

R.A. positions for fall open

This is to announce that applications for the residence hall position of Resident Assistant for the 1973-1974 academic year may be obtained from either of the Residence Hall Directors (Karen Marsh or Bob Risch) or any secretary in the Office of Student Services.

Preference will be given to upperclassmen who have achieved a cumulative grade point average

Telequest set

Telequest, the annual Alumni Fund Drive, is set for the second and third weeks in March. The drive is conducted by telephone. Local call will be made March 11 through March 15 long distance calling will take place from March 19 to March 22.

This drive serves as a way to contact those who have not yet contributed to funds for the next year. A personal link between the school and the alumni, the drive also aids in the maintenance of alumni records.

Telequest can use volunteers to assist in tabulation, clerical work, and as callers. Students have not been used in the past but it has been decided to ask their aid in this year's campaign.

A Telequest orientation meeting will be held for all interested on Tuesday, February 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the library auditorium. John McNamara, Vice President of Development at St. Mary-of-the-Woods, will speak on the success of a similar campaign conducted by that school.

of 2.50 or above, who have a desire to work with fellow students on an individual and group basis, and who qualify for the Work-Study Program. However, exception to the above qualifications may be made. Remuneration for the Resident Assistant position in the halls is $500.

Resident Assistants assist students individually and collectively with academic, personal, social and adjustment concerns and work with fellow students in establishing an atmosphere conducive to growth, learning and community spirit. Any student who would be interested in finding out more about this opportunity to serve others should talk to a current RA, Hall Director, or staff person in the central office of Student Services, and pick up an application soon.

Applications must be returned to the Hall Directors by no later than March 31. Applicants will participate in an interview process during the first two weeks in April. If possible, appointments will be made by April 15.

Council tables alcohol policy

Because of a letter received by Dr. Gatto from Marian's attorney, consideration of the Alcoholic Beverage Policy was tabled by the Faculty until its March meeting.

Under Indiana law, no institution may be granted a license to sell alcoholic beverages within 200 feet of a chapel or school. This, if the whole campus is considered a school, destroys the possibility of the proposed "Pub" where twenty-one year olds could purchase alcoholic beverages to be consumed there.

YEARBOOK SALES UNDERWAY

1973 Yearbook sales are now underway. Cost this year is $6.00; partial payments can be arranged. Staff members are presently soliciting orders. However, if we accidentally overlook you, residents of Clare Hall may contact Kathy Gagen, Ext. 526, Room 209; Doyle Hall-Dave Jongleux, Ext. 342, Room 217; Day Students-Hank Richardson on campus; or Sue Ellis, Ext. 389, White House.

Another issue brought out was the fact that the college, not the person buying or selling, would be held responsible for any violations of the state law.

Present Indiana law prohibits the sale to or the purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages to anyone under twenty-one years of age.

$1,000 is top prize in contest

During the months of February and March, Reed & Barton, America's oldest major silversmiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarships totalling $2,500 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Marian College has been selected to enter this Competition in which the First Grand Award is a $1,000 scholarship, Second Grand Award is a $500 scholarship, Third Grand Award is a $300 scholarship, and Seven Grand Awards of $100 each scholarships. In addition, there will be 100 other awards consisting of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $85.00.

In the 1973 "Silver Opinion Competition", an entry form illustrates twelve designs of sterling with eight designs of both china and crystal. The entrants simply list the three best combinations of sterling, china and crystal from the patterns illustrated. Scholarships and awards will be made to those entries closest to the unanimous selections of Table-Setting editors from three of the nation's leading magazines.

Auditions for the Theatre Department's production of THE CANTERBURY TALES will be held Wednesday, February 21, from 3:00-5:30 p.m. in the theatre office and from 7:00-9:30 p.m. in the SAC Auditorium.

Scripts and musical scores are available for examination in the library in the reserve section.

The world famous Serendipity Singers

Concert held Thursday

"Serendipity" is the faculty for making desirable, but unexpected discoveries by accident. And that means discovering that the world famous Serendipity Singers will give a free concert at Marian College, Thursday, February 22.

The group of four men and three women will present an evening of songs and humorous sketches to 7:00 p.m. in the Marian Hall Auditorium.

The group has changed with the changing music scene since its founding in 1963. Since their first hit, "Don't Let the Rain Come Down," they have performed on such major television shows as the Ed Sullivan Show, the Bell Telephone Hour, and the Dean Martin Show and have played major nightclubs across the country. They tour more than 200,000 miles each year, and have covered 49 states, 15 foreign countries, and 800 colleges.

Their latest album is "Love is a State of Mind."

