

HONORS WINNERS NAMED

Marian College annually recognizes its students who have attained honors, awards and scholarships based upon superior academic achievement, exhibited leadership and service to college and community. Due to the lateness of compiling the list of tentative candidates to receive honors, the "honors convocation" will not be held this year.

The following is a tentative list of candidates for a variety of distinctive honors given to the Phoenix by Sister Adele Zahn, O.S.F., Director of the Honors Program, in general recognition of their achievements while at Marian College:

DELTA EPSILON SIGMA, which has as its purpose the recognition and encouragement of high scholarship. Membership is based on a scholastic over-all grade-point of 3.5 or above. These students have been elected to the BETA ETA CHAPTER (Marian College Chapter) of DELTA EPSILON SIGMA:

Charles Brandt
William Eckman
Leon Enneking
Kathleen Giesting
Louann Marie Grady
Monica Grathwohl
Sister Marya Grathwohl
Suzanne Hayden
Connie Hessler
Sister Margaret Horney
Daniel Janich
Christine Klusas
Donna Ross
Merle V. Tebbe
Charles Whitehill

KAPPA GAMMA PI recognizes high standards of Scholarship and Leadership on or off campus. Election to membership is based on attainment of an over-all grade-point of 3.5, and evidence of leadership. Nominees at Marian College must have also completed the Honors Program. Membership in this Society is open only to women. Candidates eligible on the basis of these requirements are:

Kathleen Giesting
Louann Marie Grady
Jeanne Kowalski

Departmental Honor Societies (achievement in a particular field of study):

LAMBDA IOTA TAU is an International honor society which recognizes and promotes excellence in the study of literature. Members must maintain a scholarship grade-point of B in literature and in the cumulative average, and present an initiation paper in literature, of the quality certified by the Chapter moderator (Mr. Kempf). These students have qualified for membership.

Lilly Endowment Veep to Give Graduation Speech

BY DENNIS MILLER

What has not been accomplished since 1876 will be the topic of James B. Holderman, Ph.D., Vice President for Education of Lilly Endowment, Inc., at the May 12th commencement.

In an interview with the Phoenix, Dr. Holderman said he would discuss the Reports of the Centennial Commission of 1876, and the recommendations made then for the country's next 100 years.

Dr. Holderman said: "Many of the recommendations are very exciting." He added, "But I want to talk about them (the recommendations) in light of what we haven't done."

Prior to joining Lilly Endowment, Dr. Holderman was Executive Director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education; Vice Chancellor, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle; Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, State of Illinois; and an Assistant Professor of Government and Public Affairs, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Discussing the Lilly Endowment's record of service to education, Dr. Holderman said the Endowment "has always recognized the absolute basic nature of superior, quality education to this country at all levels—college, pre-school, elementary, secondary." He pointed out that Lilly is "interested in how education relates to the quality of the American people—the quality of character."

Asked why the Endowment established the Challenge Fund, which will match up to $500,000 collected by private schools before July 4, 1976, Dr. Holderman said: "The Endowment did not want to be counted on for continued operational support. I think we want our support to be programmatic, not for operating expenses."

The Challenge Fund will, if all possible funds are raised, enable Marian College to establish its own endowment fund to earn interest at the rate Lilly Endowment has been funding operational expenses, according to Dr. Holderman and Marian Development Director Burk Friedersdorf.

"The Endowment," Dr. Holderman continued, "is only going to be interested in the programmatic support which opens up the educational system to those who historically have been unable to get into it, without," he emphasized, "diluting the quality of the baccalaureate degree."

DR. JAMES B. HOLDERMAN

IOTA SIGMA PI, a National Society for Women Chemists, requires a grade-point average of B in chemistry and in the cumulative average. Students elected to the Cobalt Chapter (Marian College Chapter, with Sister Mary Rose Stockton as Faculty Advisor) are:

Margaret Felts, Junior
Patricia Gorman, Senior
Vicki Jarrett, Junior
Marigrace Platt, Senior

These students have completed, or are in the final stages of completing, the Marian College HONORS PROGRAM. They have taken at least five of the seven Honors Courses, done Independent Study in the major or minor field, and have discussed the results of their study at a public oral presentation. These students are:

William Eckman (major in Business Administration). Included semester in France on special business administration program as part of project.

