EDITORIAL

As the new editors, we feel we should inform you of our goals, purposes, and objectives. They are:

- I. To keep the college community informed of campus activities and events (through activities, sports, Student Board reports and other general information.
- II. To comment on relevant issues that affect the college community, whether these issues be local, national or international. (Too often we forget there is another world outside the boundaries of this campus.)
- III. To speak the truth quietly and clearly to the college community. By doing this we will be able to keep the general tone of the Carbon light, without spoiling its informative or editorial goals.

The Carbon is the unofficial newspaper on campus. It is a student publication, therefore, we welcome any cooperation or contributions.

VOL. 38 - NO. 20 Paul & Bill

the views in this publication are those of the individual writer and do not necessarily reflect those of Marian College.

Day Students, a question mark in the continuing story of Marian College. Their lives revolve in a constant circle consisting of work, studies and family. The hustle and bustle leave little time for relaxation and even less for involvement with school social activities. Day students make up over half of Marian's population, and yet receive very little attention.

The Perc is currently being remodeled. This is the home away from home for many day-hops, yet very few of them are involved in the work. The dormies have taken it upon themselves to make something of the Perc. An activities center is needed on campus and the Perc is an ideal spot.

By rennovating the perc, an unforeseen happening may result. For the first time in Marian history, day students and dorm students might communicate with one another.

FROM THE MASSES:

The Scholars' Fair

Today marks the occasion of another Marian College first -- the SCHOLARS' FAIR.

What it is: a bringing together in one place at one time representatives of every academic discipline at Marian College.

What it is for: an opportunity for the Marian College student to get information about academics.

Where it is: in the Lobby of the Marian Hall Auditorium.

When it is: Today -- Friday, April 19, 1974 from 9:30am until about 3pm.

What it means to you: you will have the chance to ask questions you may have had for some time...

- the advantages of majoring in a particular discipline
- the requirements for your major
- graduation requirements
- new general education requirements
- courses you may take as electives in areas outside your major

See you there -- today -- Marian Hall Auditorium Lobby -- the SCHOLARS' Fair.

Sr. Helen

Once upon a time there was a cute little school in the city of Indianapolis which could easily be found by following the interstates which were owned by the government. Well, this little school was so cute that it was beyond all belief. This school had some buildings which were made of charming red bricks and the grounds on which they stood were covered with all kinds of green stuff and ah!-yes, if one looked hard, litter could even be found. A little girl went to this school for four years (The usual time one might spend at such an institution). Well, when this most pleasant young lady matriculated she was fortunate enough to meet alot of other pleasant people who attended this cute little school. She was so pleased at first for she felt this school had potential. And then as she pursued her four years of higher education things began to come into focus-PEALITY- She began to wonder if it were really a cute little school of liberal arts. People had their heads in smiley face masks and there feet in the mud. Oh but a strange thing did occur, this most pleasant young lady refused to leave for she was also most very hopeful.

How stupid, stupid of this most pleasant young lady. But even worse, this most pleasant young lady realized things were worse on the outside of the cute little school. So guess what she did - she turned to DRINK - God rest her soul.

Two of the most pleasant
(drunk) young ladies one might ever encounter.

Points for consideration for one Mr. Tom Thompson

- 1) He didn't give the results of the survey
- 2) Serving lousy food to try to undercut Ron Morgan.
- 3) The tickets we get for the meat -Is he running a raffle.
- 4) Coming up with unknown food - fruit plates don't get it.
- 5) His attitude toward students - his etiquette and manners toward students leaves something to be desired.
- 6) We go back to get seconds not because we like it - but because meals aren't filling

Old Business:

Bill Platt moved that the allocation of $25.00 to be given to Kevin Caraher for an outside concert to be removed from the table. This was seconded and agreed to by consent. This motion clearly failed 0-6-3.

New Business:

The new editors for the Publication are:

CARBON: Bill Platt and Paul Lauffer

Phoenix: Lynn Shewmaker and Elaine Watson.

Fioretti: Pat Paquin and Kathy Caldwell

Mike announced that the Darkroom Manager and Yearbook positions have yet to be filled.

Joe Kroher moved that the Executive Board allocate $50.00 to the Business Club for miscellaneous mailing expenses. The motion clearly passed 6-0-3.

SPORTS SHORTS

As a result of the unpredictable Indianapolis weather, it has become necessary for Commissioner Purcell to reschedule the rest of the Intermural softball season. Instead of the customary regular season and playoffs, there will merely be a double elimination tournament, to decide the championship. With the tournament scheduled to start Sunday, the following is a rundown of the teams. The Gods of Half-Barrels are still the team to beat. With four members of last years championship team, plus all the veterans returning, the Gods may be unstoppable. The second ranked team is the Ludes (what ever that means). This may seem to be a bold prediction, since everyone knows that long hairs can't be jocks. Balls of Fire could be a tough contender if they can cut down on their errors. The Hot Nuts may be the "sleepers" of the league, and they have good talent, if all their players show. Sarges Raiders, another team that could cause the Gods some grief. That is if Mel Arnold keeps coaching. The Jocks could be in contention, if Schilling would just let them use a softball instead of a basketball. The next three teams: the Streakers, Spark Plugs, and the Profs, are not expected to be serious contenders, but they could be the "spoilers". The Warm-Benchers, Sisters of Love, and the Women Libbers round out the field. These last few teams should really battle it out for the cellar.

Good Luck!

Carbon Playoff Predictions

- 1) Gods of Half-Barrels
- 2) Ludes
- 3) Balls of Fire
- 4) Hot Nuts
- 5) Sarges Raiders
- 6) Jocks
- 7) Streakers
- 8) Champion Spark Plugs
- 9) Profs
- 10) Warm Benchers
- 11) Sisters of Love
- 12) Women Libbers

Carbon Applauds:

- Driscoll's chess victory
- Schmoll and his crew
- the Ludes (whatever that means)
- the return of Howard. ★
- the chorale
- Becky & Pat

Carbon Hisses:

- long nights of confusion & chaos
- people who complain about Perc colors
- Mr. Kelly for letting Driscoll get a big head.
