FROM THE EDITORS:

I've been approached by officers from many of the organizations on campus requesting that all students join at least one club. Don't be afraid! The clubs on campus provide activities and projects which are both fun and rewarding.

I'm one such apathetic person who finally got involved - now that I'm in my senior year. I've no excuse for my previous actions, but, I find working on the CARBON therapeutic in that I have a diversion from classes, books, studying, etc. And, I feel that working in the capacity of the co-editor to be rewarding because I am providing a service to this community.

So think about the clubs - check this week's CARBON for times, places, etc. of meeting to be held next week. For the person who wrote the article about dating as a spectator sport - why not try joining a club or organization on campus? You will meet people and work with people you never come in contact with in class or at social activities. You'll broaden your outlook and this may be appealing to others. So try it. You many like it and may appreciate yourself a little more.

DOYLE HALL MINUTES...

A Doyle Hall Officers meeting was held on Aug. 23. This year's officers are - Pres. NICK FOHL, Vice Pres. BOB FREESE, Treas. GREG HORTEMILLER, Sec. MIKE HELMS, with DAN STOCKWELL R.D. being our advisor.

Election of Hall Representatives are to be conducted by the R'A. on that floor. The rep. then becomes a member of the Doyle Hall Council. If interested in running please notify your R.A.

Due to the massive loss of equipment a new system is being set up for lending it out. If you have any suggestions on something new to buy slip a note under Dan's door.

Doyle and Clare Halls are sponsoring a picnic at Eaglecreek Park. Watch the bulletin boards for more info.

The stereo speakers will be put back up in the lobby soon. Suggestions were given on ways to keep them from getting ripped off again.

Dan said he would like to see Doyle sponsor around three programs per semester. Some of the ideas brought up were: coffeehouse, haunted house, disco, banana split party, massage parlor, and be Dean Woodman for a day. We are still open for any suggestions.

If you have not paid your dues they will be collected door-to-door. The dues are $5.00 per year. You cannot use any equipment unless you have paid them.

General dorm damage and repair or lack of it was discussed along with health and fire inspection of the rooms. There will probably be three announced inspections of the room to make sure that your room is not a fire trap or a roach motel. During these inspections all desks not in the walls could mean a possible fine. When the desks are not attached the unsupported end warps down pulling the nails out of the opposite end. Word has it that maintenance is working on a support leg but until then - desk in the wall.

MANASA MEETING.....

Last Tuesday, August 29, MANASA held its first monthly meeting. New members were told about Logansport Toy Shop, which at Christmas time shares the joy of Christmas with patients at Logansport Hospital. This is MANASA's big project and we will have money drives for this purpose.

Also explained was the regular volunteer programs. These programs include: visiting at Indiana Girls School Correctional Facility, working at Noble I school for pre-school aged retarded children or Noble II for trainable adults.

We forgot to mention them at the meeting, but Veterans Hospital is another place in need of help. Working at V.A. is as varied as the volunteers. One can serve working as a diet aid, helping in occupational therapy, typing and filing jobs, or visiting a lonely person.

For further info about volunteering, call Nancy Smith, ext. 429 or Martha Schmitt, ext. 523.

DATING CAN WAIT?!

Hey gang! Have you heard about the growing popularity of Marian's favorite sport? It's at it's peak excitement now- the start of a new season. It's a great feeling seeingthe new participants side by side with the veterans. The rookies looked good at the pre-season scrimmage in the old mixed lounge on Aug. 20th, but little progress has been made since then, as the 2 teams, the Foxes and the Wolves have kept to their home fields. Evem when the preseason training camp appears promising, veterans know better than to expect a winning season.

So out come the old tally sheets, ready at the slightest wink of an eye to record batting averages. In their enthusiasm some spectators confuse high scorers with good players, but it's general knowledge that the MVP award goes to the best all-around player. Unfortunately, the spectators and the media watch the game from poor vantage points and call the plays incorrectly.

Ringside seats in the Caf are available on a first come, first serve basis. But a word of warning... looks can be deceiving. One wrong report can ruin a potentially good play.

