the view from here

As the ocean of liberalism continues to roll over us, the CARBON comes up for air, and applauds the Sisters of St. Francis for grabbing groceries in the cafeteria. In light of past tradition, we might compare this event to that of LBJ's grabbing a quick bite in the mailmen's cafeteria. We are finally viewing a definite step, as the sisters begin to emerge from the dark, impenetrable walls of the convent.

We feel that since it is the case that the sisters own the place, they should find themselves in the bloodstream of campus life. We encourage the convent's drama department and its version of the "Fantastic Voyage" and hope it may continue to such God-forsaken paradises as the Perc, and the Reynolds' Fieldhouse, where - get ready people - the MC Knights play basketball. If Marian College is ever going to realize the potential its label of "small college" provides, the sisters must be sensitive to the thoughts and needs of its students. Unfortunately enlightenment will NOT come from behind the walls of the convent. To truly educate us, the sisters must know us better than they do at the present time.

The traffic must flow in two directions and the students must make the sisters feel welcome. We tend to label "sisters" as a group and must realize that behind the uniform is an individual, indeed, a person. Some nuns even tend to think along the same lines that we do. We owe it to ourselves to seek out their opinions and weigh their values. This is also part of our education.

Taking license of our journalistic liberties, the CARBON would like to issue forth a call for a volleyball game between the girls of the campus and the girls of St. Francis. The spirit such a contest could evoke might do more for the college than all that has been tried before. We can see nothing more exciting than Sr. Norma darting around the gym in a pair of red sneakers. The CARBON urges the convent to weigh the possibilities for such a contest. Lunch in the cafeteria ain't bad, but volleyball in the Reynolds Fieldhouse would be a college education.

TOME ISN'T PURELY PHYSICAL?

I HEAR THE SOUND OF MUSIC-----TWICE

Rumor has it that the M-Club and Junior Class are planning to sabotage a nice quiet Marian week-end. To our amazement we have found that this diabolical rumor is true. Yes, now we at Marian will find ourselves with the problem of making the decision of whether or not to go against our set values and attend two social events in one week or to stay home and study one of those nights.

We are cursed with this dilemma because someone somewhere made the fantastic blunder of scheduling two events for one week-end. To have to make such a tough decision is indeed a traumatic experience (maybe even difficult). We sincerely hope, however, that that someone whoever and wherever he is (C.W. maybe) will continue his blundersome ways so that Marian's week-ends might become more than a nightmare in a den of sterility.

DEAR SIR:

For the period of about two minutes I felt most benevolent toward the administration, especially Miss Diver, when senior and "adult" resident women were granted an extension of hours to two a.m. on week-ends. Then, when the glow of this pseudo-liberality subsided, the realization that a student over the age of 21 has the right, by law, to conduct himself in the manner he sees fit, as long as it does not endanger society, struck me with such force that I felt almost an overpowering urge to organize resident students into a protest movement. But, luckily, I was seized with a fit of conservatism, and the campus is now safe from the possibility of a movement in favor of unlimited hours. I leave it to future generations of Marian students to decide that morality cannot be legislated. Clare Hall girls will remain "pure as the driven snow" because of their rigorous hours. Thank God we are still protected as if we were delicate flowers. We'd never know how to behave ourselves otherwise.

A PUFF OF WHITE SMOKE

ACTION, the new religious movement roaring across the campus has elected its very first slate of officers. The CARBON proudly announces the election of C. Michael "Big Time" Eckstein as Marian's number one man from the Vatican. Mike, a junior hails from Anderson, Ind. and we express our sincere congratulations to ACTION's new president. The other exec's include Ginny Mosele, Vice-Pres., Nancy Carrier Secretary, and Pat Harper, Treasurer. Action is action packed.

ATTENTION! RED CROSS MEMBERS & INTERESTED PEOPLE!

Sr. Adelaide, the faculty moderator for M.C. Red Cross has proudly announced the first organ-izational meeting of the same outfit will be held on Tues., Oct. 25 at 12:30 in the biology dept. At that time the good sister will attempt to revive a frog which has been suspended in a formaldehyde solution for the past five years! Be there!

DOWN WITH INDULGENCES

When Martin Luther posted the famous 95 Theses on the church door in Wittenberg, he began a revolt which has continued into the 20th century. Friday night in the auditorium the History Dept. will present the celebrated movie, "Martin Luther," a biographical study of the man, who from a Catholic viewpoint was ahead of his time.

After the film, there will be a discussion in the women's lounge which will be led by Rev. Walter Maas, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. All students are encouraged to attend this worthwhile and educational program. It will begin at 8:00 P.M.

SEE MR. TUTTLE, IF YOU'RE LOST

After lunch today, a line will form outside the "In" door of the bookstore, so that students can describe a ring Mrs. Cleveland has in her lost and found. A turnout of over five hundred students is estimated. Begin guessing early.
