Nancy Perkins Reigns As Homecoming Queen

We all have our dreams, and here at Marian College, especially this week, we have an extra-special dream. It is Homecoming Week 1971 where throughout the week, all kinds of contests ranging from the bicycle marathon to the hot pants contest are scheduled. One of the major highlights of the week was the crowning of the queen. The queen, the lovely Miss Nancy Perkins, was voted in by popular vote of the student body.

Nancy, who is from Evansville, is a French major. She likes all kinds of sports, both indoor and out. She is a friendly person you can see almost anywhere on campus due to her involvement in school activities. She is the vice-president of the Student Board and works on publications. Nancy's escort Sunday night for the crowning was B.J. Farris and her escort for the dance will be Terry Gehlhausen.

The other junior-senior members of the court are: Jane Ford, a senior, Bonnie Ward, a junior, and Elaine Guzzetta, a senior. The sophomore members of the court were Anne Sperry and Julie Sylvester, while the freshmen candidates were Ingrid Augspols and Janet Kitchen.

The freshmen skit preceded the crowning. This performance was a collage of freshman talent presented in the auditorium. Mark Mauer, freshmen class president, crowned Queen Nancy at the conclusion of the program. The queen will reign over the other Homecoming festivities throughout this week.

So as a part of "our dream" became a reality with the coronation of the queen, so will the other events scheduled for this week follow in the same fashion.

Members of the 1971 Homecoming Court: Janet Kitchen, Ingrid Augspols, Anne Sperry, Julie Sylvester, Queen Nancy Perkins, Bonnie Ward, Jane Ford, Elaine Guzzetta.

Instead of the traditional floats in a marching parade, this year Homecoming consists of stationary floats and decorations on the campus. By having the various decorations, the Booster Club hopes to show an even greater outward expression of Homecoming.

Each class and club is responsible for decorating some area of the campus. The senior class has chosen the SAC lounge and Perc; the junior class, the two main entrances; the sophomore class, a stationary float in front of the Drum and Bugle Corps building; and the freshman class, the outside front of Marian Hall and Administration building.

Various clubs are also decorating other parts of the campus.

All good things must come to an end, so too must Homecoming Week. Saturday's activities will serve as a climax and conclusion to the events of the week.

Highlighting the Homecoming festivities will be the Homecoming game, in which the Marian Knights meet the Marion Titans. The game is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at Ritter High School.

A dance on the second floor of the ISTA building, from 9-12 p.m., will conclude the week. The theme of the evening will carry on with that of Homecoming week, "We Have A Dream." The Blue Stone Ivory, a nine piece band from Cincinnati, will provide the music for the evening.

National Events

Red China's Defense Minister Removed; Possibly Dead

Foreign Diplomats have reported that Lin Piao, Red Chinese Minister of Defense and one time hand-selected successor of Chairman Mao, was removed from office and is possibly dead. The oust came as a result of Chairman Mao and Premier Chou En-lai's efforts to crush a military overthrow attempt. Reports stated that when Piao and fellow conspirators were revealed they attempted an escape to the Soviet Union which resulted in a plane crash in the Mongolian Republic. It was supposed that Piao was killed in the crash, but there have been no confirmations of his death.

Senate Revises Foreign Aid

The Senate took measures Wednesday to revise non-military aid to foreign nations. The measure appropriates $1.1 billion. Friday, it took action to revive military aid. The military aid approval came with a 65-24 vote to allocate $1.5 billion. The bill was passed with Senator Mansfield's amendment that calls for U.S. withdrawal from Indochina within six months. The bill now goes to the House.

Red China Delegates Arrive

Red China's 46-man delegation arrived Thursday in New York and took up residency in Roosevelt Hotel. The delegation is headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua, who stated upon his arrival that his government "has all along supported the oppressed peoples and nations in their just struggles to win freedom and liberation, oppose foreign interference, and become masters of their won destiny." The delegation began their work in UN headquarters Monday.

CALENDAR POLL

Recently a tentative poll was taken to discover if Marian students wish to change the school year calendar or retain the traditional schedule. Five different calendars were suggested and students received sheets describing each. They were asked to vote for one plan for each semester and drop their ballots in boxes in the Perc or dorm. A combination of plan A, which runs from Aug. 23 thru May 4, and plan B, which starts the 25th of Aug. and ends the 11th of May was the most popular. As of now it is not possible to say whether there will be a change or not, as the final vote will be in December.

