This weekend at 8:00 p.m. in the MH auditorium "Midsummer's Night Dream" will be presented. I've been to the rehearsals and it really looks good so don't miss it. Southeastern Asia expert Girvan Griffith will head an informal discussion on Viet-Nam today at 1:30 in room 314. A time to say it like it is. But the big event today is the fantastic, stupendous UPBEAT CARE-A-THON which will be held in the perc from 8:30 a.m. to 2:00 a.m. Saturday morning. It's going to be a complete affair with all sorts of goings on. All donations go towards having underpriviledged children attend classes here during the summer. Please help - the money is needed and you're sure to have a good time. Stop by after the play and say hello. (CONT. BELOW)

SATURDAY is the long-awaited-for Frosh Class Street Carnival from 12:00 to 5:00 on the East side of MARIAN Hall, you can't miss it. It's a guaranteed fun-fling for all - to pretend you're a teeny-bopper again and ride the Merry-go-round. Frosh are one up this time. Anyway, stop by and try your luck at the booths. From 6:00 to 11:00 there will be a dance recital (?) in the SAC auditorium and classrooms 2 and 3. Don't ask me. SUNDAY, pray day, is also art day. There will be a festival sponsored by the Art Club from

WALK ON THE GRASS DON'T

(CONT.) 12:00 to 5:00 at the Music Building Walk-Way. All kinds of things to look at and buy if you wish - happy rocks, sad rocks, apathetic rocks, etc. In the meantime, the Home-Ec Club will sponsor a Fashion Show from 2:00 to 4:00 inside the Music Building. Our own future home-makers of America will model their own creations. Such talent we have! MONDAY begins pre-registration for next year's seniors and juniors, lowly underclasskids wait a week. 8:00 brings another Student Board meeting to order in the SIC

TUESDAY is just another day. NEDNESDAY is the nite before Ascension Thursday which means girls will have extended hours. Such kindness is unforgetable! Smashing news - a pool party at the outdoor pool (you can swim, too, says Joe Blakeley) and the newly named "Least of Our Worries" now the fantastic "Jose Squid and His Kerosene Achoo Band" - will entertain with music bubbles live and in color. It's free and starts at 8:00 so come on over and join in the splash.

THURSDAY no classes. The combined Soph-Frosh picnic to Brown County will leave sometime after 8:30. Such punctuality. If you're an upperclassman or just don't plan on going you can go to a lecture at 1:30 in room 207 ven y Poet Theodore R. Weiss. There will be time for questions and discussions.

A look into the future - ne: FRIDAY, May 16, a movie on LSD at 10:30 in MH auditorium and at 8:00 the Doyle Hall film "Hombre" also in MH auditorium.

Girls, let's not forget to tighten our bras and walk straight. And guys, don't forget to wear your t-shirts. For heaven's sake, this is MARIAN COLLEGE! Secyabye

ARKS TO THE EDITOR

Dear CARBON Baby:

Wednesday at 1:00 we find the MARIAN COLLEGE field day events staggering on. While in another part of Indianapolis, home of the "Indy 500" and seat of Midwestern conservatism, 5000 angered students from ISU, Ball State, Purdue and IU (as well as a few concerned students from MARIAN) marched on the Capitol to protest the preposterous fee hike at the state supported schools. The march proceeded in an orderly fashion and served to demonstrate criteria, which they call speaking broadly." the unity of the students on this and many other points. Upon our arrival we were very disturbed to find the governor in self-imposed exile. Ed Whitcomb was "not available." The secretary of state, William Salin, was present, however (Oh tow): Willy continually evaded the critical issues which the protest centered on (a tactic well known to students at MARIAN) and after several minutes of lecturing on the bureaucratic system and democratic process was applauded with the chant "NO MORE BULISHIT!" Ir other words, the ideal of equal education may be strangled in red tape and allowed to die in committee.