Bridging gap

At the present time there exists on the Marian campus a large gap in communications. The publications are the most poorly informed group on campus. This has been pointed out by the CARBON and has been evidenced by the sometimes seeming lack of information about anything appearing in the campus publications.

Some of you are probably satisfied with what you are informed of -- or perhaps I should say -- what you are not informed of. You mind being bothered with things you could do as well without thinking about.

Unhappily, I cannot be content with the fact that I am being told "all that I need be told" -- according to some authorities. Of course they will cry out that they did not think it would be interesting or important to me. In my eyes, omission of the publications from some important informational channels is as beastly a sin as giving them false information or giving them just enough not to know what to do with (because facts are scanty and ambiguous, because people can't be reached for verification, because the situation is presented in such a light that it would appear unfair to attack it until more is known, e.g. Dr. Gatto's memo on Dynamic Catholicity).

Even apart from my role as an editor, in my role as a student, I like to know what decisions are being made by such groups as the Faculty Council, Student Board, and Social Council. The PHOENIX is not even informed of the time and place of Faculty Council meetings! Surely there is nothing they would wish to hide from the students, but is a short memo in our mailbox so much to ask to keep the campus press informed?

And surely it is not completely my fault that I first met Colonel Wagner this semester (my sixth at Marian) when he called me in to discuss an editorial and that I know Dr. Gatto only by sight? Are campus publications so inconsequential? I wonder if I have devoted a whole year to accomplishing nothing but getting short-slept Monday nights and "playing" at being an editor.

If our job is to be the informing of persons about campus events, issues, and opportunities -- we should be informed of them -- even hints would be appreciated -- we don't mind the work involved in digging the story out. We have a telephone now, but have lacked a directory of either students or faculty all year (we should have been given both -- we share city phone books with the theatre department), but somehow we still usually manage to contact people about things we find we should know about.

Communications are supposed to bridge a gap between persons or groups. We can only build the bridge if the persons on the other side of the gap will let us.

Letter to the editors

To the editors:

In response to your editorial of a few weeks past concerning the question of amnesty:

Contrary to popular belief America is not welcoming home all her prisoners of war. Thousands of young men are still prisoners in neutral nations throughout the world, most notable, Canada and Sweden. These young men are caught in the act of refusing to participate in the draft because its primary function was to induct men into a system that had its end in war and ultimately in killing. They were found guilty of possessing a consciousness different and perhaps higher than that of their government's, they were sentenced to self-imposed exile because their government, in the form of their draft boards, would not recognize or accept the creditability of their level of consciousness.

These men recognize a higher reason than the one that can rationalize killing to preserve life, liberty meaning the submission to the dictates of the government, and freedom bending to the rule of conformity. Life means life, liberty means liberty, and freedom means freedom, not the opposite of what the word is used to connote. These young men hold these principles in the strictest sense, they are true conscientious objectors to war.

While many Americans believe these men to be a threat to America, that it is good and just that they be kept out of the country, it is my contention that these men are an asset to this society. They should not be rejected and kept at a distance rather they should be allowed to re-enter the system. First of all they are Americans, second they too love their country, they just cannot accept its beliefs on the validity and necessity of war, lastly they too have the right to live with their families and friends, be gainfully employed, obtain an education and work for the betterment of this country.

But where do they differ from the common man of America, where do they differ from the soldier in Vietnam that is returning home, where do they differ from the returning prisoner of war held in North Vietnam? All of the aforementioned do not like war, they all think that killing is wrong, some accept it as a necessary wrong. The young men forced to leave the country because of refusal to participate in the war and any war differ in that they have the courage to live up to their convictions. Certainly they do not now or ever did want to leave America, but their consciousness when met by the dictates of the draft system necessitated they leave.

Now, as to the question of when such young men are going to be allowed to return home. It is my personal opinion that it will be many years yet. This country is not yet far enough removed from the war to view these men's cases objectively. This country still believes it honorable to serve the country without question. Many years will have to pass, a new generation of people must partially come into play to view this case with enough sensibility to see that these men should be allowed to return to their families and work. It was fifteen years after the first World War that this country allowed its dissenters to return.

It only seems to make sense that America in this highly emotional state, with this different degree of consciousness that failed to understand these men, will be a long time coming to understanding these men and a long time coming in being permissive enough to allow their return. I do believe it will come though, and perhaps it can begin by again listening to what these men believe.

Clare, Doyle Halls plan for spring's activities

Clare Hall Board and Doyle Hall Council are deep in plans to keep the dorm student, and in fact, all students, occupied this spring.