Louann Grady (major in Mathematics)

Kathleen Giesting (major in English; has completed all course work for a major in Mathematics also); Creative project—poetry

Jeanne Kowalski (major in Home Economics): research in "The Effects of Food on Acne" with Advisor from Home Economics Department (Sister Miriam Clare Heskamp), and second reader from Biology Department (Sister Barbara Ann Burman)

David Martini (major in Chemistry): research in "Atomic Absorption Spectroscopy and Its Use in the Analysis of Used Oils for Metal Content"

Julie Sylvester (major in English): studied "Significant Thematic Interpretation in Euripidean Tragedy," advisor from English Department (Sister Rose Mary Schroeder) and second reader from Classics (Jane Dirksen)

Charles Whitehill (major in Philosophy, minor in Business Ad-

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK *****

from a senior to seniors

May 12, 1974, the magic date, the culmination of four years of academic endeavor! Marian College graduating seniors will now assume their places in an ever-changing world. It means farewell to many old friends and relationships as we take the hesitant steps to meet the new.

It has been said that we are less idealistic, less concerned, less involved with society's problems than our recent predecessors. Perhaps we are more practical, but surely there is no lack of commitment to a goal of sympathetic understanding with all humanity.

We are faced with the challenge of deep mistrust -- mistrust of neighbor, mistrust of government, mistrust of values and ideals. We cannot turn inward nor can we reject the challenge. We must cope with it by contributing our energy and our faith to the ideal that this world can be better. We must strive without fear to correct the wrongs; and, when we are wrong accept corrections without shame.

"We are the hope of tomorrow," is a well-worn cliché. It is only half-true for we are also the hope of today. As we leave Marian let us each resolve to light one little candle in the darkness of ignorance, poverty, prejudice, and misunderstanding. Let us all share the responsibility of improving our government, our community, and our nation.

Good luck and God bless you all.

A NOTE OF THANKS . . .

This edition of the Phoenix, the final paper of this school year, was done by the students of the Marian College Mass Communications class, J 110, as a laboratory experiment to enable students to test the theories of the classroom by actual work in a newsroom. Earlier editions of the Phoenix this year were created by co-editors Joe Rea and Allan Roell and a staff which worked long and hard to produce this campus newspaper. The Mass Communications class members, turned newspaper staff members for a week, wish to thank the Phoenix editors and staff for this unusual opportunity to learn and concurrently serve the Marian campus.

NEWS BRIEFS

CONGRATULATIONS TO . . .
U.B.I. OFFICERS
for 1974-75 as follows: President—Ralph Moore; Vice-President—Zilpha Pinkney; Secretary—Gail Walker; and Treasurer—Randy Washington.

Plans have been put into motion for a better placement services and career information center in the fall of 1974. There will be procedural changes, a better system for collecting and distributing information, and more preparation of students for interviews. Labor Day, September 2, 1974 starts the orientation program for freshmen. The rest of the week will be on a busy schedule: September 3, 1974—upperclassmen return; first evening meal, freshmen register for classes. September 4, 1974—upperclassmen register. September 5, 1974—classes begin.

During May 2-5, 1974, at 8:00 p.m., The Children's Hour, by Lillian Hellman will be presented in the Marian Hall Auditorium by the M. C. Theatre Department.

Applications for students who need to renew financial aid programs are available in the financial aid and information offices. To be eligible for aid programs next year, students should fill out the forms and return them as soon as possible.

An Ice Cream Special is scheduled for Sunday supper, May 5. During Final's week the cafeteria will be open May 5-9, from 9 p.m. until 11 p.m. A variety of snacks, including brownies, cookies, and potato chips, as well as soft drinks, coffee, and hot chocolate will be provided for those students who wish to take a study break.

FOOD SERVICE RATED AT CAFE

A dining hall survey was conducted over the past two weeks by Food Service Director Tom Thompson and Carrie Schoomer, a representative of the Food Service Committee. Sixty surveys were distributed to 56 students and four Sisters, with 20 forms being passed out at a breakfast and 40 being distributed at a supper. The tabulation of the results of the 47 surveys which were returned is shown in the accompanying table.

The Food Service Committee encourages all students to voice their comments and complaints at the meetings. Notice of the next meeting will be posted on the bulletin board in Clare Hall.

SAGA Director Says Goal is "best...possible"

BY TOM THOMPSON

Final week is fast approaching. Most of you will be leaving campus for the summer. We have a few small, but enjoyable surprises planned for you during finals and are making some needed changes at the Perc to compliment the remodeling. I am now and will continue through the summer looking for ways to provide you with an even better food program for the coming year.