VARIETY SHOW

Come one -- come all! to the Homecoming Variety Show, to be held on Friday, November 19 at 8:00 p.m. in Marian Auditorium. Admission will be 75¢ per person. Approximately 12 acts will be presented, mainly by students with a few by alumni.

The Bowery Boys -- Dan Lamba, Tim Farrel, and Tony Paulette, all 1970 graduates of Marian -- will be Masters of Ceremonies and add their talents to the evening.

New Club Formed

Jane Peck and Pam Murray will serve as co-chairmen of Marian College Psychology Club for the 1971-72 year. The Psychology Club, developed by the co-chairmen, is the newest club to have its constitution approved by the Student Board, Social Council, and Dean Brames. The first of the club's activities is a movie entitled 'Bedlam' and scheduled for Dec. 14. The film deals with the conditions of mental institutions in England. Future plans for the club include a panel on homosexuality later this year. A membership drive will be underway shortly to sign up anyone who might be interested in psychology as an academic or leisure interest.

Marian College Hosts Guatemalan Students

Under the coordination of Sr. Mary Edgar Meyer, Marian is again participating in a student exchange program with Rafael Landivir University in Guatemala. Guatemalan students come here during their summer vacation which begins in October. Marian students go there in June and July. This year four students will be here on campus for a seven week period. They are: Argentina Fernandez, Anna Maria Escobedo, Marta Soledad Garcia Escobar, and Carol Ebeni.

While here the four students will be granted the same privileges as any other Marian student. They may visit or attend any classes of their choice and attend any social and cultural functions that they desire. Each student will reside with a local family.

The objectives of the program are two-sided, that is they are the same for the Guatemalans attending Marian and the Marian students visiting Guatemala. This program gives the participants a chance to learn the language of the foreign country and thus to speak it more fluently and at the same time develop a sense of that country's way of life. Cultural enrichment is developed and places of historic and cultural interest become familiar.

YEAR OF THE KNIGHTS

Take five returning lettermen, sprinkle with desire and determination and put them under the watchful eyes of Coach Ed Schilling and you have the recipe for the 1971-72 edition of the Marian Knights basketball team.

These are the ingredients needed to produce a successful cage campaign, and Marian fans are confident the approaching season is going to be the 'year of the Knights.' Included among the five returning letter winners are three starters from last year's crew. Add three other last season performers, two of whom lettered, and the outlook brightens considerably.

Coach Schilling, in his first year here at Marian, sums up the individual squad members in the following way.

TED CANFIELD - "Ted will be one of our starting guards and is the only senior on the team. He's a real strong defensive player, one of our best, and is rapidly improving in the other parts of the game as well."

PAT MURPHY - "Pat's a player who always gives it all he's got. A real fine scrapper and hard worker who's not afraid to get in there and mix it up, 'Murph' will always be ready when he's called on."

GREG PAWLIK - "Greg won't be a starter, but is a real valuable asset to the team as his constant hustle and hard work keeps the other players on their toes. The Grand Rapids veteran is a real good rebounder and will see considerable playing time."

BILL SMITH - "Smitty is one of our co-captains this year and we expect good things from him. Our offense is geared to him so he'll get a fair amount of points. He has done a tremendous job of accepting the responsibility of being co-captain and really gets things done."

JOHN SPRINGMAN - "John is our other co-captain and he too has accepted the role as a club leader. A real exciting type of player who's constantly moving, he'll be the quarterback of our offense and will probably get a ton of assists because of his selfishness."

JIM APKE - "Jim, the tallest Knight at 6'8½", made a tremendous improvement in his game over the summer. With his size he could go a long way as he has the physical ability if he can get some confidence in himself."

EARL BRINKER - "Earl, who saw varsity playing time as a frosh last year, never complains but just goes out and does the job. He's a real fine shot, especially from the corner, and could be a key if the right situation arises."

RICK EBINGER - "Rick is our insurance policy. He's our sixth man only because only five can play at a time. A great leaper who can really sky, Rick is a shot blocker who'll see much action and is sure to thrill the crowds with his tremendous moves."

MARK GAYER - "Mark is the purest shooter on the team but needs some work on defense and ball handling. I'm real pleased with the way Mark has come along and I'm sure he'll be a great help against zones because of his exceptional accuracy."