Karen Marsh, Clare Hall Residence Director, explained about the new arts and crafts workshops. A poll was taken to find the crafts of major interest to the students. The seven areas in which workshops are being held are crocheting, knitting, sewing, pottery, decoupage, macrame, and candle-making. These workshops are being held at the present time and are completely run by volunteers. Materials for the crafts are supplied by the students themselves.

Also on the Board's spring agenda is a skating party which is to be held March 2 at a local skating rink. Later, on March 31, a swimming party is to be held at the Riverside Recreation Center. A Perc party will immediately follow. For this event, Clare Hall women will be admitted free with a nominal fee for any guests.

Clare Hall Board will also be sponsoring the women's kickball leagues and the Kite Making and Flying Contest. The winner of this event will be determined by the originality of the kite's design and the length of its flight.

Ending the semester is Senior Will Night which is to be held the Sunday before finals. It is at this annual gathering of the women of Clare Hall that

Tribute paid to four seniors

by Ken Hornback

BILL SMITH - Probably the best player ever to don the blue and gold uniform of Marian College, smooth Bill Smith has accumulated no less than six school records and is recognized as one of the top college performers in the state.

The easy going Smith, very much responsible for the resurgence of basketball on the Cold Spring campus, hopes to first go on to the professional ranks and perhaps then get into teaching and coaching, both lifelong ambitions.

Bill Smith came to Marian for two reasons. First, to get a first class education, and second, to play major college basketball. He has excelled in both and we're the seniors leave something of themselves to those remaining in the form of old shoes, books, posters, and what-have-you.

Doyle Hall Council is working on improving the new lounge which has been opened in the basement of Doyle. The purpose of the lounge is to provide a place for students to watch television, eat, drink, and play cards and other games.

Furniture was collected from all over campus and new drapes and linoleum for the tops of the cable-spool tables are to be purchased. The lounge is open the same hours as Doyle Hall lobby and is furnished with a television.

John Klemens, acting secretary of Doyle Hall Council, listed other Council activities such as: the sale of tickets to the Pacers' game on March 24 and a combination picnic-swimming party, complete with a band, to end the semester. This last event, as proposed, will be held in conjunction with a Doyle Hall Open House sometime in May.

sure he will continue to excel in whatever field he chooses.

JOHN SPRINGMAN - Ever hustling John Springman, the diminutive playmaker who specializes in defense for Ed Schilling's crew, came to Marian four years ago and established himself as a hard-nosed leader who quickly won over the admiration of the home crowd.

Hoping to continue his education in graduate school, John also plans to be a teacher and coach.

This fiery competitor, who holds the college record for assists in one game, is sure to make his presence felt in whatever he does.

GREG PAWLIK - The popular senior from Grand Rapids, Greg Pawlik came to Marian on an athletic scholarship and became a two-sport star.

Pawlik has no regrets about coming to Marian. He feels he has received a valuable education with the option of perhaps having a chance to play professional baseball looming in the future.

ROGER BRANIGAN - Also in his fourth year, scorekeeper Roger Branigan is in the process of closing out his highly successful career as scorekeeper.

Planning to move on to a higher post in the area of sports publicity, Branigan, with his outgoing personality, will make someone a great sports information director. Hint.

John Springman leaps for a basket at his last home game as a Marian College Knight. Marian defeated Rose-Hulman 79-66.

$100 a month for a few good men in college.

And a chance to earn a civilian pilot's license at our expense.

The U.S. Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class offers an undergraduate a convenient way to work towards both a diploma and a Marine Corps commission.

PLC members attend only summer training sessions, so there's no interference with their academic, athletic, and social life.

Members who become eligible may apply for a monthly stipend of $100 every month of the school year. That's $900 dollars a year, with a maximum of $2700 during a college program.

PLC-Law:
If you're going to law school.

The PLC program does not preclude you from attending law school. In fact, there's a special PLC program that encourages and rewards you for it. If you're a member of the PLC program and achieve a score of 450 or better on your Law School Admission Test and you're accepted at an accredited law school, you may qualify. You'll be commissioned when you graduate from college, and you will be deferred from active duty for the three years you are in law school. While in law school you'll be promoted on schedule, and following graduation, you will be assigned to active duty, to serve as a Marine lawyer following completion of a military justice school program.

The PLC program offers its members an opportunity to earn a civilian pilot's license before graduation.

This unique program gives a student a chance to see if he's suited to flying. Those who complete the program receive about $800 worth of lessons. The Marine Corps pays the entire cost.

