

The Carbon

VOL. 4, NO. 10, NOVEMBER 14, 1986

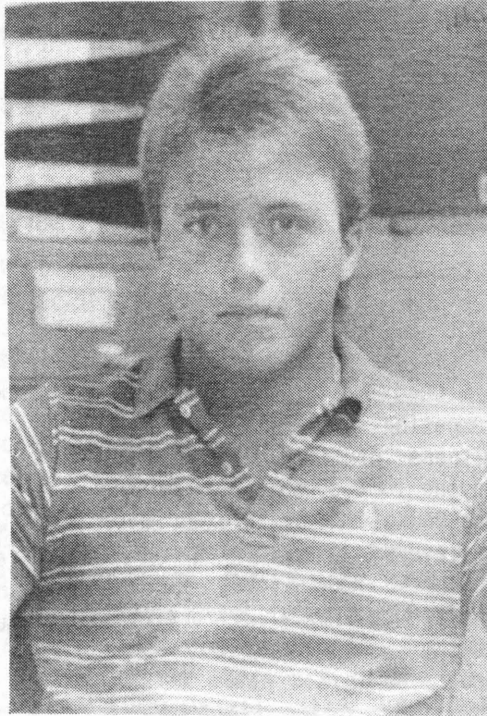

A MARIAN COLLEGE STUDENT PUBLICATION

RD RESIGNS AFTER CONFRONTATION WITH MCPD

by Brad Landwerlen and Bob Bunting

Doyle Hall is now without an RD after the former RD, Mark Boline, had a confrontation with Marian College Police Department officers. Mark began working here in August and had since formed a working relationship with the student residents. According to Mark, however, he never established a true working relationship with the M.C. administration. He claimed to be tired of fighting them and being treated as though he wasn't doing his job, and said that their unwillingness to cooperate and support him and the RA's is the reason he and many RA's are quitting. Although he didn't wish to go into detail concerning other incidents leading to his resignation, he did tell us to check with an RA and Danny Shaw (who witnessed the confrontation) about the incident Friday morning.

The RA and Shaw told the same story concerning the incident which, for Mark, "was the straw that broke the camel's back." They said that Mark had seen a visitation violation occur about 1:00 a.m. and, thus, contacted the MCPD security because they are supposed to be called whenever any violation takes place after 5:00 p.m. The RA and Boline then went out to look for the girls who had left Doyle after hours, but couldn't find them. Approximately 15 minutes after the MCPD dispatcher told the two that a car was coming, it arrived. Mark then questioned the time interval between his request for their assistance and their arrival. He was threatened "to be taken downtown" if he didn't shut-up. Mark wasn't satisfied with this answer and tried to get a better one, only to be threatened a second time. He then said, "go ahead," and Van Wye, an MCPD officer grabbed and pulled him, ripping his jacket. Mark was then thrown against the car, told to "spread 'em," and frisked. The officer then let him go.

Mark Boline resigns as Doyle Hall's resident director after a dispute with the Marian College Security Police.

Dean Woodman said that there was a confrontation between the officer and Mark. An investigation, Woodman said, is underway. He also said that Van Wye was not reprimanded in any way and that the officers are not allowed to discuss the incident. Dean Woodman later stressed that a better definition of the officers' role must be established as well as a better working relationship between the RD's and MCPD.

Professor Pedtke said, "Vast improvements can and must be made immediately." A poll of approximately 100 Marian College students shows that none thought officers with such a temper should work here and that no officers should carry firearms.

Mark, while moving out Friday, said that he has no idea concerning his future. He will return home to Milliken, Illinois, and escape the dangers here at Marian. He hadn't even told his parents yet, not wanting them to worry. He plans to seek another line of work; however, he is uncertain exactly what he will do.

PRAYER FOR ABORTION

Jesus, Mary and Joseph, I love you very much. I beg of you to spare the life of (name the child) who is in danger of abortion.

(This prayer, written by the late Archbishop Fulton Sheen, may be said daily for nine months in order to combat abortion. I wanted to share this with you. Over the last four years, I have prayed these words and now celebrate the lives of Kenny, Kelley, Kris and Danny. Evan, my current recipient, is in the third month of pregnancy. -Kelley Ross)

GO KNIGHTS!!

