

SLO-THE DYING

We proudly announce the CARBON queen.. May 25, 1966

THE VIEW FROM HERE...

The CARBON moves away from its weekly salutes of the institution to direct its commendations at an individual. John Harkins came to Marian last year to assist Mr. Reynolds with the baseball program. The situation of the field faintly resembled a Little League farm system and Mr. Harkins has taken firm control of its revival.

Coach Harkins displays a greater concern for the individual than the institution, a fading quality at the collegiate level. He seeks the best for the athlete and goes to great length to see that he gets it. For John Harkins believes that Marian College is comprised of individuals and the development of the school will depend on these individuals.

Marian embarks on an impressive development program. Athletics can play a decisive role. We hope the school will carefully evaluate the worth of sports. Properly conducted, the wealth is immeasurable. For Mr. Harkins winning is of great importance. Some people seek to de-emphasize the place victory holds. John Harkins is tired of losing; I'm tired of losing; and I hope you're tired too. Marian should worry about winning. Perhaps, in the Coach's own words, "The spirited student is the one who complains."

L.S.

THE POOL HAS BEEN GROOMED AND CLEANED

The powers of the pump house on the Stokely Van Campus have decided to fill the pool now that exams are on the way. Take a flag and take a dip.

This year Marineland of the Midwest features fifty extra gallons of chlorine so the Clare Hall skinny dippers can maintain their lily-white exteriors, as opposed to interiors. A diving board will be installed on the brick temple ray porch for girls proficient in long dives. Admission is nil this year courtesy of the great god of water, the Student Board.

Today is opening day, provided everybody brings a glass of water. Appearing today, and today only, in a Groom and Clean Mermaid outfit will be Cleon Reynolds, the Chicken of the Sea.

JOH

MAY THE GREAT GOD OF APPENDICITIS --- SHINE DOWN ON YOU

Probably the biggest fiasco of "final week" since someone in the higher echelon shelved the "Five Hundred" is the Thursday all day classes just before the Friday all day finals. Friday means fish as well as finals, and this week the fish may be more tolerable than the finals. One remedy would be to go Big U and devote Thursday to study only minus classes, minus meetings and minus opinion polls. After all, on Friday none of the profs and profettes will care if there are nude statues on campus.

MKBL

FACULTY SALUTE OR EVERYBODY MUST GET STONED

The latest in a series of campus power plays occurred recently at a secret meeting of the Sisters of Sargent Shriver "Tree" S Spokesman, Sister ME, issued a radical proposal to erect an Andy Warhol fresco of their Sarge by removing the mosaic from the main entrance to Clare Hall. When asked what they intended to do with the bits of marble on the wall, it was intimated that part of it would be placed in the TV Section of the MCML, and the rest would be made into a coffee table.

Always controversial, Sister ME, defied Administration policy against profit making organizations by establishing the Tree S Travel Bureau. The TSTB offers special student trips to Bogata, Columbia; Bogata, Columbia, and Bogata, Columbia. This, however, appears to be a front for something bigger, because probably the most startling aspect of Sister ME's strange life is her now-it-can-be-told involvement in the MC Secret Police. This branch of the Hargrave Securities works under the cover of night, breaking up student riots, ordering disjunctions against skate boards, tracking down anonymous Carbon Contributors. Sister ME is the Fly-By-Night SP Agent stationed in the tiny impressive office of Clare hall. When not playing Marian Matriarch, she can be found autographing pictures with that now infamous quote, "I'm the greatest."

Sister Me's one saving virtue is her interest in peace throughout the world, and it is the Carbon's final wish that she keeps it -- at least until June 4.

SPRUNG SPORTS WRAP-UP

Marian's net men came out on the short end of a 2-6 season record. Two victories were garnered at the expense of Southern Kentucky, both of these 7-0 whitewashes. Returning seniors Larry Ramsey, Bernie Schneider had 7-1 and 4-4 records respectively in their final year.