My goal is to provide you with the best food program possible. I must also be fair to those paying my salary. If any company operates with a negative income, the investors will withdraw their money and the service will no longer exist. If it charges an excessive rate for that service, you will no longer buy it. This will also be true if the quantity or quality is cut.

This leaves one alternative -- that of holding the quality and quantity of food service constant while reducing waste. In other words, in order to keep your board costs down, in an inflationary economy, it is necessary to control food waste in the kitchen, discourage those who have not paid or are not on board from eating in the cafeteria, and assure that productivity is at a high level.

I believe that a company has the right to make a net income only after they have pleased their guests. Some students have sat down with me to assist in filling your needs. If during the remaining few days you can give me some ideas of how we can better serve you, please stop by and we'll discuss them. I am generally on campus from 7:30 in the morning to 6:00 in the evening. If this is inconvenient, we can set up another time. Happy summer and best of luck on finals.

A number of students listed as candidates for Honors Societies, or as having completed the Honors Program, will also be eligible for Honors Degrees at graduation. This distinction is given on the basis of an eight-semester grade-point of 3.5 or above and demonstrated ability to do independent study. Based on a seven semester over-all average, these students are eligible for Honors Degrees:

Charles Whitehill
Sister Marya Grathwohl
Louann Grady
Merle Tebbe
Kathleen Giesting
Suzanne Hayden
Christine Klusas
Monica Grathwohl
Louise Monhaut
Connie Hessler
Daniel Janich
Anne Goodwin
Leon Enneking
Donna Ross
Kathleen Sturm
Charles Brandt
Sister Margaret Horney
William Eckman
Jeanne Kowalski
Paula Vecchione

Sixteen Marian College Seniors are listed in the 1973-74 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. This listing gives recognition on the national level to campus leadership, scholastic achievement, and general participation in college activities, or college citizenship. These students are:

Patricia Arcady
John Bozic
Ann Burnett
Leon Enneking
James Farrell
Kathleen Giesting
Louann Grady
Suzanne Hayden
Daniel Janich
Monica Kozlowski
Linda Kreutzer
Barbara Moll
Marigrace Platt
Merle Tebbe
Richard Vanes
Debra Yunker

SPECIAL AWARDS for achievement in that particular field are given by some departments or off-campus groups:

Linda Schroeder has been chosen for the INDIANA ASSOCIATION OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS award for the outstanding undergraduate accounting major.

William Eckman is the recipient of the "SISTER LAURITA KROGER" award to the outstanding graduate in Business Administration.

Christine Klusas has been selected for the Stokely-Van Camp SILVER TRIVET AWARD for outstanding achievement in the field of Home Economics.

Jeanne Kowalski has been selected for the Crisco Award for outstanding student in Home Economics.

George Nix has received the ACS Association Membership award in Chemistry.

Stephen Bickley (junior Chemistry major) and Anthony Kriech (junior Chemistry major) have been selected for the A.J. Angus Sciencetech Awards for books or equipment, as recognition for greatest over-all improvement in college work in science.

The list of seniors receiving GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS or ASSISTANTSHIPS is incomplete at this time. Those having such grants or awards to date are:

William Eckman: Graduate Assistantship in the International Business Area, a $3,000 stipend plus tuition remission, at New York University. A second year abroad, a full-fellowship award on the NYU program will be awarded to those who qualify on the first year's program.

Richard Vanes: Graduate Assistantship at the Department of Pharmacology, Indiana University Medical Center.

Kathleen Giesting: Graduate Assistantship in English from Western Illinois University.

Christine Klusas: Accepted a dietetic internship to Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, with an educational stipend of approximately $5,040.

Louann Grady: Honorable Mention by the National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship List;

Purdue University, quarter-time Assistantship at $160 per month, plus tuition allowance, by the Computer Science Department;

University of North Carolina, half-time Assistantship for $3,840 (nine months), by the Computer Science Department;

Ohio State University, half-time Assistantship for $300 per month, with complete waiver of all tuition and fees, by the Department of Computer and Information Science;

University of Kansas, half-time teaching Assistantship for $3,125 for the academic year, by the Department of Computer Science;

University of Texas, nominated for a $3,000 University Scholarship;

University of Iowa, teaching-research Fellowship, on a four-year program for doctoral candidates, with the first two years as teaching assistant, the third as a research assistant, and the fourth on a full Fellowship.

