

CONVENTIONS, CONVENTIONS

Coming in March--the mock U.N. Assembly at Indiana University. There will be several Marian students there representing us in the role of Costa Rican diplomats. More information later.

This weekend, students are invited to attend the NFCCS Regional Workshop at St. Mary-of-the-Woods. The trip to the convention is inexpensive and should prove very interesting. Discussions will cover International Relations, Press, Apostolic Life, and Student Government. Of special note.. Father Courtney will be one of the speakers.

Here at home, the campus will host the college fraternities of the Third Order of Saint Francis. Students are welcomed to attend this function also. The registration fee of $1.50 includes lunch. The program will begin at 9:30 with Mass said by Father Donatus Frunloh, O.F.M. from Alverna. Benediction will end the convention at 4:00.

NEW ARRIVAL

Give three cheers and a hip-hip-hooray! The lounge is going to be dressed up in bright, brand-new furniture. It arrived not long ago and will be put into use as soon as the weather permits moving. Gone forever those lumpy-bunny couches!

LOUNGE WIZARDS

Two art students should be nominated for the Pulitzer Prize as outstanding artists of the year. Gail Ebach and Larry Ittenbach have finished the beautiful mural in the men's lounge. This painting has required a lot of talent, time, and trouble from both of them. They certainly deserve to be congratulated for their fine work. We feel we are speaking for all the students when we extend to both artists the appreciation of the entire student body.

CONGRATS

To Mary Ann Schantz and Mike Kramer for being chosen as the Queen and King of the Sweetheart Dance.

The splendor of the dance and decorations was outshone only by the beauty of the Court.

NET RESULTS

The final basketball game of the season will see Marian pitted against Aurora at Scecina next Tuesday, February 21. Although little is known about this team, we can be sure that they will floor a pretty good team. Marian has added something new to the starting five. We had the potential this past season, but it hasn't quite developed yet. Next year promises to be different; we will be a more experienced team. You can be sure we will go all out against Aurora. You can't say the boys haven't tried.

ONLY 39 MORE "STOPPING" DAYS!!

Walking along the street one evening, we saw something white on the sidewalk ahead of us. At first it looked like pieces of chalk scattered by a child. But, as we drew closer, we saw that the pieces of chalk were actually cigarettes spelling out: "I QUIT!".....

Here are a few hints for those who haven't as yet made any resolutions for Lent. Why not give up cigarettes, beer, parties, shows, and dates; and, if this isn't enough, try to go to Mass and Communion every day.

If someone did all these--he would be a holy man. If he did one, he would be a good man. If he did none at all, he would be an average man.

Try to make this a good Lent!

CORRECTION

The Third Order's fish fry will be held on APRIL 13 (Friday, yet!) Keep this date open and come join the fun!

BENEDICTION

A good Lenten resolution for some students would be attending Friday Benediction.

Judging from recent attendance, some of the students apparently have forgotten there is a chapel in the building. (It is located at the east end of Marian Hall, first and second floor, in case you were wondering.) Benediction services are held every Friday morning at 11:25.

MUSICAL NOTES

The Quartet, Octet, and Schola from Marian have been busy making themselves known off-campus. The Quartet and Octet entertained the Altar Society of Little Flower last week. The Schola sang at a wedding and at the dedication of Our Lady of Greenwood School at Greenwood over the weekend. We wish them success in their endeavor to put Marian on the musical map!

SPLASH FLASH

So far this season Marian has had a perfect record in the sports department. The swimming team has started off just like the basketball team--they haven't won a meet yet. However, the next meet may be the one to break the record. It will be held Sunday, February 19 at the I.U. Med Center pool. Why not drop in?

OVERHEARD ON CAMPUS!

If it's tails, we stay up. If it stands on it's edge, we study!
