

Twas the last day of finals....

'Twas the last day of finals and all throughout Marian Not a student was studying the books they were carryin.'
The notebooks were thrown in the trash without care
And nobody was doing a paper, not anywhere!
The teachers were nestled all snug at their desks
Their turn to go nuts over those sickening tests.
Others ready to party put the beer on tap
And Security settled down for their evening nap.
When in front of St.
Francis there arose
such a clatter
Even the Carbon staff went out to see what was the matter.
Soon the dorms emptied; not a soul to be found
And the commuters were looking to see what was going down.
The amps were arranged amidst parking lot slush

And the sound system was jammin' ready to bust.
When what to our wondering minds could construe
There was Dr.
Felicetti bustin' a move.
With Dean
Woodman steppin' close in toe
We knew in a moment it'd be quite a show.
More rapid than eagles the students they came
The faculty was rapping and calling out names:
Go Hammer! Go
Norma! Go Divita and Day!
Get it Gampfer! Get it Grimes! Get it
Smith and Callaway!
With Appleby leading,
along with McBride
There was Adler and Goebel doing the electric slide.
So up to the dorm-

top the band members flew Reid with her sax, with his keyboard, Lerner, too.
And then in a twinkle
they were settin a stage
With everyone dancing;
the college in a rage.
As Elmo finished his jig and was turning around he heard from the roof a happenin' sound.
And Dougherty appeared dressed in fish-net and black Looking like Ozzy, he flung down his pack.

Slowly he drew out a guitar-the color red cherry
and he pulled out a bat,
Man, was he scary.
His droll little mouth
was drawn up in smile,
And the beard on his chin was as long as a mile.
The stump of a pipe he held tight to his teeth
And the smoke, it encircled his head like a wreath.
But a wink of his eye
and a twist of his head Soon gave us to know we had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And after playing like crazy
he turned with a jerk.
And laying his guitar down by his toes,
The crowd went wild, to their feet they arose.
And jumping on the back of Mr. Kelly's motorbike, We heard him exclaim as he drove out of sight:
"Happy Christmas to Marian and to All a Rockin' Night!"

Student dies after drinking contest

GAINSVILLE, Fla. (CPS)- For Larry K. Wooten, 21, a drinking challenge from his roommates proved fatal.

The University of Florida student died No. % after drinking 23 shots of alcohol, authorities said.

Wooten and his three roommates were at a local bar, The Mill, when Wooten's roommates challenged him to break a drinking record. Wooten downed 23 shots of various kinds of alcohol in one hour, Gainesville police said. The bar was offering a two-for-one special.

Wooten's roommates took him home shortly after he finished his last shot. He later started vomiting and passed out. An ambulance was called and he was taken to the hospital about 2:15 a.m. Wooten was pronounced dead at 3:45 a.m.

Wooten's blood alcohol level was not immediately known, but police say blood alcohol levels that prove fatal are usually about .40.

The Alachua County Sheriff's Department is investigating the overdose since it occurred at a bar located outside the city limits.

Ah, Christmas, the time of peace on earth and good will toward men. Yea, Right.

Apparently, Marian's car thieves aren't quite in the "good will" mood.

Two more car thefts have taken place at Marian again, the fourth time this has occurred this semester.

A General Motors minivan was hotwired on Saturday,

Car thieves strike twice

Nov. 10, in between 5:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. after being parked unlocked in from of Clare Hall. The following Monday, Dec. 2, another unlocked GM car was stolen from the parking lot south of Doyle.

Both vehicles were recovered by the Indianapolis Police Department, the van in the 400 block of North New Jersey Street and the car on the east side of town.

Director of Safety and Police Services Jim Lekse said that "What we really recommend in students is to lock their cars. If there are three cars out there and one isn't locked, they're going to take the one that's not locked."

All four cars that were stolen this semester were GM; an Oldsmobile, an '83 van, an '85 Buick, and

(THEFT continued on pg. 4)

Letter

Where Have We Been?

Absence makes the heart grow fonder, doesn't it? Have we intentionally kept The Carbon off the stands just so your appetite for news would be whetted? We certainly hope it is the case that your heart does grow fonder when you see The Carbon back on the stands.

While we would like to say we had planned the recent none-to-wonderful publication record, we must confess that we are more the victims rather than the instigators of our few weeks' rest.

Who can we blame? We could blame the computer. We would like to blame somebody or something, other than ourselves. In this situation, a case could be made for blaming the computer.