But there's more to the Knight team. Student managers Rick Foxen and Mark Mauer have done a great job of keeping equipment clean and that sort of thing. And then there's the assistant coaches. Lynn Morrell, who works with the guards and handles the press and zone defense assignments, is a very competent and level headed person. Mike Riessen, coach of the B squad, is in the process of learning but he has also contributed to the effort.

Schilling also had praise for all time coaching great Cleon Reynolds "He's given us a lot of cooperation and shown a great interest as well."

One thing the team needs but can't provide is student support. The program is for the students and part of the collegiate experience. The interest

JOE WADE - "Joe is our returning center who, like Apke, has made a tremendous improvement and is dedicated to improving even more. He has a fine touch from the foul line and is strong on the boards. Joe is the bruiser on our team and will be tough to handle."

AL GLAZE - "Allen, only a freshman, plays a good all around game as he is super quick and has a fine shot. All he needs is experience and he could be an outstanding player as he'll improve as time goes on."

shown by students has a positive effect on the players and spurs them on to greater heights.

So this is it. When Smith, Springman, Apke, Canfield, and Wade take to the court, the stage will be set for the 1971-72 season. The year of the Knights.

Playing before a standing room only crowd in spacious Reynolds Fieldhouse, the Marian Knights blazed the nets at a 51% clip to coast past a hapless bunch of netters from St. Francis College.

The Knights, taking to the hardwood for the first time under head mentor Ed Schilling, were higher than a kite from the opening tip-off and zoomed into an early command with Joe Wade and Bill Smith leading the way. Wade tallied the first point of the year on a free throw and Smith dumped in several fielders to lead the home team to an 11-2 lead in the first five minutes of the contest. Then Ted Canfield and John Springman found the range and together with Smith's continued hot hand charged the Knights into a 24-8 lead with 8 minutes left in the half. But then everyone started to get in the act. Jim Apke and Rick Ebinger hit buckets, Al Glaze connected for a pair, and Pat Murphy, Greg Pawlik, Mark Gayer, and Earl Brinker contributed points to up the scrappy Knights' margin to 42-26 at half.

The Knights came back after intermission aggressive and hungry; Smith hit a pair, Springman, Wade and Apke followed suit and for all practical purposes the game was decided. Ebinger, Pawlik, Murphy, and Glaze then led a charge which almost blew the visitors out off the gym as the Knights played with reckless abandon and fire in their eyes to up the tally to 73-49 with 6 minutes left. Gayer, Brinker, and Byron Walker continued to pour it on, much to the delight of the highly partisan and vocal crowd, and the good guys wound up with a 86-65 score.

The statistics are evident of the superiority displayed by the Knights throughout the contest. They outrebounded the visitors 69-40 and had 20 assists. Earl 'the pearl' Brinker led the way with 10 rebounds and Wade and Apke grabbed 9 apiece. The 20 assists piled up by the Knights is apparent of the usefulness on the squad. Super quick Springman, who made some fine passes and thrilled the crowd with his adept ball handling, and Wade, had 4 to lead this well-balanced department.

One department the Knights made a poor showing in was at charity strips as they connected on only 12 of 28 for a cool 43%. But the fine 51% from the field, led by Wade's 5 for 7, Smith's 8 for 14, and Ebinger's 4 for 5, was more than enough to offset the weak free throw performance.

Smith led the scoring parade with 19 markees, Wade contributed 11, and Glaze and Ebinger dumped in 10 to give the locals four men in double figures and Schilling his initial victory in the collegiate coaching ranks.

A definite factor in the victory was the spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the huge crowd. The vocal support drummed up by a fine and pretty bunch of cheerleaders, along with a very loud and much improved pep band under the direction of John Sweany, put the finishing touch on a perfect season opener.

GREG RODICK

Freshman Greg Rodick is already making a name for himself at Marian as a talented musician and composer. The South Bend native is technical director of the Homecoming Talent Show in addition to his scheduled performance of original songs.

Greg's guitar and singing act results from seven years of practice and performance. While at La Salle High School he was instrumental in forming the "We Together" singers, a group of seventy young people who performed concerts and entertained for different groups. "We recorded two albums. The second album, 'Pass It On, did extremely well," Greg commented.

