INSIGHTS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

As the years pass Student Government becomes more important. No longer does the Student Board concern itself with how many park benches should be set outside Clare Hall. Throughout my 3½ years here at MARIAN, I have experienced this change in attitude which was initiated by Andy Wagner, made more realistic by John Lynch, brought closer to reality by Tom Turner, and given a broader scope by Paul Kazmierzak (sic.).

Dear Editor:

After seeing the performance of Becket Friday night, I became curious over the opinion of the students who also shared the same sights that I had witnesses. My observation from the opinions I received from several students confused me. I recall that the Fall Concert was stopped in the middle of a performance to expel a bare-chested drummer for his vulgarity. I myself expressed opposition against Paul Kazmierzak's impulsive action, but because it was for the better of the audience, I soon rationalized his judgment. Again, the occasion was before the audience Friday night, on whether or not the scene of the bare ass actor was vulgar to the audience. To my surprise, an overwhelming majority of those in the audience I talked to did not express strong objection to the nude scenes in the play. It would seem likely that the audience would resist consistently and that Paul would stop the play. What has happened to the MARIAN COLLEGE student? Maybe we are finally becoming more mature and liberal-minded!

Dear Editor:

The "Padded Sewer" presented by the Junior Class Friday Night has the best list of entertainment MARIAN COLLEGE has seen in a while, none other than MC students and others affiliated with it! Father Head will be featured and we're grateful to be able to have him. An alumnus, Bob Clements a fine performer will also be at the "Sewer" along with Gayle, Kirt & Tess's Kazoo Chair who will all do their own thing. Linda Scott, Eileen O'Connor, Marty Hostetter and Barb Bates promise us some songs along with the Bowery Boys and the Barbershop Quartet. It sounds like fun so be sure you come Friday nite, SAC Lounge, 8-LL for only .75.

Dear Editor:

I just want to note that it would have been heartwarming to see some of our administrators at the Student Board Candidates' speeches Wednesday night. Guest speakers were the very people the administration will be working with next year.

Dear Editor:

At the last Freshman class meeting (yes, surprisingly enough -- we did have one), the rules and regulations were designed and listed for the class elections which are to be held on March 28, 1969. Prospective candidates were voiced but none were definite. As designated by the Student Board, candidates will register for nomination on March 24-25. A three-day campaign will be terminated by general elections on March 28, 1969. The reason for this is that all offices must be filled before Easter.

A meeting is planned for the election committee on Monday and a coffee house is planned for Wednesday at 7:30 in the SAC building. Assignments will be made for the election committee at the Monday meeting.

Some Interested Students

Student Government will continue to progress and become even more relevant to each student if they choose their candidates with reason instead of wishfulness. After the election there will be losers; one can only hope they will continue to take an interest in their government, for it is only through more interest and more activity that Student Government can continue to be more purposeful.

CARBON HISSES:

- Attempts to ban George Washington from campus.
- Senseless destruction of MARIAN College equipment and facilities.
- People "tired" of hearing the word "black."
- Vandalism of campaign posters.

CARBON APPLAUDS:

- Biology Club efforts to clean up the lake.
- Candidates for Student Board office.
- Dick Gregory.
- Sunshine, gusty winds, and memories of the beach...

In the near future our campus will welcome prospective athletes intent on selecting the college of their choice. They will be easy to spot, due to their enormous size, and may be looking for directions or a date, so if you happen upon a lost visitor--be a good Knight and help them across the street or campus.

GOOD EVENING LADIES...

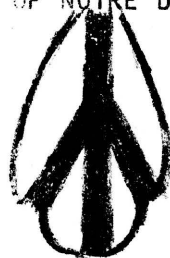

GOOD EVENING GENTS...

MARIAN COLLEGE...

PROUDLY PRESENTS...

