the doctor's bills to have our stomachs repaired.)

Maybe the reason he laughs about them is because he is on the same intellectual level as they are. I don't think he'll be laughing so much if he finds a bug in his food one day.

A CONCERNED STUDENT

P.S. I don't think we'd get much refund money back however, as the majority has probably been paid to the Board of Health (as bribe money). God knows the food isn't worth the money we're paying for it.

TO THE MARIAN COLLEGE COMMUNITY:

A special concert by the Indianapolis Symphony "Pops" Orchestra, under the direction of Renato Pacini, will be given for the Marian community at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2, in the Marian Hall Auditorium.

The 40-piece orchestra's appearance is a gift of Mr. Pacini, long-time associate conductor and concertmaster of the Symphony, who received an honorary degree from Marian two years ago.

We are grateful for Mr. Pacini's contribution to the college and encourage attendance by students, faculty and staff. There is no admission charge.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP NIGHT ...

Feeling pressured by research papers, exams, Christmas shopping, etc.? Give yourself a rest and take time Monday evening, Dec. 5, to enjoy a discussion on the theme of "ADVENT - The Daily Comings of Christ into Our Lives". Fr. Mike Welch and Sr. Joyce Diltz of the Renewal Team will be with us for the program in the Ministry Center. Refreshments, 7:15 - Discussion, 7:30. At 9:00 p.m. there will be an optional PENANCE SERVICE in the Chapel where several priests will be available for Confessions. Take advantage of this chance to prepare yourself for a joyful celebration of Christmas.

COMING!!! NEEL's review of "Campus Review '77"!!!!

TO THE MASSES (esp. "A Disappointed Viewer", NEEL, and SEE PETER):

Let me take you back in time a few weeks to Homecoming - actually, a special event, the Ms. Marvin U. Pageant. To some, it may be a pleasurable trip but, according to the last CARBON, for others it may be a very disagreeable. In that issue, there were three (3) letters concerned with "reviewing" the show and none were complimentary. NEEL called it a "sheer waste of time". A Disappointed Viewer stated it was the "worst staged exhibition...ever seen". And, last but not least, SEE PETER referred to the pageant as an accident. Each of them questioned organization and rehearsal time. Also, by the tone of the letters, the writers seemed to have some experience with the stage and/or theater productions. By their standards, Ms. Marvin U. was poor, if not worse. But is that fair? Are they considering what our circumstances were in putting on that show? First- in terms of rehearsals, the show was not rehearsed. It would have been, but that was impossible. D.J. and his precious Variety Show monopolized completely the Auditorium. It was available to us only the Saturday and Sunday before the show. By coincidence that was Parents' Week-End. None of the Variety Show crew wanted to practice on Parents' Week-End, but the Ms. Marvin U. could! Thanks alot-we appreciate it! Secondly, realizing that the limited capabilities of the CHB did not include theatre production, we turned to other students who did have experience and expertise in the area. We knew we needed help, but everyone who was approached was too busy on the Variety Show. We were out of luck. Then by a truly unfortunate quirk, there was no Variety Show rehearsal that night and those who had been too busy turned up either in the audience to review or in the wings to criticize. Right, SEE PETER? Not willing to give advice and aid, they sat back and expected to see a show such as they would do! I protest!! The show was far from perfect, but no one should have expected such, especially those particular students.

For those of us who were directly involved, Ms Marvin U was fun and very entertaining. And for most of the audience, this is true. I want to say to those who were there that I hoped you enjoyed it and to those who weren't, you missed some good laughs. Ms Marvin U may not have been a good theater production, but for most of us, it was a good time and that was its major purpose.

Not afraid to hide behind a pseudonym -
Peg Rankin - President of Clare Hall Board

(Editor's Note: 1) Only 1 person who reviewed the Ms Marvin U was a theatre major, another was involved in Variety Show and the third was a member of the audience only. 2) While Ms Marvin U was SUPPOSED to have been rehearsed, the cast didn't show up at 7:30 the night of the performance. However I was there to run lights for you at that time!!!! 3) The Variety Show cast DID have scheduled rehearsals Sunday afternoon of Parents' Weekend as well as that evening, just ask Pam, she was there! 4) Nearly every backstage crewmember for the Variety Show was present because of a CLASS REQUIREMENT (Make-Up and Play Production classes) and cannot remember ever being asked for help or advice. 5) The cast of Variety Show DID HAVE a rehearsal that night but due to Don Johnson's accident it was shorter than anticipated, leaving the cast members free to attend the Ms Marvin U Pageant. No member of the theatre department ever expressed the desire to cut down the pageant. They were there to enjoy themselves just like the rest of the audience!!! Peg-Leg get your facts straight please! Enough said -Sue Sommer)