Composing has always been Greg's interest. Although his current ambition is to compose a Mass, he has not crystallized its theme and music yet. "I have written one song 'Together for Life' for a friend's wedding," he explained. Since coming to Marian, Greg's college choice because of its "prospect for financial aid and personal atmosphere," he hasn't written any other songs. This situation will be remedied, however, in time for the Talent Show. "I'm working on some folk-type songs for Friday night," he added, admitting that the best songs are those composed at the spur of the moment and in one writing."

Greg has long-range plans for his musical talents, saying "Recording is my ambition, but the chances at this time are vague." In the meantime a career in social work or psychology is Greg's choice of study at Marian.

Besides competing in intramural football in his free time, Greg likes to travel to small towns "just for the hell of it." His solitary road trips have carried him all over the Mid-West.

BICYCLE BOUTING

Bicycle Bouting has become a Homecoming pastime for many students. Four stationery bicycles (one for each class) have been placed in the Perc. These bikes have odometers on them to measure the number of miles pedalled. This marathon, which began Monday morning at 8:30, and was scheduled to continue until 11:00 p.m. Wednesday, ended yesterday at 2:35 p.m. due to technical difficulties. The Freshmen pedalled the largest number of miles.

PIG-MANIA ! PIG-MANIA!

by Ken Aust

Being one of over 300 freshmen attending Marian College, I, as possibly some of my classmates do, sometimes wonder what this place of higher education has to offer the student body in the way of social activities, holidays, and events in general.

There have been a few dances, several worthwhile Coffee House Shows, and I also recall the recent "Beer Blast" which may have been the most outstanding single event this year. Some descriptive words might be fire, flurry, delirium, hysteria, sensationalism, intoxication and nausea. All non-drinkers (including myself for the most part) eat your hearts out!

But was it really thrilling? Much to my dissatisfaction I haven't heard of anything really big around here . . . until now!

Well . . . maybe it isn't a national or even a Catholic holiday, but today is something out of the ordinary, to say the least. How many colleges do you know that have an annual "Pig Day." Congratulations Marian College - you've done it again!

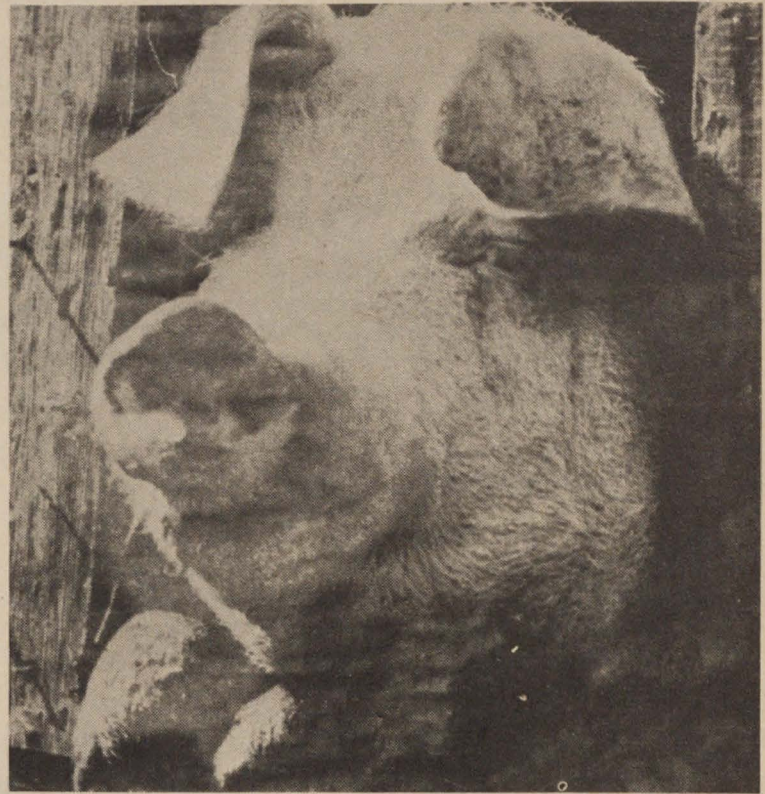

Before going any further with this ridiculous sarcasm of those little creatures that go "Oink, Oink," possibly a few of the readers would like to know just exactly what "Pig Day" at Marian College is or is not. I can only imagine what some of MC's intellectuals might be thinking now.

First of all, "Pig Day" is not a day set aside to honor the city of Indianapolis Police Force for its brilliant service to Marian College, although we do appreciate its help.