2 LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

by Chris Worely

I would like to state publicly the following points regarding our security force here at Marian:

1. Security should protect students, not harass them.
2. Security should model the rules they enforce, not act outside of them.
3. Security should communicate with students, not intimidate them.
4. Security should respond quickly to a call for help, especially since we are equipping them with a full-time car and radio communications.
5. Security should enforce rules (e.g. parking violations) consistently, not whimsically.

I in no way mean to imply that security never complies with the above "should's," but I believe there are far too many examples of times when they haven't.

Until the purpose and parameters of our security force are well-defined and until our security personnel are made to understand their purpose and parameters, the current community/security tensions can only intensify. Furthermore, as a student in that scene, I don't feel that I nor the campus is very secure as is.

Due to the required brevity for editorial publication, I cannot here give specific examples of the above mentioned points; however, I will file a list of pertinent examples with the Carbon editor/staff for the review of interested parties.

The views expressed on this page are not necessarily the views of the Carbon or its staff.

Our Side of Paradise

by Stacey Nicholas

Have you ever considered yourself a 20th century martyr? Actually, the true definition of a martyr is "a witness." That definition was later expanded to include those persons who have died witnessing to Christ. It is also interesting to note that the New Testament defines sin as "being a bad witness." As 20th century Christians, are we being good witnesses?

In Saint Paul's First Letter to Timothy, Paul advised his young companion on how to be a true witness of Christ. "Do not let anyone look down on you because you are young, but be an example for the believers in your speech, your conduct, your love, faith, and purity" (1 Tim. 4:12). Christ is not asking us to go out and move mountains in His name. He is asking that we be examples of His teaching.

It is time Christians walked Jesus' talk. This means putting the teachings of Christ into action. Saint John writes; "The message you heard from the very beginning is this: we must love one another" (1 Jn. 3:11). This love can be expressed in the simplest of ways. A welcoming smile, a helping hand, or a warm hug can convey Jesus' teachings. To be a 20th century martyr, one must "walk that talk - be the best we were meant to be."

(We are very pleased with the response we have received regarding this column. We invite anyone to submit articles for it.)

THE CARBON

Marian College
Indianapolis, IN 46222

Editor: Kelley Ross

Staff: Scott Reinhardt
Brad Landwerlen
Pat Webb
Stacey Nicholas
Chris Worley
Michelle Scheidt
Debbie Eacret
Trisha Miller
Jeffrey Johns
Christopher Lowe
Shay Craig
Andrea Suding
Alex Lake

(Special thanks to:
Brother James Rinard, O.S.B.)

Advisors: Prof. Craig
Mr. Hohman
Janet Padgett

GUEST EDITORIAL POLICY for the Carbon. The Carbon welcomes guest editorials. Specifications: 100-150 words, in the Carbon office by 12:00 noon, Monday of the week the editorial is to be run. The final decision on which editorial(s) to run is reserved solely to the Carbon editor and/or staff.

CAMP 'M' by Christopher Lowe

LIL' LOUIE IS SUCH A GENTLE BOY, HE'S NEVER IN THE WAY, NEVER IN TROUBLE, IN FACT, SOMETIMES I WONDER IF HE'S EVEN HERE...

I KNOW, I BET HE'D MAKE A GREAT COLLEGE
PRESIDENT.

LIGHTER SIDE

BATMAN AND ROBIN ATTACK

by Pat Webb

The other day I was riding on Andy's Ark at the IUPUI campus when all of a sudden, Batman and Robin started grabbing the Duty Roster and shaking it around. They ripped a page off of it and the page blew away into the wind. B.V. Fartington was absent, but there were several other Ark Rangers who tried to stop Batman and Robin, but the Ark Rangers were losing! Alas! Woody the Wonderdog wouldn't listen or do anything. In fact, nobody was any help! The president of IUPUI was busy at the Hide 'n No-Find Contest in Death Valley, California; the "second-in-command" was busy at the IUPUI Baby Delivery Room; Kyle the Crocodile was standing around picking his teeth; and R.J. was putting up signs saying, "If you don't like it, we'll shoot you!" I was really worried until the Duty Roster jumped out of Batman's grasp, and formed out the words: "I QUIT!" and exploded. All of the sailors on the Ark vowed that the Duty Roster would be avenged.