In one of its better seasons since it got off the tee, M.C.'s linksmen carted off a 5-6 record. Larry Schmalz led the Knight swingers with a 9-2 match record, 75 being his low score of the season. Paul Dynes played his final season.

Our cindermen increased their numbers and events in a building year. Senior Marty Liddy set the pace for the group. Coach Budge has a strong nucleus for bright and speedy future seasons.

With a 5-3 conquest of Butler, adding a bright finish to an otherwise disappointing season, the diamond men ended 3-7 for the year. Heartbreak marred this season as 1-run defeats were consistently plaguing the team. Harry Sanders played his final games, ending sparkling career at Marian.

The Intramural mixed volleyball championship went to the infant Ballers. Field Day's Senior-Faculty game was a real defensive battle with the Seniors edging the pros by 21-17. Danny Bordonet was the winning hurler, replacing Mike May who was suffering from Daymonitis. John D. took the loss for the Faculty.

SPORTS BANQUET AWARDS:

- M.V.P. Basketball - Jim Chase
- Baseball - Larry Hornback
- Golf - Larry Schmalz
- Tennis - Larry Ramsey
- Track - Marty Liddy

THE FINAL - LETTER TO THE EDITOR

OH HARK, FINE EDITOR,

Very much in the news these days is Marian's invincible security guard. We have had one year to adjust to the changes brought on by new regulations and an expanded Student Personnel office operation. Still, troubles come and go with regularity. What's the problem? Are 800 students wrong in their general activity? Let's look at some of these dreadful true stories: students are actually complaining because the college patrol car regularly takes up two parking spaces in the junior lot; students are bothered because this same car seemingly cannot go the right direction on a one-way road; a student was shocked because a gun was pulled on him when he couldn't produce an ID card at 2 AM in the men's dorm while dressed in his PJ's and robe; a parking violation was sighted at 7:30 PM on a Saturday evening for taking up two spaces in a 60 space lot which had six cars in it; a side door is open for entrance into the mixed lounge when the front doors have always been used before (this operation is done correctly one day a week, Sunday); last but not least, the courteous, helpful reception of campus visitors by our security force is a widely publicized attraction.

Is the lack of communication hampering the efforts of this security force in carrying out his duties? Are there too many bosses? Is expansion always this trying to a defenseless student body? Let us hope that proper steps can be taken to clear up this situation, for the respect of police officials is a necessary part of law enforcement. The situation on this campus is visibly strained. How about somebody somehow releasing some of that tension, so that the cooperative, friendly spirit that has pervaded the Marian College tradition may prosper, rather than submit to mass irresponsibility.

Jerry Traub

PS -

Those chains on the rear door of Clare Hall are still there. A casual phone call to the Fire Marshall might help to correct this situation.

THIS CARBON WAS TYPED BY...
MISSES S. MOTTA AND D. LEATHERS

THE SKY SPY

CH's bouncing beauties ascended to their outdoor Ivory Tower overlooking fabulous Indianapolis. Our Sky Harbor correspondent noted:

- ...Annette Luty in a black swimsuit trying to conceal the fact that she was getting a tan.
- ...June Obert looking cold in a blue-white checked two piece.
- ...Sue Smith in a kind of dark-brown-grayish suit with a white triangle on her head.
- ...Bulging Brewer in a pink and white two piece.
- ...Joyce Sputzmuller in a mix and match.
- ...Nettie Lowe wasn't there in something less than nothing.
- ...Jane Westerman in an orange ensemble with white insert.
- ...Hubs in Hair rollers, and little else.
- ...and Gayle Steigerwald entertaining the troupes overseas.

THE CARBON HISSES:

Sr. Flo-Marie for two tests the last week.
Sr. Clarence Marie for desecrating nature-- she picks tulips.

THE CARBON APPLAUDS:

Bev Frieje and Matt Schneider.