Nor is it the day the Indiana farmers bring their best hogs--Hampshire, Yorkshire(?), Thoroughbred(?) or whatever they are--to our campus for a special showing, with typical prizes: First place--$10 and ribbon, Second place--$5 and certificate, Third place--hand shake from judge.

After making several phone calls to some distinguished upperclassmen, I found out that "Pig Day" was a well kept secret. One male sophomore was not at his room on three different occasions, one male junior had a rough day Thursday and was in bed at 8 p.m. and my last resort, a female senior, no answer.

Finally the pieces started to fall in place. The male junior woke up and gave me the name of another female senior, the committee chairman of the Pink Pig Contest, who let the cat, or shall I say pig, out of the bag.

Here are the facts, "to the nearest degree of uncertainty" (to paraphrase Professor Schultz).

Pig Day is an annual event sponsored by the Marian College Booster Club for the enjoyment of the student body. Two contests--Pink Pig and Greased Pig are featured. Each class--freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior--is a team and the object is to score more points than the opponents.

But how are the points scored? Simple . . . each class owning a pig at the end of the day gets 2 points for each pig. The class with the most pigs (or most points) will be declared the winner by Booster Club judges. The winning class will be presented a beautiful hand-carved wooden paddle (made in Chicago) at the MC Variety Show Friday, November 19.

Ten selected students from each of the four classes and all Booster Club members have Pink Pigs in their possession.

In phase one of Pig Day, opponents may use bribes of any sort, but no physical force, to gain possession of these invaluable pigs.

Phase two--the Greased Pig contest--has somewhat of a more physical nature about it, but it will all depend on the mood of the greased pigs.

At 3:30 p.m. TODAY at Potter's Field (please note: it is the baseball-football field) two representatives from each class will have a race against time, attempting to load two greased swines into a pick-up truck.

Point breakdown for the contest is: First--seven points, second--five, third--three and one--one.

The Booster Club judges will then tally the total class points and will announce the winning class and make the presentation Friday night.

Pig Day is complete except for one final problem. Why is the top honor of this sacred affair a wooden paddle? I found the answer in a conversation with the committee chairman, who commented, "We wanted something different."

Who will get the paddle? Who will go down in Marian College history as the 1971 winners of the annual "Pig Day" award? Let's Go Freshmen! Fate is calling us!

HOT PANTS CONTEST

The Hot Pants Contest will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. No admission charge!

The contest is open to any girl attending Marian. Approximately 25 Marian Maids will be competing for this first at Marian. Judging will be done by a panel of students--4 males and 2 females. Contestants will be judged on their outfit, the appearance of the outfit on them, posture, and audience response. A $5.00 gift certificate will be awarded as first prize.

Affirm Yourself

"The return of a group of people to a place formerly frequented or regarded as home; an occasion for or celebration of such a return." Thus Webster clearly defines Homecoming - an annual event for visiting alumni.

In high schools and colleges across the country, though, Homecoming is dealt with in a broader context than just the above definition. Of course, the alumni are still honored, but more than that, festivities are accentuated for those presently within the institution's structure. Therefore, I would redefine Homecoming here at Marian as a "week of events intended to renew the spirit of the school and community."

Participation in the various events of this week here at Marian symbolizes a common spirit among all, a spirit of community. Various activities, unusual yet yearly here at Marian, are sponsored by the Booster Club. For many, the only significance of the tricycle race will be the realization of "the thing in itself" only. Understanding the reasoning for such a ridiculous action will be their vocalized problem, for which I doubt they'll ever get a sufficient explanation. Then there are those who will continually probe to find the deeply significant psychological and/or philosophical implications in the bicycle marathon. I think that these intellectuals will suffer a frustration syndrome for I see no such deep psychological or philosophical roots to these events. And of course, as with everything happening at Marian, there will be those who will just criticize and complain from the first Homecoming event - crowning of the queen - until only God knows when!

Thus many fail to visualize any spirit in Homecoming Week. Hopefully these people will gradually focus their intellects on that which is the real nature of this week. I can only add my personal feelings - that Homecoming Week is not just a week of carefree, spirited events, but also an affirmation of one's positive relationship with other members of our community. It is a time when we seek involvement with others here on campus.

So let the spirit of Homecoming move us, each in our own way, yet in a humanistic and optimistic way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Back home again in Indiana - a familiar, almost trite phrase, but one with real substance when one has been away for longer than he really wanted.