(to be continued)

WELCOME, SISTER BETH!

by Trisha Miller

Seventeen years of playing the guitar is one of the gifts that newcomer, Sr. Beth Ernest, brings to Campus Ministry. She particularly enjoys her job because it is a gift that she can share with others.

A Cincinnati native, Sr. Beth graduated from the Immaculate Conception Academy in Oldenburg in 1977. After attending Xavier University for one year and St. Joseph College for two years, she earned an Associate's Degree in Respiratory Therapy. She has put her education to good use by working in hospitals in Cincinnati, Connecticut, Florida and Indiana before joining the convent at Oldenburg.

Sr. Beth is currently studying Elementary Education. She is quick to mention that Marian has a different feeling than other colleges she has attended. It seems more personal to her -- perhaps because her vocation has enabled her to come to know many people in a short amount of time. Sr. Beth also feels that the individual attention from the teachers here at Marian is an advantage.

Sr. Beth likes Marian because the students talk to her. In other settings, people tend to treat those dedicated to religious vocations differently than they treat each other. Sister feels that, although she has made a commitment to God, she is still the same person. She wants other people to know that God can be part of their lives also.

In closing, Sr. Beth said, "Thanks to everyone at Marian for being so friendly and so nice."

WHO'S WHO CONGRATULATIONS

"Each year at commencement exercises across the country, a select group of students are called forward to accept one of the most prestigious awards the academic community can bestow -- being selected to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. This exclusive honor is conferred by more than 1,000 schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia and symbolized by the presentation of an award certificate...national recognition by the Who's Who program marks a pinnacle of scholastic achievement"

(from Who's Who Among Students In American Universities & Colleges).

Marian College boasts a total of 24 students inducted into this prestigious group this academic year. They are:

Cecilia Brennan
Christine Broderick
James Burkhart
Laurie Cressy
Benita Federie
Kelly Gallagher
Stephen Gatons
Sandra Gatto
Benjamin Glen
W. Clark Griffin

William Gulde
Julia Hilcz
John Joven
Shannon Kiley
Karen Kopach
Julia Mathias
Deanna McIntire
Kelley Ross
Julie Schoening
Laura Sears
Carol Severeid
David Thwaits
Diana Williams
Kimberly Zeronik

We congratulate these students and salute their achievements.

4 CAFE ELMARINO

by Christopher Lowe

Hey! So I've been messing up on Mariano's menu plan, so shoot me! It's not my fault. Mariano's home office hasn't been letting me know that they are making changes occasionally. Anyway, if things go as planned, (at this place, this never happens!), then tonight's meal will be Fried Cod Tails, (Rated X), Meat Loaf (Rated XXX) or Tuna melt (Rated P.G.13).

Saturdays dinner for me and the other select few of broke or homely, (or both if you're like me), campers will be Veal something or other, New York Strip Steak, or "What's left of last weeks catch of the day "Shrimp."

Sunday is supposed to be sandwich night, but since we've already had that, who knows?, (They're doing it again).

Monday night, Spaghetti and Meatballs, Baked Chicken, or BBQ Chicken are features from Colonel Mariano.

Tuesday's dinner will be Cubed Steak, Enchiladas, or abused potatoes.

Wednesday campers will get Turkey Cutlets, Chesse Dogs, or Beef Stroganoff.

And finally, Thursday night will be another Buffet night, (but you know how that goes), Oh well, Amen, dig in!

NEW "TRADITION" AT MARIAN

Marian College is beginning what is hoped will become a tradition. "Bowl-arama" will make its debut on Saturday, November 22, from 8-11 p.m. at the Lynhurst Bowl, only five miles from Marian. Bowling will be two dollars and transportation is available. Contact Sean Nash, extension 452, at Doyle Hall. Money for tickets must be in by Wednesday. In Clare, contact Kim Carrico, extension 176. All students, faculty, staff and administration are welcome. Plaques to be awarded.

