It was most gratifying to see the cooperation that made the "Hungarian Holiday" such a success. The net profit was $205.72, a real boost toward our 4-year program of $1000.00 as a minimum goal. There have been others who are planning donations to this cause and for this the CSMC is likewise very grateful.

The NCWC has informed us that some Hungarian students are at present studying English at Bard College before assignment to the various colleges inviting them.

SEMPER FI

On Monday, January 14, 12:00 sharp, Colonel Atkins and a woman Marine officer will speak to the girls in the Clare Hall Assembly Room. Opportunities for graduates and those still in college on the reserve program will be explained. Those going into reserve would be able to join the regular corps after graduation. For students from all colleges in the U.S. the training center is at Quantico, Va.

The News Bureau has announced that three assistants have been chosen to work with the chairman Paul Fox. They are: Judy Hirn, academic news, Gracie Mickler, social activities and Ferd Keller, sports. Their job is a big one, so if you can help them by contributing news items be sure to do so.

Condolences are extended to Mr. Petitpas, Tippy French and Joan Gassdorf on the recent deaths of members of their immediate families.

ANNUAL RETREAT

As has been announced on the bulletin board, the men's retreat is on Monday and Tuesday, January 28-29 and the women's retreat, Wednesday and Thursday, January 30-31. Any student who has not attended another retreat during this school year must attend this one.

This year for the first time, there is also the choice of making a closed retreat at Fatima Retreat House for the girls. This retreat will be a really closed retreat offering the ultimate in spiritual opportunities for those who would like to attend. Father Moriarty has put forth much effort to make this first college retreat at Fatima a real success.

Reports from those who have attended weekend retreats last semester also mention that accommodations are excellent and the food delicious.

Even though the deadline for registration is over (Fee - $5.00) the girls can still attend if they contact their class representative soon.

HIP! HIP! HURRAH!

ALLEMANDE RIGHT TO THE LOUNGE

Come on, yell a little louder, gang! And if you find it hard there will be a pepsession this afternoon at 3:30 in the gym that will give you a little practice. Join the crowd, learn the cheers and then at the game tonight make yourself heard. Tonight the Knights meet Rose Poly at Seccina. Game time is 8:00. Remember, your I.D. card is your ticket to home games. See you there!

The A.R.A. is sponsoring a square dance, The Barn Dance, this Friday night in the Lounge. From 8:30 until 11:30 you can swing your partner for only 50¢ per person. The caller will be a pro and he'll make it easy for those of you who haven't tried square dancing before this. (Is there someone who hasn't?)

CARBON HAS FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT

Soon to appear on this page will be some special articles from a guest writer, the first editor of this news sheet, Steve Gerard. Steve is in Germany right now with his Uncle and has written to us offering to write some "provocative" articles. Just in case any of the Irish in the school have a special memory of Steve's St. Patrick's Day special, the present editors promise to censor any anti-Irish writings thoroughly.

Don't be too rough with a pessimist. Some of them are that way because they backed an optimist.

A.C.S. Student Affiliates will have a seminar meeting Sunday, January 13, at 2:30 p.m. John Hanley will conduct the session discussing "Silicones." The group will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, January 15 at noon.

Have you been dazzled by sudden flashes of light in the corridors? No doubt you've passed a few of the gals who have added engagement rings to their list of most prized possessions. Congrats to all the lucky fellows and gals who celebrated Christmas by getting engaged.

Reflection from the holidays - Life is much like Christmas. You are more apt to get what you expect than what you want.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! !!

And are you ready? For what? Well, we thought that everyone knew that exams start a week from Monday. Most of us have plenty to do -- finish term papers, (Incompletes look pretty funny on a report card), pay up all bills so as to be eligible, make provision for notifying next of kin, purchase blue books from the bookstore and oh, yes, if there's enough time, study a little before taking the test.

There was a famous birthday celebrated yesterday. Just in case you missed it, old sideburns himself, Elvis, became a year older.

GOOD NEWS

Luz Davila, freshman, who had a very serious operation, was at last report on her way to a good recovery.

Mike Raters who was injured in an attempt to attend the dance Friday night is now taking life easy recovering at St. V's.

The cold weather brought out the ice skaters and also a few experts in that good old American sport of snowballing. It also unearthed this lament:

"O tiny cold germ, so fine, so small, where did you find the infamous gall to strike me down into this bed, and hold your parties in my head?"