While it is true, Naptown is not the axis of our planet, there are many familiarities which we associate with it that lead us back. The friends, the places, the good times - they all have a common basis in Indianapolis.

For Betsy and I, this is a period of rediscovery and reacquaintance, as we are back at least for a while and picking up the trials leading toward those friends, places, and memories of the good times. I have separated from the Air Force after four years and I am now back with the family after my last tour in Turkey where the family was not permitted to accompany me.

While catching up with Jennifer Lyn (our 18-month old daughter), I am enjoying the thrill of seeing our three-month old Susan Kathleen growing up. Add to this our Siamese cat and her month-old litter and we have a space problem in our apartment.

A new "civilian life-style," complete with a position in the marketing department at Insurance Company of North America's local service office, is a challenging but very satisfying experience.

We are looking forward to picking up the loose ends time and distance have caused. A pleasant and congenial opportunity will be used this week-end at Marian's 1971 Homecoming. There will be new stories and new accomplishments told, as the many tales lost in the web of time will be presented in an atmosphere of friendship bonded by a common starting point - Marian College. We'll be there - hope to see you, too.

Future Members of MCAA:

Homecoming '71 just doesn't begin and end during the week of November 15 through 21. It involves a full year of preparation and planning.

During this past year we, along with Roger Branigan, Booster Club and other student representatives, have evaluated all the aspects associated with this annual event. This included a review of failures as well as our successes.

We are certain this year will be a success and this involves, of course, the efforts of all associated with Marian College. Your ideas and comments concerning this important event are always welcome.

I am looking forward to the busy HOMECOMING Week on campus and hope to have an opportunity to meet and become better acquainted with more future alumni.

Good luck on a great week,

J. Ronald Strange '64
President of the Marian College Alumni Association

To The Students Of Marian College

In today's world of computer and management efforts to obtain full utilization of every working minute, a study was conducted by the firm of Speed, Rush, and Collapse, Efficiency Consultants, to determine the most common excuses given by employees for their blunders and resultant loss of time.

The study found that 13 "excuses" accounted for almost all those heard by management. The firm of Speed, Rush, and Collapse noted that additional time was lost by the employees having to state his excuse and the employer having to listen to it. Numbers were assigned by the firm, therefore, to each excuse so that time is no longer wasted on explanations. The employee merely states the number assigned to the excuse he chooses to explain his mistake. The system has become standard operating procedure for many companies. In order that you may be prepared in advance and gain an advantage over alumni from other institutions, I am submitting the list below for your commitment to memory;

- 1) That's the way we've always done it.
- 2) I didn't know you were in a hurry for it.
- 3) That's not in my department.
- 4) No one told me to go ahead.
- 5) I.
- 5) I'm waiting for an O.K.
- 6) How did I know this was different?
- 7) That's his job -- not mine.
- 8) Wait until the boss comes back and asks him.
- 9) I forgot.
- 10) I didn't think it was very important.
- 11) I was so busy I just couldn't get around to it.
- 12) I thought I told you.
- 13) I wasn't hired to do that.

Efficiency Consultants, also made a survey of the most common employer response to each of these excuses. In most situations, there was only one -- "You're fired!"

Welcome !

The Marian College Phoenix extends a hearty welcome to four Guatemalan students who are visiting our campus. In the next six weeks I am sure they will have acquired an impression of Americans and American life, for good or ill, that will be carried back to their native country.

The time-worn cliché that the world is getting smaller is believable if one considers jet travel and high speed communications. But the proposition that tolerance and good will is expanding at a proportionate rate may not be equally evincible. However, the opportunity to take part in such expansion of good will should be most effective in a college atmosphere where people are eager to share cultural experiences and achievements. Through student exchange programs one can feel the pulse of the nations of the world, hopefully maintaining a lifeblood of communication. We can begin sharing this with our newest guests. To Carol Ebeni, Marta Garcia-Escobar, Argentina Fernandez and Anna Maria Escobeda - Bienvenido!

Attention Freshman

To All Freshman Students:

During the week of November 27 (week following Thanksgiving vacation) opportunities will be given to freshmen to take the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) tests for possible advanced placement and/or college credit. Tests will be available in the following areas of the General Examinations: Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences and Social Sciences. These General Examinations are multiple-choice tests, each requiring a 75-minute working time limit.