Overseas Study Applications Sought

The opening of the 1975-76 competition for grants for graduate study or research abroad and for professional training in the creative and performing arts was announced today by the Institute of International Education. Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application who will generally hold a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant, and in most cases, must be proficient in the language of the host country. Except for specific awards, candidates may not hold the Ph.D at the time of application.

Creative and performing artists are not required to have a Bachelor's degree, but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Social work applicants must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree; candidates in medicine must have an M.D. at the time of application.

Preference is given to candidates between 20 and 35 years of age who have not had prior opportunity for extended study or residence abroad. Information and application forms may be obtained from Sister M. Rachel Schulte, Fulbright Program Advisor at Marian College in the Registrar's Office. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The deadline for receipt of application in the office is early October.

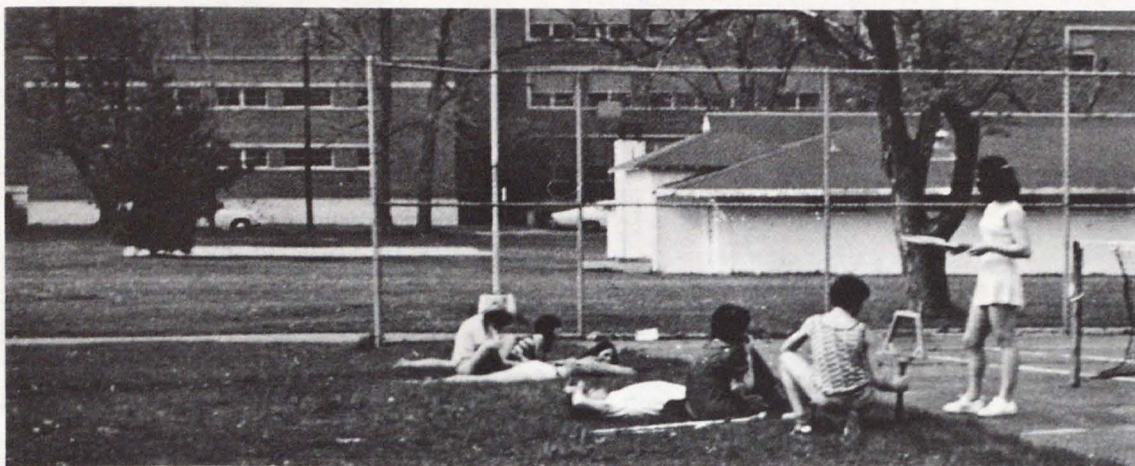

American States Insurance Company has a secretarial opening for a lady with some accounting background and typing skills (50-60 w.p.m.). No shorthand is required. Starting salary is $500 per month. Interested students may contact Ethel Fries, Phone-639-2481, extension 438.

A Representative from the Indianapolis Public Schools will be on campus May 7 and 8, 1974, from 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. to interview prospective teachers in all areas for the 1974-75 school year.

Interested students should sign up for interviews in the Placement center. Sign-up sheets will be posted on the bulletin board in Room 201, Marian Hall. All interviews will be conducted in the SAC Auditorium.

BOOK BUY BACK

Book Buyers will be in the Marian College Bookstore May 8-9, 1974, to buy students' used books: both paperback and hardback.

Drum & Bugle Corps at Lincoln Memorial

BY MARY CATHERINE FAGO

On Thursday, March 28, at 8:00 p.m. the Drum and Bugle Corps departed from Marian College bound for the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C. Enroute to D.C. the buses made several stops in Ohio and Pennsylvania. As we traveled many of the members amused themselves by playing cards, talking, and telling jokes. A brave few tried to get "forty winks" which wasn't easy with all the noise, laughter, and commotion.

The buses arrived in Washington shortly after 10 a.m. Friday, earlier than scheduled. Because of the early arrival the buses made an unscheduled stop at the Washington Monument for sight-seeing. After a quick hour of touring, the corps went to the Holiday Inn in Arlington, Virginia, where luggage was unpacked and members settled in their rooms. The afternoon brought scattered showers which put a damper on further sightseeing, and most people remained in their rooms until dinner.

That evening the buses drove the Corps to the Golden Ox, one of downtown Washington's most elegant restaurants. After dinner Corps members returned to the motel for an evening of parties and what have you. It was rumored that some parties lasted until the wee hours of the morning.