Why be an arm chair player when there's plenty of room on the field?

TO THE SOPHOMORE CLASS:

Several Freshman including myself were upset with the lack of participation on your part, concerning slave day. We felt left out of the event which took place that day. I understand that some Masters had 3 to 4 slaves, but what about those that failed to sigh up?

In order that Marian continues as a friendly community, I feel that participation should be stressed.

So what is your excuse???

LET'S MEET DAN.....

It's the beginning of the school year when things are busy and heavy at the offices at Marian. But Mr. Dan Stockwell our new R.D. at Doyle Hall managed to squeeze me in for a short informative interview.

Dan Key Stockwell is from Reno, Nevada. He graduated from the University of Denver with a major in Sociology and a minor in Psychology. During and after his studies Dan was preparing and training himself for a life dedicated to the service of young students. He was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega during his student days at the University and in 1974 was elected President of that Fraternity. In that capacity he had organized membership recruitment and orientation, facilitated leadership and goal setting for fellow officers, and responsible for $35,000 annual budget. He also was the Treasurer of the Interfraternity Council at the U of D.

During his sophomore, junior and senior years he did not let the summers pass by without fun. He was an orientation leader of the summer orientation and registration programme at U of Denver. He was responsible for the initial orientation to university residence hall life, introduction to academic disciplines. He also received a fellowship to attend a programme in professional development for Fraternity Advisors at IUPUI. Order of Omega honored him for the outstanding contributions to the Fraternity System at the university.

Before joining the U of Denver Dan had had some experience as a Radio announcer over the KSRN radio Reno, Nevada and as a radio advertising salesman. After graduating Dan worked as a co-ordinator of Fraternity Affairs at Albion College where he was responsible for advising 6 college-owned Frat houses. His administrative duties included fraternity related programming, planning, and implementation. He also advised Interfraternity Council, coordinated routine maintenance, provided personal and academic counselling for fraternity members, and also advised and trained Interfraternity Council Judicial System. He was functioning in this capacity till he came to Marian. Mr. Stockwell seems to be well stocked for the job he has undertaken at Marian.

When asked about his first impression of Marian, he answered "The people and students are very friendly." What do you think about the rules and regulations? "Well at Denver we did not have as many restrictions, there was 24 hr. visitation, alcohol was allowed."

Do you think Marian should relax the rules? "No, the rules at Marian are very good. I think more schools should get back to strict rules. At Marian you find the necessary ingredients for leadership. This is what most big schools are lacking today. Big institutions offer a great variety of courses but not the type of leadership that Marian does."

What do you think is the cause of this? (He paused for a while, lit his pipe, and puffed a few clouds of smoke which filled the room with a rich roasted tobacco aroma.) "Personally, yeh, I think I would get into the bandwagon with the majority and say it's the T.V." So you think mass media is having an adverse effect on the youth? "Yah, people want instant solution to their problems. There is no way you can call the Bionic Woman or Wonder Woman to solve the problem. People are living in a world of illusion. They are not willing to face reality."

During the final session of this interesting discussion I asked how he felt about the R.A.s "They are great. I am looking forward to a great year." How do you feel about the students? "I think they feel a need for the smooth running of affairs here." Finally, Mr. Stockwell, I remember you mentioning that you would be a student like us soon. "Yes, I may go to IUPUI to do my Masters in Student Personnel Administration."

Dan, we wish you all the best. Hope you make it to the Dean's chair someday!

WHAT DO YOU DO WITH 2 DESKS IN YOUR TUB??

I've been told that we cannot move any furniture out of our rooms this year. The bathtub is the only place for the extra desks. I know a lot of furniture was lost last year, but seeing as maintenance was supposed to keep an eye on the unwanted furniture, I see the problem as their fault. So why should we suffer because of the maintenance dept.? I know others who would like to move furniture out too. I think we should be allowed to have our rooms the way we want them. After all, we are paying enough for the room.

A Concerned Student

P.S. On top of all of this. Our dressers don't match and look very tacky.