Three to six semester credit hours will be granted for each of the 4 tests of the General Examinations in which a CLEP score comparable to a C average or above is attained. Credits gained through the exams may be used to fulfill General Education requirements.

A testing schedule will be posted a week prior to the test. Freshmen interested in taking one or more of the tests are asked to sign up in the office of the Academic Dean's secretary no later than 4:30 today. For further information please contact Sister M. Norma.

Lords New Intramural Champs

And now there is one. After two months of head to head combat on the gridiron, a new champion has emerged victorious to claim the title. This new champion is the Vice Lords, a dedicated and spirited bunch who would not be denied the crown. They are a team in the true sense of the word, a number of persons working together to accomplish a common purpose. The common purpose which they accomplished was the Intramural Football Championship for 1971.

The weather was perfect, the fans were plenty, and excitement was high as the time of the big game approached. Pomp and grandeur was the order of the day as is evident by the color guard and announcement of players before the game. With tension in the air the crowd hushed for the playing of our national anthem. It was now or never for the Vice Lords and Wild Bunch.

The Wild Bunch received the kickoff and Kenny Tyrrell, leading his team to the championship game for the second straight year, teamed up on a pass with Jerry Whalen that carried to the 47. But the Vice Lords stopped a fourth down run that gave them the ball. Whalen promptly swiped a Dan Branigan pass to give the Bunch the ball back and great field position on the 26. Tyrrell hit wide receiver Terry Smith at the two and it looked like the Bunch was in business. Jim Leugers momentarily set the Bunch back as he nailed the scrambling quarterback for a 9 yard loss. But a crucial pass interference put the ball right back on the two and made it first and goal. Right here is when the game turned around.

The gutty Lord defense refused to yield as twice Russ Pawlack blew through gaping holes in the Bunch line to nail a bewildered Tyrrell. Jim Leugers did likewise and when a fourth down pass went incomplete the Lords took over on the 22.

Then came the biggest play of the season. Branigan hit Dave Jongleaux with a screen pass, and before the Bunch defense could react, the talented receiver was three steps beyond the defensive backs. These three steps quickly grew to 10 yards as, super fast Jongleaux sped 78 yards down the sideline for the first touchdown. Paul Gerth passed to Jay Earrell for the extra point and it was 7-0.

Paul Broxterman made a spectacular play as he leaped high in the air to block the ensuing kickoff and give the Bunch fine field position at the 50. But this valiant effort went for naught as Farrell made a brilliant over the shoulder interception of a Mike Mills pass. Mills was operating at quarterback because of an injury which kept Tyrrell from being able to do the job.

There were a few anxious moments following Farrell's interception as Jerry Leugers, throwing a great block that sprung Farrell loose for extra yardage, appeared to be seriously injured. But the spirited Sophomore only had the wind knocked out of him and left the field under his own power.

Branigan lofted a pass to Pawlack which carried to mid field with time running out in the half. Then came the play that broke the Wild Bunch's back. On the final play Branigan, behind fine protection from John Smith and Farrell, hit Jongleaux with a bomb as he smoked the defensive secondary and rocketed 50 yards to pay dirt before an unbelieving crowd. Mike Mottram stopped the point after but it was 13-0 at intermission.

The demoralized Bunch kicked off to start the second half. Dale Hemmelgarn then led a ferocious charge which forced the Lords to turn over the ball. But the Bunch offense couldn't move again and were forced to punt. Hank Ahaus trapped Jongleaux at the 30 but Branigan alternated tosses between Jongleaux and Farrell to move the Lords down the field. Farrell, who played a tremendous game both offensively and defensively, made a diving catch near the goal but an alert Terry Smith picked off a Branigan toss to keep the Lords from scoring. Mills, trying to put points on the board, was intercepted by Farrell to once again give the Lords the ball. Branigan then led a time consuming drive down the field but Hemmelgarn trapped him for a loss to force a Jongleaux field goal try. The attempt, from the 34 yard line, was plenty long but just a shade off to the left.

The gutty Tyrrell, once again taking over at quarterback despite his injury, zipped perfectly thrown tosses to Mills and Whalen to move his team down the field. But the drive stalled and the Lords ran out the clock to make history.

Not many people believed the Lords would win, except the ones that really mattered, the Lords themselves. They proved the theory that being up for a game and believing in yourself is just as important as ability. Not that the Lords didn't have ability. You have to have ability to win despite injuries to star players like John Purcell and Bob Morse. But the biggest thing the Lords had going for them was their spirit and enthusiasm, two factors which turned the tide against seemingly better opponents.