The Carbon is produced with a state-of-the-art desktop computer publishing program known as PageMaker. We recently upgraded our older version of Pagemaker for the brand new edition. In doing so, we also had to add another new program, Windows, to make PageMaker work.

Holiday movies previews

by Carlos Vidaurre

The holidays are almost upon us, and for Hollywood that means it is time to roll out the big budget, much-talked about, sometimes long-awaited winter movie releases. With so many movies previewing ranging from JFK, an Oliver stone movie concerning the investigation of the assassination of John F. Kennedy, to the dark comedy The Addams Family, it may be difficult for movie goers to select a movie that is their money's worth especially during the current economic recession. So, here is a guide to three movies that promise to be a treat for the holidays. (They are listed according to their expected release date.)

(Nov. 22) They're ooky and they're spooky, and they have a $30 million movie coming out. The long-awaited The Addams Family is surely one of the better hopefuls this season; considering that every movie studio is looking out to Nothing is perfect in the world of mankind, or in the world of computers, as we have since learned. After the new installation, we discovered, to our horror, that PageMaker would not work for one of those arcane reasons that computer programs are so good at creating.

Who knew why PageMaker didn't work?

We still don't know, but we do know one thing: No PageMaker, no newspaper.

What lessons are there in all of this? Probably one should not change computer programs in the middle of a semester. Probably we could use a course in PageMaker on this campus.

Finally, you should know that there is nothing more frustrating to a newspaper staff than to have news sitting in a computer, unable to get it out to the reading public.

We apologize for the delay in news, old and missed, and we ask for anyone knowledgeable in PageMaker to please give us a call!

break that golden $200 million mark. Raul Julia as Gomez could not be a better pick. Julia's Hispanic looks seem to cry out for that role, and Angelica Huston's Morticia also show great casting. Another added plus is Uncle Fester played by Christopher Lloyd. The movie promises to have some very funny and interesting moments. Thing, for example who used to be confined to a box in the old mid-1960s television show now roams around the house freely. directed by Barry Sonnenfield. (Paramount)

(Dec. 6) Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country is being hailed as the last movie in the series. William Shatner, Leonard Nimoy, and DeForrest Kelley resume their best-known roles as Kirk, Spock, and Dr. McCoy. But what is this? Spock's in love and the Klingon Empire is on the verge of self-destruction. Star Trek V may have

by Karen Walsh

Larissa McCormick-she's got ambition, personality, and intelligence. She's the kind of person we will read about in future years for her great accomplishments.

Larissa is a commuter student who lives with her brother (age 11), sister (age 8), and mother. Hers is a "very close, supportive, religious family," and she values her relationships with her family very much. Larissa says she loves being at home with them, which is one of the main reasons she does live at home instead of on campus. One of her family's favorite things to do together is travel. They have been to Haiti, Canada, Mexico, and almost all of the states in the U.S.

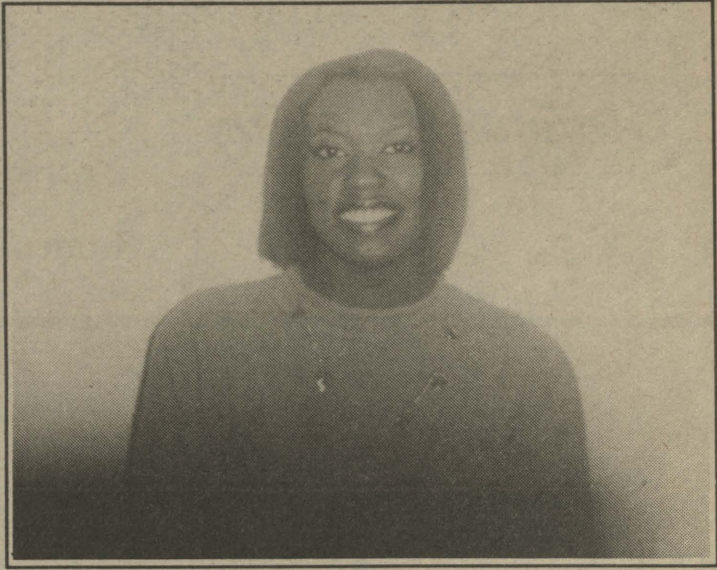

Although Larissa started out at Marian as a pre-med major, she changed her mind her sophomore year and is now an English major and philosophy minor. And just this year she decided she wanted to teach, so she has been cramming all of her requirements for secondary education into this year, something that even her advisor, Dr. Craig, didn't think she would be able to do. But leave it to Larissa to do the impossible! She will be student teaching in the spring of 1992 somewhere in Indianapolis.