IF PLATO WERE AT MARIAN...

by Bob Bunting

With last Friday's incident involving MCPD and Mark Boline, faculty and students alike have been forced to consider the quality of Marian's Police Department. Are they really qualified security personnel?

First, we must determine what "qualified security guard" means. In the Republic, Plato constructs his ideal society, which includes a class of people he calls guardians or auxiliaries. These are the people that are to ensure the safety of citizens, which, I am assuming, is why Marian hired security guards. Plato gives two basic requirements that a guardian, or a qualified security guard if you wish, must fulfill: (1) He must befriend and have allegiance to the society he protects; (2) He must have the correct training. He must befriend and have allegiance to the society so that they have mutual goals. This is also of importance for distinguishing friends from enemies. The second point requires clarification as to what the correct training is -- namely that correct training would involve learning to use force adeptly and learning a set of values (in part, by studying the humanities) so that one may ably decide when force is necessary.

Now, let's consider MCPD and see if they meet Plato's two requirements. It doesn't seem likely that as part-time security guards these officers can very well befriend and have allegiance to the Marian College Community. A full time security person could better befriend students and faculty just by being present enough to get to know them. As far as the correct training goes, humanities studies are not required of our security personnel. Then on what basis are they to decide when force should be used?

One need not reflect long on last Friday's incident to see that both of these elements, considered essential by Plato, were missing. As I understand it, the security guard didn't even realize that Mark was the R.D. Further, although little force was used, it was at the wrong time, in the wrong way, and toward the wrong person. No, Plato wouldn't be very happy with Camp Marian today.

THE KNIGHT CALLS

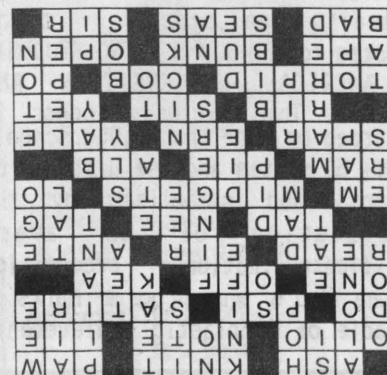

by Stacey Nicholas

Fifty-six Knight callers tackled the alumni during the Annual Alumni Phonathon. This year phonathon callers received over $25,000 in pledges from Marian alumni.

Nora Augenbaugh was the top pledge receiver with a total of $5,570. Coming in second was Shawn Nash who made the most calls, collecting a total of $1,305 in pledges.

Receiving $25 for being the first and second place clubs in pledge totals were the Freshmen girls, $7,530.00, and Doyle Hall Council, $4,000.01. The Alumni Development Department treated all participating clubs to pizza and soda.

The 1986-1987 season marks the 11th anniversary of Coach Grimes at Marian. His simple philosophy of discipline, hard work, and aggressive play is supported by his belief that a successful college ball player must also be a successful college student.

R.E.M. FILLS THE GAP

5

by Alex Lake

For those of you who are sick of the same old girl-meets-boy, hand-holding, high school prom theme music dominating radio right now, there's good news and bad news. The bad news is that I have it on good authority that the next U2 album will not be in the record stores before the year's end. The good news is that until that time, you've got the recent R.E.M. album, "Life's Rich Pageant" to reckon with. Mind you, however, R.E.M. has never been the object of much radio hype and airplay. Until now, that is: "Fall on Me," the first single from the fourth LP from R.E.M., has been receiving its share of space on the airwaves. What a shock it must have been when long-time R.E.M. fans heard the Athens, Georgia band's folk-rock sound kicking out over the radio. Granted, one can't expect mass popularity from a band with song titles such as "Radio Free Europe," "South Central Rain," and "Can't Get There From Here" -- not when they have to compete with "The Glory of Love" and "Heaven in Your Eyes."

