EDITORIAL

The withdrawal of American troops is thought of as being the end of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam (can't count the 20,000 there now, they are only "advisors.") The government has since been stuck in it's attempts to solve Viet Nam problems. The returning Vets need jobs. How many POW'S are really MIA'S? These problems have hung around so long, they're no longer news. Now there is a new topic; should amnesty be given to the war resistor?

The conservatives argue amnesty would make a mockery of the 2.5 million who did their TIME and shame the 55,000 who sacrificed their lives. Liberals argue since amnesty has been granted in 34 previous cases, it should be given to the resisters of an immoral war.

Last week, President Ford announced a proposal granting conditional amnesty. The proposal calls for an act of contrition in each case and then the resistor will work for approximately eighteen months with an organization such as VISTA or the Peace Corps.

I believe this proposal is the best compromise for a problem that has no perfect solution. It offers the draft dodgers and deserters an opportunity to fit back into the American way of life without being treated like criminals, thus pacifying the liberals. Conservatives will be happy because nobody is getting anything for nothing.

Since Congress has been bogged down for years they should jump at the chance for an easy settlement. They could use Ford's proposal to eliminate months of debate that could go nowhere.

ON THE ROAD

Every year about this time things always get crazy. The world begins to spin when the weather gets hot and work always seems a drag. So, why not hit the road?

Mexico seemed like a nice place to go but some how our first stop along the way was just about Columbus, Ohio; yes we had to visit Billy the Mountain. (For those of you who don't know Billy- forget it) Actually things were just great until those mammoth mountains started hacking up boulders and after a giant two-ton boulder flew out of Billy's mouth and onto my rose pink Mercedes Benz we split.

Running frantically across the countryside we finally came upon a house of stix. This house seemed to be occupied by no one save a voluptuous young squirrel. This squirrel proceeded to make us feel very much at home. We sat at her table, drank the fruit of the vine, ate the nuts from the tree and smoked the magic herb.

Ms. Squirrel spoke of fortunes made and lost, and amazed us with tales of turning on communities to the joys of the magic herb; alas her quest is endless. We concluded that Ms. Squirrel's only purpose is to spread the joy of living. Once again it was time to depart in search of the "Magi of Mexico".

The Nether World

Let me re-introduce you to a character that everyone already know. You may not know this character personally, but you have probably met someone like him at some time. His name is Dave Manning and he is in the Nether World. He is 18 yrs. old, and comes from a Middle Class family that lives in the suburbs of a large Eastern City. David is a likable (cont. on pg.3)

WELL THEY'RE GONE AT LAST. THIS IS MY BIG CHANCE. I'M GONNA MAKE IT WITH EVERY CHICK ON CAMPUS. WEEOOO!

YEAH BOY! I'll be the BIG MAN ON CAMPUS in TIME, NOW THAT I'M FREE! THERE ISN'T ANYTHING like being a...

Welp! As I was a sittin here watching Theresa type out all that other crap that Bill, Paul and Fran wrote, I got to thinkin. "Wells" I says, "if'n Fran can write that and find his way back to Doyle, maybe I can write something. After all," I continued, "I'm the only sane one here." So with that in mind, here goes.

By now you freshmen are probably wondering what the hell type of paper is this. Let me remind you that a "paper" reflects the thought of the individual, which in this case aren't important. What is important is that you freshmen become involved in Marian College. It seems to me that if you look through the year book, under organizations you see the same faces. Why is it only a handful want to get involved? Everyone grips about how Marian doesn't have this, Marian doesn't have that, I can't do this, I can't do that. Well let me tell ya fellow students, it's all up to us. We all know the problems, we all know the administration, so the only thing left for us to do is-----> TRANSFER.

person, but no matter how hard he tries, he just can't get ahead. Yet, he keeps plugging away, trying to find his place in life. David has decided to attend a small liberal Arts College in a large Midwestern city in the United States of America, Planet Earth. I mention this because although David lives physically on the planet Earth, his mind is in a different world. We'll begin his story for you as he begins his collegiate career.

Sports Shorts³

Women's Sports

Back by "popular" demand the unbiased women's sports writers--- Starkie, Main and little Wap!

This year's season will start out with Women's Volleyball. Teams should have no more than six members nor more than eight--- so start getting those teams lined up. All teams should be turned into Trish Baumer (M.C.A.H.P. E.R. Pres.) so watch for the signs and get those names in.

Since we want to start the season out with fair publicity to all- we won't mention that Shuck's Garden (last year's undefeated champs) will once again hit the courts.

Thats it for now see you at the nets!

Men's Sports

Ya know, that title Sports' Shorts really covers the whole intramural sports story for this week, sports fans. There's not a whole hell-of-a-lot to tell ya.

For the people who know little, but who think they know a lot, here's some general information that may be helpful to the organization of your intramural football franchise.

1. There are twelve players per roster.
2. After you get twelve players write their names on a peice of paper.
3. Now figure out a name for your team and it on the same peice of paper.
4. Submit your roster to the head of intramurals - Commisioner Tom Shroth.
5. The Commisioner lives in the PIT, room 10, be careful because they get snaky down that way.
6. Rosters must be in Tuesday of next week so get on it.

You Freshman should get up teams because the intramurals aren't too bad. The competition is tough except for a few teams, like the "Stoned (burn-out) Rangers", for instance.

Well, so much for now, I've got to get back to my "studies".