MIDTERMS, MIDTERMS, MIDTERMS, MIDTERMS, MIDTERMS

At the start of the term many of us had the intent of keeping up on our work so when these 'HELL WEEKS' came they would not be the terrible straining days used to be. We would take them as they came and would be free from the crude habits of cramming BUT...some where along the line we slipped, somewhere, somehow, sometime we let our guard down and now we find our defensive plan has collapsed and we must take to the offensive attacking the text books and attacking our notes in hopes of absorbing enough information which will rout the enemy in a victory for our side. It's too late now to wonder what went wrong...Now Is The Time For Action. Now we must study and you may find yourself in the need of some help, help even as the person in paragraph one needed help. AS A PUBLIC SERVICE, THEN, THE CARBON PRESENTS FOR YOUR PERSONAL USE THIS PRAYER IN PREPARATION FOR EXAMINATIONS USED BY THE STUDENTS OF NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY...

Faced with the Student Board elections today and the increasing political atmosphere of issue-conscious campaigns the CARBON has become aware of the need for an honest and just journalistic opinion. The following comments and opinions are based upon the views of the combined editorial staff following the Student Board coffee hour and personal interviews with candidates. Each position is well sought after; this being the case it becomes your duty to make yourself aware and knowledgeable of the issues and candidates.

Dave Haire is a candidate with a background in student government, from MARIAN freshman class president to Social Committee Chairman. He has been a board member for two years. He knows the system and seems fairly proficient in using it. His response to the Social Committee Chairman has received criticism yet his interest in the student board has been very good. His talk at the coffee hour outlined many points for better communication between students, faculty, and administration. At times, his outspokenness and his dependence on the system could possibly render him a bit less effective at times than possible. Dave is a sophomore from Louisville, Ky.

Robert Lane is new to student government at MARIAN. Through contact with him in interview and the coffee hour, we feel he has the desire to do the job. Yet his lack of experience leaves some question as to his capabilities. Bob's talk at the coffee hour did delve into the idea of student freedom. He seemed to have a better than adequate understanding and belief in this principle. Bob will only have to carry 8 to 9 hours to graduate next year and this may help a great deal in giving time to the office.

We feel that both of these candidates are willing and open enough to do an adequate job. It is very difficult for us to really evaluate clearly these two candidates. Dave has the insights into the issues as they are. Bob seems capable of gaining those insights if elected. Both candidates have presented themselves very well. Only the voters and time for sure will tell.

Perhaps an often underestimated position is that of vice-president.

Bain Farris and Glen Tebbe are both sophomores. Bain has served on the Board as Soph Class Rep. Glen served this past year on Academic Affairs and as a member of the Ph----X staff. Both seem willing to face the issues. Glen strikes us as more serious-minded, Bain as more personable. Bain stressed the necessity of making committee members more effective. Glen seemed most concerned with consideration of all the students. Neither seems extremely creative, yet both are concerned candidates who are willing to work.

Margie Turner has served on the Board as secretary for one year now. Marsha Meltz served this past year as Soph Rep. to the Clare Hall Board. They both feel their vote on the Board is highly important, as well as their duty of liason between students and the Board.

today

Margie has taken some steps in beginning a newsletter of board business and has shown a great deal of interest in the Board. Marsha feels a newsletter would be beneficial and seems willing to work for the Board. Again, experience and knowledge of the system (and its limitations) is on one side of the ballot with, perhaps, capable new interest on the other.

Theresa Hurre, Bob Bittlemeyer, and Mark Fedders are the candidates for Treasurer of the Student Board. It seems background in accounting is not the primary requirement for the treasurer since the books are simple. We feel the candidates' primary position is as a member of the Board.

Theresa Hurre seems unaware of many issues yet willing to become an active part of the voting membership of the Board.

Bob Bittlemeyer, as he has stated, has been called the apathetic day student, a title he no longer wants. He does not have the experience in accounting that the other two candidates have, yet seemed very open during our interview with him and willing to listen and speak on certain issues.

Mark Fedders is somewhat of a surprise to us. He has the background to handle books yet is also aware and is willing to speak on problems of the MARIAN community. He was more outspoken than we expected.

The post of National Student Coordinator is becoming increasingly important in the nation and on our campus especially. Both candidates are highly interested in the position with great regard for the voting right and NSA's structure and advice.

Tom Hanrahan has offered his time to first organize our region which, up to now, has been virtually lifeless. Tom has regarded the Student Board as a powerful organization which needs direction and that direction is located in the desire of all students in our college community.