That brings us to a point of controversy that has surrounded this album since its release last August: Has R.E.M. gone commercial? The only way to answer that question is like this -- the listener should be the judge. True, on this album, lead singer Michael Stipe's lyrics are far more decipherable than in the past, and the drum sound is much more distinct (two factors which, on past R.E.M. albums have driven both critics and fans crazy.) Certainly, the sound is more commercial, thanks to new producer Don Gehman, who has worked with John Cougar Mellencamp. However, Gehman has managed to spice up R.E.M.'s sound, without sacrificing its back-to-basics (guitar, bass, drums) foundation. This is most evident in the album's guitar-wrenching opener "Begin the Begin" (the album sides are not designated with 1 & 2, but with a "Dinner" side and a "Supper" side), and even more evident in "The Flowers of Guatemala," a dreamy song that recalls the Byrds, with its three and four-part harmonies. Also representing the harmonies is the aforementioned "Fall On Me," a short, brooding number that is an even bigger throwback to the Byrds.

The general theme of the songs is what most R.E.M. fans would expect:

oblique social commentaries through descriptions of nature and challenges to resort to activism, such as in the song "Cuyahoga," in which lead singer Michael Stipe urges the listener:

"Let's put our heads together/ and start a new country up."

With the revivalist, guitar-based sound and the complex harmonies still intact with R.E.M., it's difficult to classify this album as commercial. At their best, Stipe, drummer Bill Berry, guitarist Peter Buck, and bassist Mike Mills have once again managed to put together a cohesive, straightforward, down-to-earth rock and roll album, something that seems to be in short supply these days.

Most critics have hailed "Life's Rich Pageant" as the strongest R.E.M. album to date. This critic feels that for their best work, one must go back to their second LP, "Reckoning." However, don't write "Life's Rich Pageant" off. Like all R.E.M. albums, it can involve listeners on both an emotional and intellectual level, a feat that those prom themes just can't quite accomplish.

THEATRE AWARDS

The Theater Arts Guild & Alpha Psi Omega of Marian College Present the 1986-87 Alphi Awards.

These Awards will be presented to honor those nominated from each show for the 1986-87 production season.

The Alphi's will be presented after the final show at a benefit dinner.

The nominee's for Plaza Suite are as follows: (Please vote for only one person in each category)

BEST ACTOR:

Scott Reinhardt as Sam Nash_____

Ray List as Jesse Kiplinger_____

Jeff Johns as Roy Hubley_____

BEST ACTRESS:

Jodie Robertson as Karen Nash_____

Cindy Kopenec as Muriel Tate_____

Marcy Wisman as Norma Hubley_____

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR/ACTRESS:

Pam Drzewiecki as The Bellhop_____

Jennifer Wood as The Waitress_____

Sandy Max as Jean McCormack_____

Return ballots to the switchboard by Friday Nov. 21st no later than 6 p.m.

After each show of the season, ballots will be distributed via The Carbon. We would appreciate your contribution to these awards. Please help us in making this a success, and also to thank those individuals who appeared on stage here at Marian.

Thank You,

Sandra Groves Pres. T.A.G.
Daniel Johnson Pres. A.P.O.

PRE-REGISTRATION for freshmen and sophomores will be from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on November 20 and 21 in the conference room in Marian Hall.

S.R.C. would like to thank John Dietzen, Brad Landwerlen, and Christopher Lowe for all the decorations around campus. They'd also like to thank Mrs. Havens for donating some of the decorations, and "security for not shooting us."

HUNGER IN THE BODY OF CHRIST

Chronic malnutrition now affects some 500 million people around the world. Its pervasiveness and persistence pose a formidable challenge to the human family as a whole and to each of us as responsible family members. It is a challenge that demands immediate personal action and long-term commitment. World hunger, global food insecurity, the inability of half-a-billion people to grow or buy the food they need are issues that must be addressed in both time frames simultaneously.

In the short run, justice requires that starving people be fed. The major external means of feeding them is food aid, much of which comes from the U.S. Government through the Food for Peace Program (PL-480). The IHA (Interfaith Hunger Appeal) agencies have been engaged in such programs for nearly half a century and appreciate their value. Though necessary, food aid is not enough. Food aid can become a diversion from the development that is needed to prevent future famines, and it can decrease continuing malnutrition.