We rose early Saturday morning to dark, cloudy skies and a steady rain. After breakfast the buses took the Corps members to the starting point of the parade. The Corps took its place and marched some 35 minutes in a steady rainfall. The afternoon performance on the Capitol steps was cancelled due to the day-long deluge. Later that afternoon the Corps attended Church services at Our Lady of Peace before returning to the motel for rest and more parties.

We rose early again Sunday morning to threatening skies which later cleared. The Corps later had its picture taken in front of the Grant Statue, which is located behind the Capitol Building. For the remainder of the day members went their separate ways, and D.C. was left to the mercy of the "D and B'ers." That evening the Corps dined at Emerson's

It's SPRING . . . finally!

For awhile it looked as if winter planned to stay, but spring finally asserted itself. As we approach the end of the school year Marian is fresh and alive with the greenness of spring. Students are taking advantage of the tranquil areas around the art studio and the lake for studying, suntanning, and an occasional nap. Nature lovers have an extra appreciation for the blossoming trees and the various flowers that will soon burst forth in full bloom. Several ducks have been spotted on the lake, and other species such as woodpeckers, cardinals, robins, and bluejays are also on campus. The maintenance crew is working hard to beautify the college grounds. Students can help by picking up scraps of paper and by properly disposing their bottles, cans, etc. By doing so, we will be able to have an attractive campus for our own enjoyment and one that we are proud to show to visitors and friends. Our warm sunshiny days are not conducive to studying, but it won't be too long before we can close our books and succumb to "spring fever". Until then, enjoy the beauty of the Marian campus, but don't forget to study.

Steak Restaurant. Once back at the motel, it was party time again.

On Monday morning the Corps presented a twenty-minute performance at the Lincoln Memorial then went to the Capitol Building to meet Senator Birch Bayh (D-Ind.). The Senator requested the Corps to play "Flag-Pre," a patriotic arrangement. The Corps members then returned to the motel to finish packing and load the buses. The remainder of the day was left for sightseeing. That evening at 6:15 the buses were Indianapolis-bound. The return trip was a quiet one since most people were very tired. The D and B'ers arrived at the Music Annex on campus at 6:20 a.m. Tuesday, tired but happy to return to M. C.

FROSH ADMISSIONS UP 7 PCT. OVER LAST YEAR

BY DAN JANICH

An assumption generally accepted as fact by the public is that statistics, in themselves, often fail to provide a complete and accurate picture of their intended purpose. A brief look at a few interesting figures and comparisons, however, reveals unequivocal evidence concerning Marian's class of 1978. A recent visit to Marian College's Admissions Office provided relatively recent data on incoming freshmen which generally reveals a larger, smarter, and more diversified group than that of last year.

According to information obtained from applications received as of April 19, 1974, a total of 207 full-time freshmen have been accepted (67 men, 160 women). Of the total, 286 full-time freshman applications received, 16 were rejected, 22 withdrew, and 41 were yet pending. An overall 16 per cent increase in total applications received contrasted with last year's total of 247.

For the interested observer, a seven per cent total increase in accepted applicants from last year's 195 marks the current trend in admissions processing. A brief look at the academic background of the total number of applications shows a full 46 per cent of the students in the top 10 per cent of their high school senior class (102 of 223 applicants). Only 26 per cent of last year's incoming group merited the "top ten" list.

Comparably, the Scholastic Aptitude Test scores (S.A.T.) and cumulative grade point averages (g.p.a.) reveal significantly higher average scores, in contrast to the freshmen of 1973. Of 202 S.A.T. scores reported, a mean 960 total for this year's incoming student body is presented—compared to last year's lower mean of 920.

Similarly, the cumulative grade point average of 223 students reported this year averaged 3.08, with a full 60 per cent ranging between 3.00 and 4.00. Last year's incoming group provided a 41 per cent figure for applicants ranging between 3.00 and 4.00.

Geographical background data provide substantial evidence indicative of Marian's increasing success in seeking out and attaining a national student body. Although the majority of applicants continue to come from Indiana, percentages have shifted in favor of a more heterogeneous group dominated by "Midwesterners" but including both East and West Coast students.

To date, Indiana has provided 143 applicants or 52 per cent of the sum total (last year: 131 students or 67 per cent); Illinois students number 29 or 11 per cent so far this year (last year: 26 students or 14 per cent); other states comprise 40 applicants or 15 per cent (last year: 19 students or nine per cent).