Look into the unique advantages of a most unusual program: PLC. See a Marine Representative

THE MARINE CORPS OFFICER SELECTION TEAM WILL BE AVAILABLE TO DISCUSS VARIOUS COMMISSIONING PROGRAMS WITH MARIAN COLLEGE STUDENTS FROM 9:30 UNTIL 4:30 MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY. CALL 633-7666 or 633-8464 IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Tuesday's game will be decisive for playoff spot

by Ken Hornback

Making their move toward a playoff berth for the second consecutive year, Coach Ed Schilling's Knights have obviously found the secret to winning lately and have zoomed into contention for a spot in the NAIA tourney.

Facing perennial loser Rose Hulman on the home planks, the blue and gold derailed the spirited Engineers by a 79-66 count, in the last contest of the year at Reynold's Fieldhouse.

Marian broke open what was a relatively close game about mid way through the second half when Mark Gayer and Bill Smith began popping from outside to push the Knights into a comfortable lead which they never relinquished.

Smith, as usual, led in scoring with 19, but was followed closely by Joe Wade with 16 and Jim Apke with 15. Gayer, coming off the bench, added 10 key points.

Wade led the rebounding parade with 15, while John Springman handed out 6 assists. Smith added 5.

Journeying to sister school

Marion on Saturday night, the Ed Schilling-directed cagers played havoc with the not-so-big Titans and brought home a 12-point victory to raise their season record to 13-9.

Although official statistics were not yet available at press time, a rumor from a very reliable source indicates that Smith and Apke led the way with 22 and 20. Freshman Brian Wallace improving with every game, had ten.

Greg Pawlik and Robby Robertson, also seeing extensive playing time, performed well with 8 points and 6 assists respectively.

So, the whole season boils down to Tuesday at Franklin. The winner of that game will probably receive a playoff spot so a victory is a must.

Fan support at this game will be more important than at any time this year. So, be there and back the Knights.

Women's Varsity averages 35 points

Women's Varsity Basketball has been steadily moving along, with a 2-4 record under its belt.

In their game with Marion, February 7, Marion took the win 46-34. The Marian team had a good start in the first quarter but fell greatly behind in the second, which cost them their game.

Marian scorers were Jeanne Grace with 15 points; Karen Flischel with 7 points; Barb Meyer, 5 points; Elaine Luthman, Patty Lampkin, and Moe Kress, each 2 points; and Kathy Gagen, 1 point.

On Monday, February 12, Marian was defeated for the second time this season by Franklin, 47-28. Although playing a much improved game in this second encounter, the Franklin crew still proved too much for Marian to handle.

Led by Karen Flischel with 10 points, Jeanne Grace made 9 points, Moe Kress contributed 6, Barb Meyer chalked up 2, and Patty Lampkin made 1 point.

Confronting the IU Nurses last Thursday night, Marian came out on top 42-30. Leading almost all the way through the game, Marian did not actually get down to business until the fourth quarter, in which they made 16 points to IU's 3 points.

Leading in the scoring, Karen Flischel made 16 points, Jeanne Grace followed with 11, Patty Eder bucketted 6 points, Barb Meyer added 5, and Kathy Gagen and Chris McMillen each chipped in 2 points.

Few close scores posted

by Kenny Tyrrell

The Social Pros, behind Chris Everett's 20 points, excited fans and startled Wan-Tu-Wazuri by almost upsetting them 47-42. Mike Hall was high man for the victors with 26 points.

Mourning After, making their bid for a playoff berth, used balanced scoring and "Long Name" Langenbrunner's 22 points to defeat the Half Courters 64-45. Only four members of the losing team dented the scoring column, and of those Dave White collected 33 points. Mark Fisher, using fake hustle, did not fool the fans who know how scruddy he really is.

Paul Norman, who has been "shooting up" more shots and enjoying it more, lit the light to victory for the Birdmen over White Lightning 74-45. Jay Farrell tallied 15 points for the discouraged losers.

UWI, upset over last week's "Scrud Choice," came out in polished form. Coach Stinger, working their tails off in practice last week, had his boys up for this one, but their valiant effort fell short to the Hill Jacks 48-39.

Courtly Few proved that they are the best, for what it's worth, by defeating defensive-minded Oedipus Complex 50-28. Though the score was close at halftime, Pat Zapp led the way with 15 points to break the game open.

In a great battle for the final playoff berth in League A, Golden Nails tacked up a victory with a strong 30 point effort by Ray Burger over the Rim Shots who had Roger Liening's admirable production of 20 points. The final score was 60-48. SCRUDDY PLAYER OF THE WEEK - Under unusual circumstances, this week's choice ended in a tie. Mark Mauer and Mark Simko thrilled the fans by playing "air ball" during their game. "Air ball" is a game where one player sees by how far he can miss the rim of the basket. In a nip and tuck battle Mauer defeated Simko 4-3. Knowing this would not be enough to earn the "Scrud Award," the boys further awed fans by showing their skill of making the ball go in-and-out of the basket, in the process of missing several shots.