Dear Carbon Editor:

I would like to congratulate and thank the Booster Club and Saga Foods for a delicicus picnic lunch on Field Day. Everyone seemed to enjoy it very much - let's have more of that kind of thing.

"...Politicians and intellectuals make a fetish of indecision, which they call openmindedness; of the absence of moral critcria, which they call tolerance; and of the formality--and hence political irrelevance--of the C. Wright Mills

$3.76 an Hour In the past few months Indianapolis has been exposed to many different events that speak of revolution in the American society. David ollinger and Stoughton Lynd have given their views. The Panthers continue to grow. There have been teach-ins, freak-outs, and seminars. Rallies are starting to run their course. A "free press" has been born. The Draft Project and Black organizations continue to preach their messages. While all of these events and organizations do not in reality propagate radical revolutionary action, they are deemed so by the "responsible" citizenry of this community. This viewpoint is brought about by the stereotypic attitude of this city's John Doe. He knows these activities are communist inspired to viclently overthrow the United States government. He knows this because they were tagged this way in every other major city in the country. It's a convenient, reliable excuse. For a great part of our middle class still feels the tremors of fear which stem back to the Joe McCarthy era. We can see signs of a reversion back to this era in the right-wing backlash in the past Presidential election. Could another purge be possible? If President Nixon was re-elected in '72, a few powerful Republicans continued their swing to the right. violent civil disobedience grew, and the country was left without a war for a couple of years. the time would be ripe. The country would not have a foreign enemy, so it would be free to begin the search for a domestic one, revolutionary conspiracy agitated by outside influences. All of this out of fear. We can speak of hating communism but that is merely a result of constant fear and distrust of anything foreign to our present way of life. We are all too often programmed to be prejudiced toward anything different from those living outside the middle-class bureaucracy. Not because these foreign factions endanger our freedom but because these factions may endanger our way of life for which we gave up that freedom. There are members of our middle-lass who will not give up their freedom because of material and social chains. These individuals are all too often tabbed as "radical" or "idealistic" by the affluent power structure. This is the process of alienation of undesirables. They are cast outside the middle-class and the society remains stagnant. But, class? What crowd? You are free, you are human, the crowd has made it clear?

A salute, Salute, to the faculty and students leaving MARIAN at the end of this semester. As co-editor of the CARBON I trust you enjoyed your stay and I am sorry to see you go. The CARBON will continue and develop (I hope not enough to require a brassiere) at MARIAN. Since you won't be here, a CARBON would like to go with you. A subscription is available from J. Mahoney or myself, Mike Miller, or anyone found rummaging about the Sar cor.

WHAT KIND OF A MAN READS CARBON?

GO HOME TO MOTHER

The recent inauguration of Dr. D. J. Guzzetta was quite impressive and surely fertilized the grounds for future monetary appropriations. However, this editor feels that the pomp and specific circumstances necessitated the appropriation of too much money in themselves.

MARIAN College, if impressive for any non-son, must be renowned for its beautiful location and surroundings. Our blooming campus is coated with an icing of spring plummage. Get out of your rut or your class and/or your clothes but get out and dig the wonders of nature.

SUPPORT -- AN ADMINISTRATIVE POLICY

This week our attentive, moralistic admini-stration came out with its first underwear policy. Thanks to one of CARBON's alert under cover gents, we received word of the recent brassiere purge. It seems that one of our illustrious MARIAN maids was seen bouncing cross campus in obvious support of non-support. The pointed fact is that this well-embroidered rubber band has become a recessary requirement to battle books in the classroom. CARBON, however, views today's brassiere as optional attire for the well-rounded personality. We feel students get enough lumps in the classroom without being told how to deal with those they received before they got here, much less wear them. Clare Hall girls will simply have to contain themselves until the bust is over.

WHAT KIND OF A MAN READS CARFON?

A Sanicor free lance agent?

A Sunoco pump man?

A Burger Chef bur man?

A White River whaler?

A Camel dung importer?

An enchanted hoppy toad?