Larissa just got accepted not been as good as the last three, but this one is being directed by Nicholas who directed Star Trek II and co-wrote IV. Guest stars include Christopher Plummer, Kim Cattrall, and David Warner. These characters have been with us for the last 25 years, and if this is their last hurrah indeed, could it be The Next Generation is up to bat at the box office next? (Paramount)

(Dec. 11) Steven Spielberg's Hook is supposed to be the big release this season. With stars like Dustin Hoffman as Captain Hook and Robin Williams as a "grown up" Peter Pan it does indeed promise to be a great movie. Spielberg, known for having directed such mega-hits as E.T. and the Indiana Jones movie into a Greek sorority at Butler which prides itself on academics, community services, and international services. While at Marian, Larissa has been on the Academic Affairs Committee and was president of U.B.I., Union for Black Identity, the 90-91 school year.

Senior Profile

"U.B.I. helped me become vocal," something which is a necessity if she is to accomplish her ultimate goal: becoming superintendent of schools. Of this goal, Larissa says, "I feel I can make my difference at this level, working with students and teachers. There is a lot of hard word ahead, but it is important to stay true to your goal."

This goal is what made her get into the education program this year. She says she never thought she would ever become a teacher, but she decided it was first necessary to teach in order to become a good superintendent. Larissa plans to teach in the IPS school system. She explains, "The city has a negative attitude toward public schools. They have the most issues to address because there are people at all levels there. They should have an equal chance for education." In her future are plans for graduate school and also getting her doctorate.

Larissa says she has really enjoyed her four years here, working with faculty, staff and students.

THE CARBON

Marian College
Indianapolis, IN 46222

Editor
Noelle Gasco

Assistant Editor
Karen Murphy

Production Editor
Robert Deems

Business Manager
Holly Criss

Advertising Manager
Lara Beck

Advisor
Dr. Brian Adler

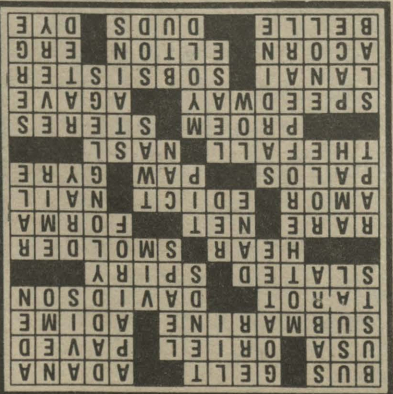

Photography Editor
Michelle Codarmaz
Helger Oomkes

Staff

Karen Walsh, Krissy Abel, Fadi Khoury, Matt McGreal, Carlos Vidaurre, Amy Howell, Michelle Fletcher, Nicola Rossi, Greg Knipe, Shelia Leighton, Beth Wathen

The Carbon, a source of news and information as well as an open forum for the Marian College Campus community, is not an official publication of Marian College and does not necessarily reflect the views of the college administration, faculty, or editors. Readers are invited to submit timely and relevant letters of opinion to the editors. Such letters should not exceed 150 words and must include the author's name and phone number. For verification purposes the letter must also be dated and signed. Telephone numbers will not be published, nor will anonymous letters be published. Letters may be edited for clarity and brevity. Editors have authority to reject any letter they feel to be potentially libelous, obscene, inflammatory, or in poor taste. Ordinarily such letters should aim to address issues, clarify events, promote understanding, or clearly identify what is going on in an event, issue, or scene. No guest editorials will be accepted unless explicitly solicited by the editors. Unsolicited pieces will be treated as letters to the editors. Letters to the editors must be turned in to the Carbon's mailbox in the faculty mail room by 12:00 noon, Friday, the week before they are to run. Any campus club or organization sponsoring an event can advertise in the Carbon at no charge by submitting a 4"x5" ad to the Carbon in the Carbon mailbox in the faculty mailroom one week before the ad is to run. If typesetting is required, the ad must be submitted two weeks in advance, and a fee will be charged. The Carbon will run the ad for the two weeks preceding the announced event.

ANSWERS

Homecoming an "Unforgettable" experience

Homecoming Queen Wendy Dawson and two of her princesses, Trish Skowronski (left) and Siovhon Shea (right).

Sean Ballou and Jodi Perkins bustin' a move!