No upset in WIB

Although there was Women's Intramural Basketball action only on Monday night this past week, there was still its characteristic battling and action-packed games.

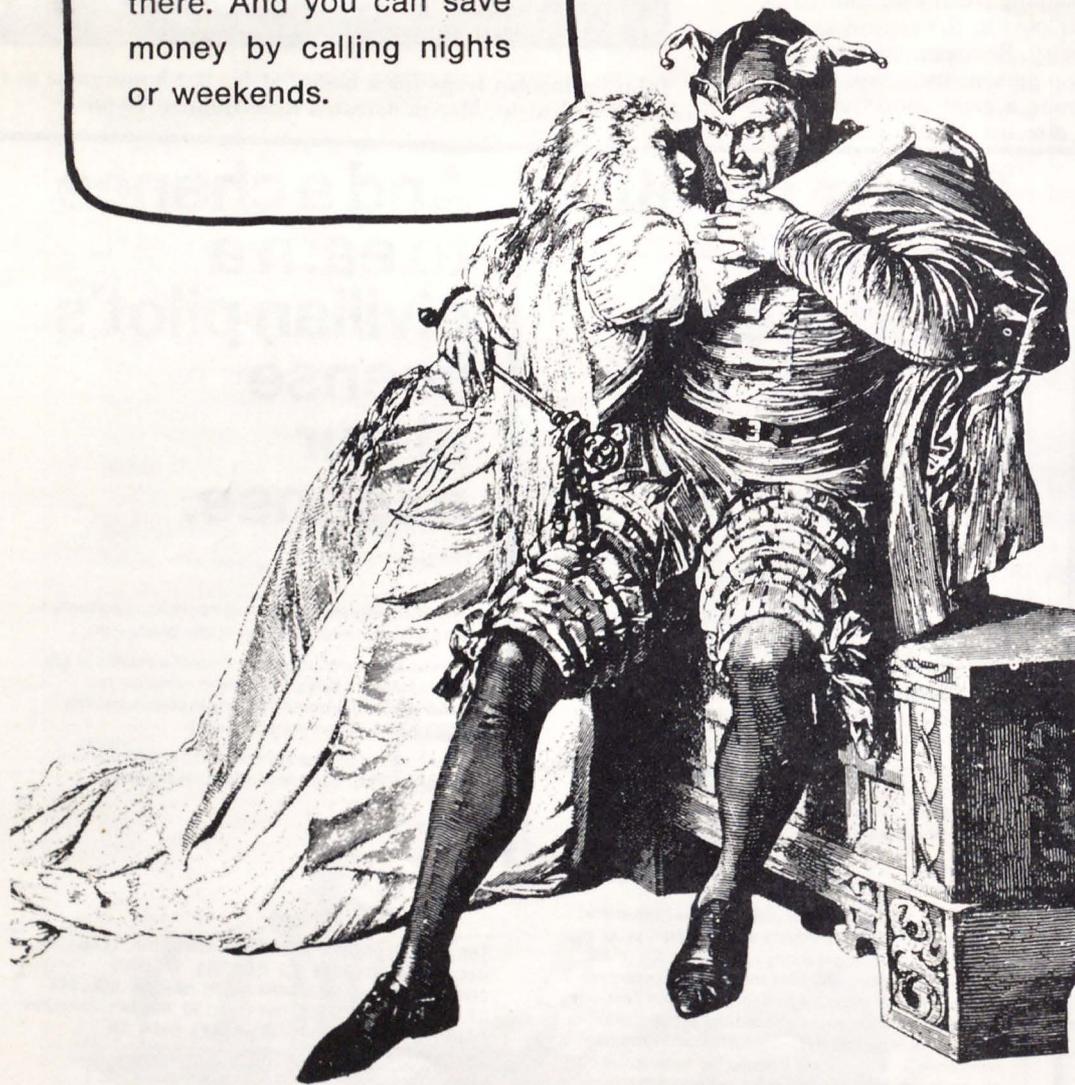

In the first confrontation, the Family Plus One put up a good defense to down the Amazons.

The Beaver Shooters, led by Karen Flischel with 10 points, easily overtook the Snatches. Also bucketting 10 points each for the Sex-tet, Barb Meyer and Carol Luthman guided their team to a victory over the Comedy of Errors. Led by Jeanne Whalen, also with 10 points, Double Shots found themselves in a rough battle to upend the Daughters of Shaft.

In the final game, the Ball Bouncers made their good teamwork and defense pay off in defeating the Jocks.