Scholarship recipients have also increased over last year's total. One hundred ten freshmen scholarships have been awarded (35 Newman, 29 Presidential, 41 Marian, 5 Grants: sum 63,000 dollars worth) to 286 applicants. This figure contrasts with last year's 85 scholarships for a class of 195 freshmen. The scholarship increase must be attributed to academic promise and financial need of students.

The trend toward vocationally-oriented majors and a pragmatic educational philosophy continued to persist and is expected to remain in the future of higher education. Although it may be too early to make definitive statements concerning the class of '78, since students often switch majors once in college, there is a striking indication of the popularity of "vocation majors."

This is due to the resurgent demand for "relevancy" in education, emphasis on saleable skills, and the pragmatic attitude of incoming students toward the benefit of higher education itself is present, as opposed to traditional, "classical" liberal arts majors. The slim majority of incoming students remain undecided as to choice of career prior to entering college. They prefer, instead, to encounter a wide range of diverse disciplines before making decisions concerning their future academic plans, and are aided by academic advisors, orientation programs, and counseling services and personnel. Biology (pre-med), accounting, nursing, business administration, and education continue to be the most popular intended majors of the freshman class.

An assessment of the above data yields ample proof of the optimistic attitude of Marian College and points toward a positive and bright outlook for the class of 1978 and for the Marian College community of the '70's.

Baseball KNIGHTS Sweep Two

Marion Trojans Lose Apr. 27

BY JOSEPH STOCKRAHM

The baseball Knights improved their record to 20-15 by taking both ends of a doubleheader against Marion at home on Saturday.

After Marion tallied two runs in the first, Dave Jongleux led off with a homer for the Knights then Jim Fisher powered one over the wall after Jim Coch drew a walk to put the Big Blue on top 3-2. Pat Zapp's assortment of slow stuff baffled the opponents while Marian picked up four runs in the second on Zapp's double and 4 singles to make the score 7-2.

In the fifth, Marion scored four runs and Russ Pawlak came on in relief. The visitors tied the score in the sixth, but Paul Gerth drew a bases-loaded walk, scoring Jongleux and putting the host Knights on top 7-6. Ted Ahaus pitched in the seventh and locked up the victory for Marian.

In the second game Ted Ahaus and the Marion hurler were locked in a pitchers' duel for five innings. In the sixth inning Jongleux singled, stole second, and scored on Ken Aust's double. Ahaus then homered to put the Knights ahead 3-0. Jim Fisher singled and confusion followed.

Zapp's bouncer was fielded by the third baseman but his throw to the second baseman pulled him off the bag. Fisher collided with him, then raced to third when the umpire did not give him the out signal. The second baseman's throw sailed over the third baseman's head and Fisher scored while Zapp advanced to second. In the rhubarb which followed it was ruled that Fisher did not tag second base and therefore was out.

An error by Marion's third baseman put Zapp and Gerth on the corners. An attempted double-steal failed when Zapp was caught in a rundown and tagged to retire the side.

Ahaus picked up his ninth win against one loss with the 3-0 victory.

TENNIS TEAM DOWNED

The Marian College tennis team fell to Butler, 7-2, last Wednesday, April 24, dropping their record to a dismal 0-4.

Jerry Leugers and Mark Fischer recorded a win in the doubles competition while Jerry Kretschmann subdued his opponent in the singles to account for the Knights' scoring. Marian could easily have recorded their first win of the season as team captain Mike Bazely dropped his match 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, while Tom Sluss and Tom Cebulko also fell in close matches.

The Knight netmen host Rose-Hulman at Riverside on Tuesday, April 30. The match begins at 3 p.m. The last match will be with Franklin on Friday, May 3, also at Riverside, 3 p.m.

Bazely pointed out that this final match should be a good one as the Knights have been showing slow, but steady, improvement throughout the season.

GOLFERS SWING

The Marian College golf team lost a meet to Indiana Central and Wabash last Thursday, dropping their record to 2-5. Seniors Tom Ewald and Al Dorko shot 84's, while Joe Kuzmitz had an 87, Jim Reinstatler and Ed Watko had 86's, and Jim Kilps an 88.

Saturday the linksmen participated in the Earlham Invitational and finished seventh out of 11 teams. Eward and Kuzmitz shot 80's; Dorko and Kilps had 84's.

The team's next meet is at Franklin on Monday, April 29. Tuesday they play at Marion and the last meet will be Thursday against Rose-Hulman at Terre Haute.