A southern Indiana dirt farmer? (Pornography Publisher)

No, none of these recognized social figures reap the benefits of our composite wealth of excrement.

You, a CARBON reader, are an unusual mixture of all of the above with the added ability to do your own editing. You probably drive a 1960, 62, and 63 combination of Ford body parts with a Boycott Grapes sticker holding them together and a floor mat of unread CARBONs.

REACT NEWS

Basic Automobile Repair will have its second field trip on Saturday, at 10:00 a.m. in SAC-1. There will be another feature lecturer.

TENNIS

Last Saturday the MARIAN Tennis team defeat ed Thomas More by a score of 5-2. For MARIAN individual winners were Eha, McPhillips, and Beaver. In the doubles matches Eha and Lustig won the No. 1 match, while McPhillips and Beaver won the No. 2 masch.

Saturday MARIAN plays Indiana Central here at 2:00. It will be the tennis team's last home match and we hope a good crowd will show up to support our courtmen.

This Monday at Rose Poly MARIAN will play its last motch. We wish the tennis players a lot of luck in wrapping up the season with a victory.

BASEBALL

MARIAN split a double header against Anderson on the diamond last Saturday. In the first game Jack Adams was tagged for the (5-2) loss. Jack threw a good game but our hitting was so outclassed that we didn't have a chance to win Only two MARIAN players were able to connect in this game -- Steve Taylor and Jim Herbe.

In the second game, Goldsmith took a (5-4) victory over Anderson. Our hitting improved somewhat with Hornback setting two doubles and a single while Taylor and Geaither both got doubles.

This past Sunday, MARIAN split another with Thomas More. This left MARIAN at the .500 mark so far for the season. In the first game Mike Brunette carved out another victory this year but not without the help of Mel McMinney 3-run homer. MARIAN was trailing when Mel came to bat with two men on base and blasted out a (7-6) victory for MARIAN.

The second game with Thomas More saw Goldsmith add another loss to his column as MARTAN was tripped up (6-2). The MARIAN player hit well but couldn't combine them for any runs. Geaither, McKinney, and Brunette each got doubles in the effort.

BASKETBALL

This past Sunday, John Harkin entertained several future MARIAN basketball players. Harkin was pleased with the results since he was able to sign one of Indiana's better basketball players, John Vollmer. Vollmer played for the Jac-Cen-Del Eagles this year when they made it to the final game in the Semi-State. Jac-Cen-Del is the school of only 300 students in southeastern Indiana, which upset a highly rated Richmond team in the first game of the Semi-State and gained the right to play Washington in the final game. Although they were defeated Mr. Harkin feels that John Vollmer is as good as any high school basketball player on the hardwood today. John was the play maker for the Eagles who made the All-Sectional, Regional, and Semi-State teams. Mr. Harkin is sure that he will be a valuable addition to the team in the years to come.

GB REVIEW

All change takes time. Look at Gene McCarthy. We thought he was the Jesus Christ of the New Left. Of course, I can't really see Christ taking a job cleaning toilets for Pilate. Of course, after McCarthy was crucified by Daly and the boys in Chicago everyone sat around waiting for the resurrection. The party bosses were in Chicago screaming, "Give us Humphrey, give us Humphrey!" But then Caesar got in office while we sat on our asses waiting for Easter. Of course, there was an attempt to get Ted Kennedy the part of the Easter Bunny. That kind of laved an egg. Magdalene was a Republica, you know. She's V.P. now. That's government talk for the President's house boy. The Republican's Judas is still Governor of New York and ain't no way he's going to get close enough to Tricky Dicky for that kiss. Boy, he gave Goldwater a good smooch. And there was George Wallace playing Moses about 500 years too late. He's running around, "Hey, you need these commandments," and everyone's saying, "Cot the crap, Mos baby, we got a constitution, and don't try it with the old split the seas or promised land tricks. We've already had those. This is A.D., not B.C. Anyway, you talk with a Southern accent."