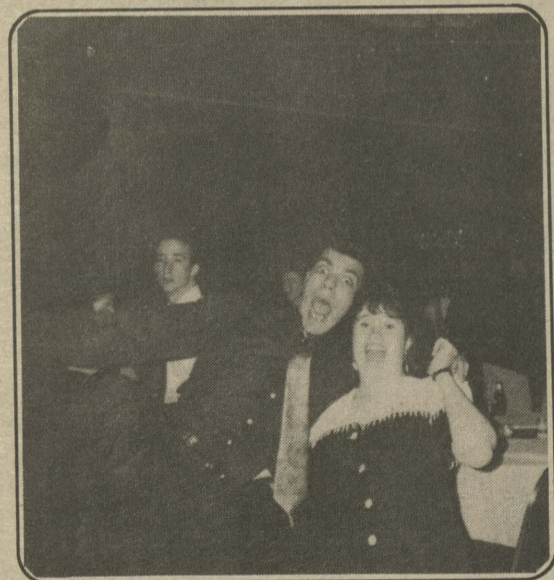

Festivities began early for most. Posing here (left to right) is Mike Kenny, Kim Retzner, Sharon LaFace, Tracy Taylor, Jennifer Scharfenberger, and Donna Wetzl.

Unforgettable, yes, but homely! Homely Coming Queen David Miller.

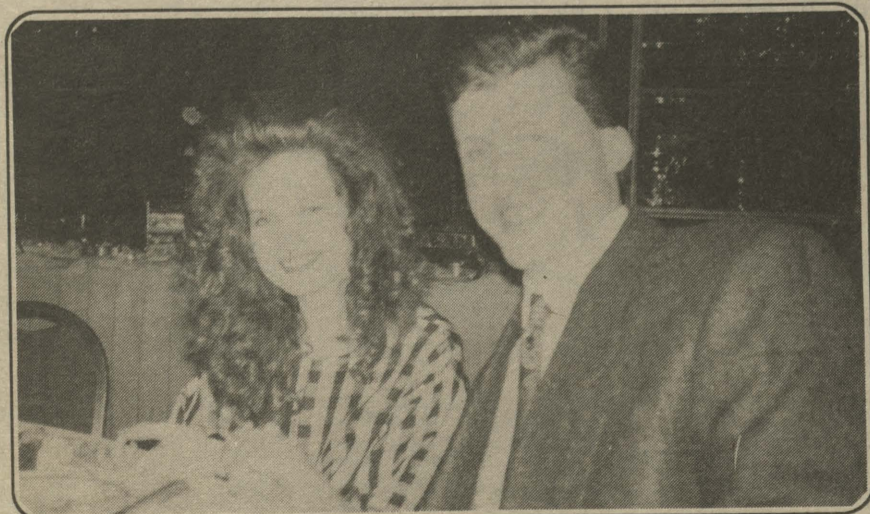

Hey! Hey! Look at us! Daren James and Cassie Elliott.

Fadi Khoury and Steph Taylor shakin' a leg--or takin' a plunge?!

Uh, I think I just ripped my pants... Ted Minch and Siovhon Shea

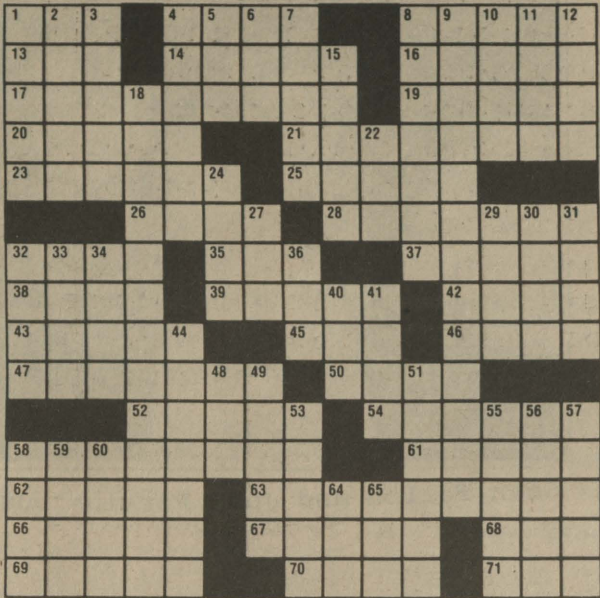

You look mahvelous! Handsome couple Cari Osborne and Tom Vermillion.

Later...with Ann Carson, Tony Hartman, Matt Dieters; Debra Floerke, Jodi Perkins, Sean Ballou; David Miller, and Doug Weight.