In the long run, it is essential to help poor and hungry people improve the quality of their lives to at least the point where they are no longer dependent on the global breadline. People are hungry because they are poor; they are poor because they lack the power to choose otherwise. Their condition is further prejudiced by an international economic system that contributes to their impoverishment, keeping them poor. Those of us who benefit from that system, and above all those of us who make that system work share a responsibility for making it work not only for ourselves, but for the benefit of those disadvantaged people. We should review all of our international economic transactions, including private investment, commercial lending, trade in manufactures and services and the sale of arms to poor nations. The international economic system in which these transactions take place needs to accord higher priority to meeting the basic human needs of the majority of the world's people who are poor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A big THANK YOU goes out to the Golden Knights and Student Assistants who have helped me out with all those tours. Thanks, Becky Harris.

The next edition of the FIORETTI will be dedicated to Jennice Chaney. There has been an extension for the contributions of poetry and artwork dedicated to Jennice. All artwork must be done in black ink.

We would like to extend our deepest appreciation to all who contributed their time and effort to the Senior Haunted House.

Thank You Very Much,
The Senior class officers.

Everyone is required (sort of) to wear beach party clothes and sunglasses to the homecoming game Saturday. (or else!)

Available for student use: A coin-operated xerox machine has been made available for student use in the basement of Marian Hall. It is located in the hall, next to the duplicating room. The duplicating office will make change for the machines.

Any group wanting its event advertised or needing posterboard, please contact a S.R.C. (Student Relations Committee) member.
Call: Christopher (ext. 513);
Russ (ext. 515); Brad (ext. 515);
Dale (ext. 523); Jerry (ext. 108).

YELL, DARN IT!

by Christopher Lowe

Let's get fired up! Marian's cheerleaders hope that they can help do just that to this year's students and fans. Julia Rinehardt, Angie Havens, Kathy Vannoy, Fern Hernandez, and Detra Hernandez are the girls chosen this year to lead Marian's vocal population, while John Dietzen, Oscar Gonzales, Christopher Lowe, Kevin Hall, and Mark Aloia are their male lifters.

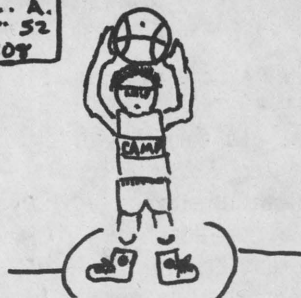

When asked for comments on cheerleading in general, Dietzen remarked that one of their primary goals is to get the fans excited so that the team gets excited. He stated, "It really helps the team to see a lot of fans supporting them. They usually work harder and play harder." Rinehardt, Havens, Vannoy, and Fern Hernandez bring previous high school experience. They were unanimous in their determination to build more school spirit. "That's really a problem here; not too many people want to get too vocal, or even back the team at all. Many people back their old high schools more than their own college. Hopefully, we'll find a remedy to this," one cheerleader remarked.

The cheerleaders have been practicing for weeks now and still have a long way to go. Many people aren't aware of the difficulty in some of their stunts. It takes constant practice and a good deal of experience in tumbling in order to do many things safely. There is also a set standard that cheerleaders must conform to, that regulates their movements and the type of movements they can use. Today, cheerleading is almost considered a sport of its own.

They request that, for the homecoming game, everyone wear their beach party clothes and sunglasses. Oh, and P.S. Be extra rowdy!!!

WE'RE #1

H. ... A.
52 - 52
00:00

"Live Action! Scored tied 52-52, 8 seconds on the clock, Davey's got the ball..."

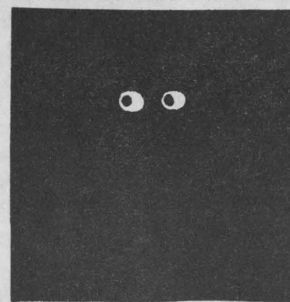

KNIGHTS BEGIN CRUSADE

by Stacey Nicholas

Tomorrow Marian's men's basketball team will top the homecoming festivities when they host St. Francis at 2 pm.

Returnees from last year's starting lineup include: Ron Wituski, David Thwaites, and Darrin Fish. Other experienced returnees are Mark Dehart, Dave Back, and Steve Leonard. These six players can be expected to help Marian be an extremely competitive team.

Take note of freshmen Bill Woods, Rick Russell, Sean Vandeventer, and Scott Fleming, who will likely add new talent to the progressing team. Expect to see Matt LaGrange, David Byrd, Tom Satterfield, Don Vogt, Jim Poole, and Steve Simmons integrated into Marian's upcoming season.

