PART-TIME' FULL-TIME TEMPORARY JOBS

Dear Men of Doyle,

It has been a week of occasion. Confusion, anxiety and decisions have been ghrust upon each and everyone of us. Well, I've been told that' just the story of life, forever unfolding. The most startling bit of news to reach me was most distressing and from an unexpected source.

It seems some freshmen (I assume) have chosen to release their adolescent anxiety upon the campus security by pelting Bill Meloche with pumpkins. They did this because Meloche wouldn't let them enter Clare Hall on a panty raid. He was, in fact, doing what he is paid to do. The pumpkin hustler broke the luggage rack atop Meloche's car. Now, as a direct reaction, Trooper Meloche is on a traffic ticket rampage. He has issued close to fifty in one week. Beside the fact that there is no way in hell a person could fulfill any sexual fantasy worth imagining by running through Clare, the pumpkin hurler is now causing the entire student community to suffer.

What's to be done? It is not likely the fugitive will hand himself over to the authorities as pumpkins are always tossed on the un.

A different course of action must be pursued. It might be possible to out wait Meloche but I doubt it. The man lives with a venegance. I suggest that he be appeased by fixing the luggage rack. This can be acieved without anyone feeling a direct influence on the wallet. Utilizing the funds in Doyle Hall treasury is the key. Opening up the miscellaneous monies and repairing the damage might stop the parking tickets. At any rate, Meloche will be on good terms for any future unfortunate occurence, and it won't hurt anyone or make anyone poorer.

My plea goes to the Doyle Hall Board. The community is suffering [from Oct 31] and you have a possible solution within your grasp. Now it is time to do your job. Remember, presidents come and go but Meloche always was and always will be.

B.P.

Dear Carbon,

We were under the impression that the Carbon was not solely a weekly rag sheet. However, this aspect of it seems to have superceded its role as a weekly newsletter. So far this year we have had no legitimate complaints. Things seem to be getting accomplished through the proper channels and through the hard work of some dedicated students. If finding little to complain about makes us apathetic seniors, perhaps we are. We prefer to think that working within the system achieves the students' needs rather than constant ragging.

Also, we question the validity of the Carbon using space-filling articles rather than printing letters submitted by students wanting to express their views. Moreover, if "the views in this publication are those of the individual writer and do not necessarily reflect those of Marian College", then we feel that those who write articles are obligated to sign their name(s).

Dear Carbon,

Most everyone has probably seen two small cats roaming around the campus for the past month. They, like most animals who appear on campus, have either lost their direction upon returning home or were turned out by unwanting owners. I am inclined to believe that most of the small animals we see have no real home. It is also undoubtedly true that some of these stray animals, including these to cats, offend some individuals on this campus. Until very recently, I assumed that young adults who attend schools of higher learning have enough intelligence to realize that defenseless animals of this nature are in a slightly higher category than vegetables, minerals, or the like. I was undoubtedly appalled to find one of these cats thrown into one of the clothes dryers in the basement of Clare Hall. I believe in fun and games and practical jokes, but when a living creature is involved a line should be drawn. Everyone would agree that Marian College should not be a sanction for homeless animals but until someone takes the time to take these animals to a more suitable place, i.e. the Humane Society, they should not be brutally mistreated by the residents of Marian College.

STUDENTS BOARD MINUTES

Reports

Treasurers Report, as of Oct. 25 we have a balance of $2,111.16 Social Planning, Parents Weekend this weekend Nov. 6th Student Affairs, a meeting was held Thur. Oct 28. The academic advisor program was discussed in much detail.. It was decided that change must be made but should be done through Academic Affairs. Dean Woodman will send a memo to Sr. Margaretta asking her to come to our next meeting and discuss this.

Special Reports:

Cathy Straughan, who is from St. Judes, came to talk to the board about getting help for a fund raising drive for the hospital which will be held Nov. 1-21. After she left we discussed this matter and decided that we wouldn't have time to help her out at the present time.

Denise Germonprez was also at the meeting, and told us what Booster Club is planning for Homecoming Week.

Class Reports:

Seniors: Halloween Dance was a sucess.

Juniors: Movie to be shown Monday Nov. 8th in the Library

Sophmores: Class meeting held last Wed. night discussed Homecoming.

Freshmen: Class meeting to be held Tues. Nov. 2.

Doyle Hall: Open House Sat. Nov. 6th for Parent's Weekend. There will also be a Coffee House Sat. night in the lobby of Doyle,

New Business:

Mon. there was a meeting between the Student Board and Executive Board at 3:30 UBI brought to us a Contitution and wanted our approval. Mr. Morrell wanted to know if the Student Board would but a full page add for the Basketball Programs, but the Board felt that we were not able to afford a full page ad, so we decided that we'd but a half-page ad a $80. A motion was made to suspend the rules so we could get the money right away, it was noted unanimously. Motion was made to allocat $80 for the half page ad and passed unanimously.

Meeting Closed at 8:20,

Respectfully Submitted

Secretary MCSA

TICKETS! TICKETS! TICKETS!

Recently a large number of students were confronted with a shower of parking tickets, the majority of which were probably deserved. This student believes that our security guard was only doing his job by issuing the tickets. What is in question here is what was he doing the eight weeks prior to this flood of tickets? Could it have been a chain of good evening movies or a soft couch in one of the mansions? These eight weeks saw just as many or more violations and few noticable tickets to conform these violators parking habits. If a law is not consistently enforced, what good is that law?

There is a rumor that Mr. Meloche's ticket spree was possibly due to the vandalism of his car by masked culprits throwing a pumpkin. I feel this was a foolish act on the part of these students. This student, after attending Marian's first traffic appeals court of the year inquired into the matter. He was quickly informed that the tickets were not a result of revenge, but were due to a crack-down issued by the controllers office.

For those of you who wish to appeal your tickets, you have exactly ten days after the ticket was issued to do so. Appeal forms may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Student Services, SAC. You may save yourself some time and perhaps grounds for a ticket appeal if you read pages 66 and 67 of your student handbook. I did, and found out something very interesting. Under "Campus Driving and Parking Regulations" A. 2, P. 67, it states, "Parking is permitted only where yellow parking lines are painted or where a sign designates the area as a parking area." If you got a ticket for parking in the yellow lined area around the circle of the 30th street parking lot of Doyle, this is possible grounds for an appeal. And be careful men, to my knowledge there are no signs or lines in the 30th street front parking lot.