Crossword Puzzle

- ACROSS
- 1 Motor coach
 - 4 Money
 - 8 Turk. city
 - 13 Brother Jonathan: abbr.
 - 14 Bay window
 - 16 Like most streets
 - 17 U-boat
 - 19 — a dozen (cheap)
 - 20 Fortune-telling card
 - 21 Singing John
 - 23 Scheduled
 - 25 Slender and tapering
 - 26 Learn
 - 28 Burn slowly
 - 32 Hard to find
 - 35 Trap
 - 37 Pro — (following rules)
 - 38 Love Lat. style
 - 39 Decree
 - 42 Fasten
 - 43 Columbus' starting point
 - 45 Animal foot
 - 46 Circle
 - 47 Miller's "After —"
 - 50 Kicker's grp.
 - 52 Preface
 - 54 Cubic meters
 - 58 Race track
 - 61 Century plant
 - 62 Hawaiian veranda
 - 63 Sentimental journalist
 - 66 Oak nut
 - 67 A John
 - 68 Unit of work
 - 69 Pretty woman
 - 70 Clothes
 - 71 Tint

©1991, Tribune Media Services

- 6 52 in Rhaetia
- 7 Inclines
- 8 "— star-crossed lovers"
- 9 Arachnid
- 10 Rara —
- 11 Captain of fiction
- 12 Arabian gulf
- 15 Moves quickly
- 18 Nacre
- 22 Energy
- 24 Jutlander
- 27 Crimson or claret
- 29 Cart
- 30 Arab chieftain
- 31 Breathing sound
- 32 Entranced
- 33 Oriental nanny
- 34 Function
- 36 Point
- 40 Container
- 41 "— the night before..."
- 44 Pilchard

- 48 Base
- 49 Building contract
- 51 Blots
- 53 "— Kentucky Home"
- 55 Estimated
- 56 — so often
- 57 Suit material
- 58 Thick piece
- 59 Unit of length
- 60 Organic compound
- 64 Unit of heat: abbr.
- 65 Turf

Happy New Year!

Rick Kelly sponsored by MCSA

by Holly Criss

Rick Kelley performed on November 14 here at Marian.

This native of Muskingum, Michigan expressed his love for music by impressive artists including Marvin Gaye and the Supremes. "I've gone through phases listening to music by Phil Collins, Billy Joel, and Bonnie Ray. Right now I am in a phase of listening to women artists."

Rick started off the show with the famous "I've Heard it Through the Grapevine" followed by his own original "KELLEY". He told the audience that his family really enjoys the former because of the multitude of people who misspell his name.

This original show consisted of mainly audience participation. How many people can envision all different types of people snapping and clapping, singing backup vocals, line dancing and hula-hooping around the Alverna Student Center? Believe it or not, that is exactly what happened. If someone did not know what was going on, they could expect the audience to look extremely ridiculous singing, laughing, and carrying on. But the people who participated enjoyed the show even though it may have been embarrassing.

When asked about where he got the idea to do older material by different artists, Rick replied, "It came about from being a camp counselor, where everyone sang a bunch of songs that have been around for a long time."

Rick travels around the country to about 80 colleges a year. "The worst schools to perform in are junior colleges, in the cafeteria where everyone is there to eat their lunch; they don't want to participate." Never dreaming about becoming a singer, but instead a professional basketball player with the exception of being about "eight inches too short," Rick enjoys what he does and most of the time the audience does too.

This University of Michigan graduate did not even dream of singing until two or three years after graduating from college. In addition to that, he did not even begin to sing until his senior year in high school.

Rick hopes to return to some of the schools he has already been to in order to

Picture of the Week

Top Ten

Top Ten Reasons Not To Go Home For Christmas

- 10. You'll miss the cafeteria's Christmas dinner.
- 9. You want to be first in line for next semester's registration.
- 8. The school spirit is too great here to leave.
- 7. You still have a 20-page research paper to do.
- 6. You prefer the company of your roommate than the screams of little brothers and sisters.

- 5. What's the point in going home? All the Christmas money went to tuition.
- 4. With those grades?!!
- 3. You still haven't settled down from the Homecoming excitement.
- 2. All the good bars are in downtown Indy, not Whitestown.
- 1. Your car was stolen and you don't have a ride home.

(THEFT continued from pg. 1)

Buick, and an '83 Monte Carlo. Lekse said that it would not require professional thieves to hotwire them. Most likely, they are being used for joyrides, since nothing has been stripped from the recovered cars.

than likely Rick would be in the field of carpentry work.

Rick's show is amazing and if he returns for another show in the near future then it is suggested that as many people as possible attend because it is an experience the audience will never forget.

give them a choice between the show he performs now or a new show with all original songs he has produced. Currently, Rick has two albums out and is working on a third.

If the singing career had not worked out then more