So ends another season of exciting intramural football. Many thanks to the people who made the program so successful, especially Kenny Tyrrell, who did such a wonderful job of setting the program, and referees Roger Branigan, Mike Eimer, Greg Pawlik and Pat Murphy. The countless hours of organization these people provided many a memory that will not soon be forgotten by the participants.

HOT NUTS 13

NADS 12

In a battle of the winless, the Nads proved their superior ineptness by falling to the Nuts 13-12.

Ken Aust hit Fran Ketter and Coyt Walters with touchdown passes early in the game and Walters added an extra point to give the Nuts their 13 points. Tom Babione zipped scoring strikes to Tony Fornuto twice and it was 13-12. But Stan Bobowsky was stopped by Mike Stewart on the crucial extra point and it ended 13-12.

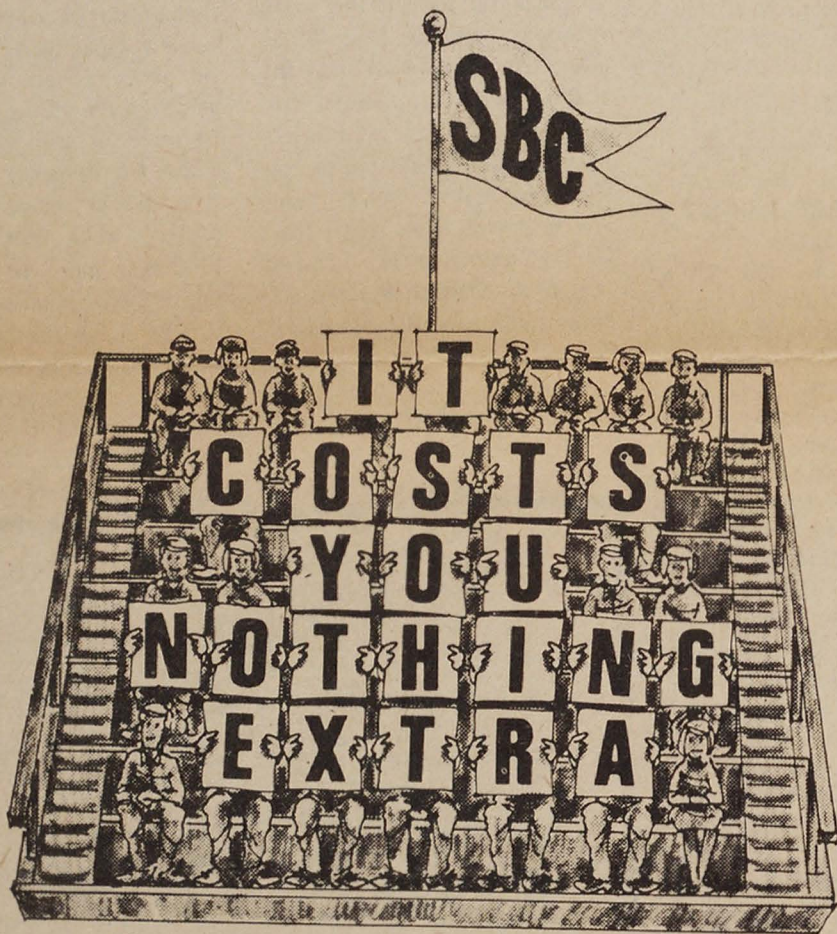

Kuzmitz, Thezen and Isban sparked the Nuts while Bovard, Gallas and McNimery led the Nads.

Three Team Tie

A major upset in last Wednesday night's intramural volleyball games has produced a three-way tie for first place. The Raggedy Anns, previously undefeated and sole holders of first place, were defeated by the Marian Nighty Nights in three close and nerve-racking games. This now puts the Raggedy Anns, the Nighty Nights, and the Staff Germs in first place with 11-1 records.

In the other contests, the Blackouts shaded the Untouchables, the East Wing Ding-a-Lings won by forfeit over Act III, Green House Netters won their third game of the season by defeating the Snatches, the Peons won over the Bugaloos, the Mountain Mamas towered over the First Four Farts, and the Knuckleheads overpowered the Philosophical Beings. The Blue Yarn attempted to oust the Staff Germs from their position. However, after playing three well-fought games, the Germs were victorious.