C A M
P
'M'

oop's, we're sorry but it's 10:00, Game's over.

VOLLEYBALL ENDS SEASON

by Michelle Scheidt

The Knights Volleyball team lost a close match to St. Mary's on November 7. They played an excellent match of five games, lasting two hours and twenty minutes. Fans provided excellent support. Coach Audrey Satterblom was extremely enthusiastic: "This was the best, most exciting match since I've been here."

Julie Schoening and Amy Beckham were named to the all-district team. This team is made up of the top twelve from the twenty one teams in the state. Amy Beckham was also named to the all-tournament team.

The Knights ended the season with an impressive 25-13 record. Coach Audrey feels the team did an excellent job: "This has been the most enjoyable team that I've been associated with."

OUR BEST WISHES TO GARY

by Michelle Scheidt

He feels confident that Ron and Gail will do a fine job carrying on Cafe Mariano without him. He appreciates all the support he has received from students, especially cafe workers. Students will miss his joking and good humor, but never fear: "I'll be back," Gary said, attending ball games and checking up on everything at Camp "M".

HELP WANTED

The Old Spaghetti Factory, 210 S. Meridian, is now accepting applications for part-time positions. Ideal for students. No experience necessary. Apply at the double black door on Georgia Street, 1:00-4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, or call: 635-6325.

Today is Gary Lasley's last day working for ARA. After four years of dedicated service at Marian, he is going to work for Indianapolis Produce and Fruit. "It's been fun," Gary said, but he feels that he is making an overall good change "financially and otherwise."

The Puzzle

ACROSS

- 1 Pallor
- 4 Intertwine
- 8 Animal's foot
- 11 Mixture
- 12 Memorandum
- 13 Falsehood
- 14 Fulfill
- 15 Greek letter
- 17 Sarcasm
- 19 Individual
- 21 Away
- 23 New Zealand parrot
- 24 Peruse
- 26 Goddess of healing
- 28 Poker stake
- 31 Youngster
- 33 Born
- 35 Label
- 36 Printer's measure
- 38 Little people
- 41 Behold!
- 42 Male sheep
- 44 Baker's product
- 45 Priest's vestment
- 47 Box
- 49 Sea eagle

- 51 New England university
- 54 Bone of body
- 56 Pose for portrait
- 58 Still
- 59 Dormant
- 62 Male swan
- 64 River in Italy
- 65 Simian
- 66 Shelflike bed
- 68 Unlock
- 70 Evil
- 71 Oceans
- 72 Title of respect

DOWN

- 1 By oneself
- 2 Spanish for "yes"
- 3 Jump
- 4 Cutting instrument
- 5 Negative
- 6 Possessive pronoun
- 7 Hard-wood tree
- 8 Supple
- 9 Ventilate
- 10 Tiny
- 11 Aroma
- 16 Therefore

- 18 Beverage
- 20 Dine
- 22 Purlains
- 25 Obstruct
- 27 Female ruff
- 29 Hindu cymbals
- 30 The self
- 32 Plunge
- 34 Sched. abbr.
- 36 Bitter vetch
- 37 Chart
- 39 Expire
- 40 Crafty
- 43 Defaced
- 46 Body of water
- 48 Tear
- 50 Tiny indentations
- 52 Sufferer from Hansen's disease
- 53 Short jacket
- 55 Baby's napkins
- 57 As far as
- 59 Flap
- 60 New Deal agency: abbr.
- 61 Owing
- 63 Genus of cattle
- 67 A continent: abbr.
- 69 Greek letter

Featuring

Hand-Thrown Pizza
Tostada Pizzas And
Authentic Grecian Gyros

Regular Tostada

10 inch	3.50	3.90
12 inch	3.95	4.25
14 inch	4.90	5.35
16 inch	5.70	6.10

All Tostada Pizzas are topped with refried beans, nacho cheese sauce, seasoned ground beef, and tangy cheddar cheese.

Authentic Grecian Gyros
with Special Sauce $2.00

Pizza Hours
Mon-Thurs. 8:00-11:00 p.m.
Sun. 8:00-12:00 a.m.

PHONE 929-0358

WE DELIVER

