OFF TO THE WINDY CITY ----

This weekend St. Xavier College for women is playing host to an inter-regional meeting of the NFCCS. Everyone, and we mean EVERYONE, is invited. Come and gain an insight to the inner workings of NFCCS (and the cultural resources of Chicago). The two-day session begins at 12:00 this Saturday, February 16. Over 20 colleges will be attending the discussions on student activities and their improvement.

Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life! !

Romance, the power that moves the world around is the subject of the two one-act plays presented by the Play Direction class this Thursday evening at 8:15. (Appropriately enough these romantic bits of drama are for your entertainment on Valentine's Day.)

The two plays give us two different approaches to romance, the one being a farce and the other a Chinese fantasy.

The farce, Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place" is directed by Jane Davis. The cast includes Emmett Thompson, Nan Heiskell, Miriam Ottke, Rose Davis, Jack Zimmerman, Phil Allen, and Tony Vespo.

The fantasy is "The Romance of the Willow Pattern" by E.B. Van der Voss. Margaret Winsor is the director and will present Jerry Matheny, Anita Dreiling, Jim Allison, Joe Vespo and Maria Lagadon.

There will be no admission and all are invited. A donation for the Hungarian Relief Fund will be asked.

DIPLOMATS' SPECIAL

The Little U.N. Assn. will meet at the I.U. campus again this year on Feb. 28, March 1, 2, and 3. Marian will represent (ironic as it may seem) Luxembourg, the party nation of the world! If anyone can tear themselves away from the library . . . . .

Excerpts from the Student Board:

It was reported that the Maria Center project is still suffering from lack of backing.

The Parking Committee is going to continue its work with the addition of the class presidents to the group. The re-registration due to the change of plates will be held during the week of March 4 to 8.

It was decided to provide new ping-pong equipment for the lounge for the last time this year. Replacements are too expensive to afford because of carelessness.

A subscription to the morning paper for use in the Reading Room was proposed for a month's trial. This would be of benefit to all students if it were left in the Reading Room at all times.

Congratulations to the King and Queen of Hearts - Jack Borchertmeyer and Barbara Kuhn. Also to the Sophs for a terrific evening.

The team met defeat on the court at Indiana Central Saturday night in a 107 - 64 match against Transylvania.

Huntington College took a victory of 108 to 89 in last night's game played there to make a season score of 2 wins out of 17 starts thus far this season.

The Knights next game will be at Concordia, Friday, February 15. No school the next day, so why not take a trip to boost the Knights?

The last two games, vs. Manchester, Feb. 19, and Huntington, 28th will be at Cathedral. Let's end the season with a solid backing of the team.

Publicity-Wise

The News Bureau scored one this past Sunday. The Indianapolis Times carried a lengthy, interesting article about the Knights and the record of this season. This is the sort of publicity we hope the News Bureau will continue to get for Marian.

Tact is the art of giving a fellow a shot in the arm without letting him feel the needle.

The swimming team hasn't reported any sweeping victories so far, but special mention should be given to Bob Wynkoop who has the butterfly down to a science.

*****

All new students at Marian should contact their class president for a Marian student I.D. card. A good way to meet the guy, too.

PRE-LENTEN PLANS

The Resident students are planning a big mixer for the night of March 1. That's the last Friday before Ash Wednesday and the last shindig here until after Easter.