Lynn Schwartz, our present NSCoordinator has served the Student Board as correspondent to NSA, and has found the job very rewarding. Lynn feels that NSA is important to MARIAN, and her attempts to organize their material will ben fit the student government and administration.

Social Council Chairman is the only office which is unopposed this year. Perhaps that says something about the job. Work and creative thought are necessary prerequisites for the job and the rewards are few. Dan Lempa, senior dorm student, wants that job. He is presently serving as Booster Club President. He has hopes of broadening the scope of concerts by comedians and other non-musical acts to make "name-talent" on campus more feasible if this is desired by students. He has

Now that the weather is warmer, we see the Baseball players practicing outside, after several weeks of working out in the intramural gym.

This year's baseball team promises to be even better than last year's; even though due to grades and injuries some of the better ball players will not see any action this year. To take up this slack and that left by the graduating seniors, Coach Harkins has been able to secure several outstanding freshman prospects such as Richard Geaither and Mike Brunette.

Action on the intramural basketball court saw the Irish struck by another famine as they were defeated this past weekend.

The big game last Sunday saw the WCCF's coached by John Hendricks defeat the defending champions of last year's play-off (Bergers Boozers who are coached by Tim Berger.) The Boozers, unable to connect with the important baskets were trailing throughout the whole game. Although they rallied in the fourth quarter, they could not overcome their deficit. The big difference was the outstanding rebounding of Russ Bowers and Ray Baurley and the shooting of Bob Hammerly and John Takach who were able to penetrate the Boozers zone.

Next week, intramural basketball will come to an end, when the WCCF's play the Bruins for the championship at 2:00 p.m. The Bruins, hosting the longest winning streak (17 games) in intramural ball stretching from last year action. This game promises to be an exciting one, bouting the two Baurley boys (Grain and Wheat) against each other.

With the hot hands of John Yanney and Melvin Wilhelm and the outstanding rebounding of Bob Pranger neither team is considered a clear cut favorite. We wish each good luck and invite all our readers to see the game.

Attention Swimmers and Non-swimmers: Take a break from studying. Go for a refreshing dip in the pool. The pool is open for the enjoyment and benefit of the students of MARIAN COLLEGE. Even though people complain that this is a dead campus, since there is nothing to do, not many people have taken advantage of the facilities that are open for student use. Unless more people take advantage of this privilege, the pool will have to be closed. As of Sunday, March 16, the pool is open at the following times:

Monday	7:00-9:00 (guard Emberton) recreational
Tuesday	7:00-9:00 (guard Langer) beginners class
Wednesday	7:00-9:00 (guard Hemmelgarn) intermediate class
Thursday	7:00-9:00 (guard Emberton) recreational
Friday	3:30-5:30 (guard Langer) recreational
	7:00-9:00 (Sisters)
Saturday	10:00-12:00 (guard Langer) recreational
	3:00-5:00 (guard Hemmelgarn) recreational
Sunday	7:00-9:00 (guard Hemmelgarn) recreational

Terri Disque

Bob Kessler - If there is a need for more swimming these guards may open the pool from 3:30-5:00 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

worked in the past and we feel his record should gain him the support and cooperation of the entire student body.

Through this presentation of candidates we hone to promote discussion all the way to the polls. We believe this next year will be difficult since many foreseeable problems will rise to the attention of everyone on campus. In our attempts to solicit personal opinion we hope construction of a better Student Board will take place due to an early exposure of the key figures which we hope prompts honest voting in a fuller light than ever before.

In regards to our commentary on candidates, you should relate each person to these imminent situations:

1. Action against unduly discriminatory organizations in the city (possible ban on holding events at these establishments).
2. UBI having all black membership.
3. Renewed Publication Board.
4. "Image" of the College vs. Academic Freedom.
5. Speakers Policy.
6. Right of Appeal to suspended or expelled students.
7. Off-campus housing for non-Indy students under the age of 23.
8. More student representation on disciplinary board.
9. NSA as an increasingly important political and service organization.
10. Pass-fail system.
11. Student Power--in or out of the System?
12. Intervisitation.
13. Payroll for Student Board members.
14. Student Board as a Political Unit.
15. Free University and continual educational development.
16. Effective Communication between students, faculty, and administration.
