Sodalists Inaugurate Month of Mary Prefect, Court Officiate at Coronation

Traditional coronation ceremony, honoring the Blessed Virgin Mary as Queen of May, will take place Apr. 30, at 11 a. m. Margaret Ann Barbee, Sodality prefect, will crown, with a floral wreath, the statue of our Lady in chapel.

Margaret Ann will wear the traditional blue satin cape with its long, majestic train.

In her retinue will be the Sodality class representatives, in formals and wearing wreaths of campus flowers. Mary Lu Method, senior, will be crownbearer; Mary Jo McHugh, sophomore, and Ann Herber, freshman, train-bearers. Marjorie Hercules, junior, will present flowers at Mary's shrine just before the coronation.

In an outdoor academic procession, students and faculty will recite the rosary and sing hymns to Mary, Queen of May.

The service will close in chapel with each girl's renewal of consecration to the Blessed Mother and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Duval's Combo Plays For Prom May 15; Further Plans Secret

Prom queen and her two attendants, chosen from the senior class by juniors, will be the central feature of the junior-senior prom, May 15, 9-12 p. m.

The name of the queen, as well as the dance theme, is traditionally a deep secret of the junior class. At the appointed time, during the festivities, the queen will be proclaimed and her coronation will follow. Alba Meneghel, junior class president will crown the queen.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Duval's combo.

Junior social chairman, Jane Brady, is general chairman. Committee leaders are: Barbara Gingrich, decorations; Pauline Siefert, refreshments; Mary Ann Beckrich and Rita Skillen, programs; Thelma Runyan and Kathleen Bashe, publicity; and Mary Wechsler, chaperons.

Recitalists Travel

Recitalists, Audrey Kraus and Marilyn Miller with Marjorie Hercules as accompanist, repeated their program, in abridged form, at the Immaculate Conception academy, Oldenburg, Apr. 15. They will give a third performance at Our Lady of Angels high school, St. Bernard, Ohio.

Building Progress

Blue prints, with successively more specific details for the new administration and science buildings, are multiplying week by week. Contractor's bids will be released soon.

Keeping pace with the architects' planning, inquiries about the co-educational opportunities are being received.

First 1953 fund-raising activity will be the card party at Our Lady of Angels high school, St. Bernard (Cincinnati), Ohio, given by the school's PTA.

Placement Service Open to Students

All student placement service, which has existed informally on campus, has been organized. Sister Mary Olivia, as coordinator of student personnel services, is director.

The function of this new administrative office is to assist students in securing employment, not only after graduation but during summer vacation. Beginning in September, part-time jobs for the school year will also be investigated.

As part of this service, Mr. Richard Emery, personnel officer of the Indianapolis Public Schools, will visit campus to interview the prospective elementary school teachers for placement.

City Students Win 1953-54 Scholarships

Indianapolis scholarships for 1953-1954 have been announced by Sister Mary Kevin, president.

Competitive examinations at St. Agnes academy and St. Mary academy have won scholarships for six. Honor scholarships for highest achievement at the two schools have been awarded to Marilyn Weber and Julia Barnes, respectively.

Receiving the St. Mary Academy scholarship is Margaret Winsor; the St. Philip Neri Parish scholarship, Mary Ann Bernauer; the Mother Olivia Memorial scholarship, Myrna Mivet, all of St. Mary's.

Catherine Matthews, St. Agnes academy, has won the Zieroff Memorial scholarship.

At Sacred Heart Central high school Carole Ann Tietz has received the Marian scholarship.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, as national head of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, will address a city-wide mission rally at the Indianapolis Coliseum, May 22.

Trio Provides English Musical Setting For Sheridan's 'The Rivals' May 16-17

Saturday, May 16, 2:30 p. m., and Sunday, May 17, at 8:15 p. m., are the times set for the annual college play, The Rivals, by Richard Sheridan.

An all-English musical background will be contributed by the instrumental trio: Audrey Kraus, violin; Alba Meneghel, cello; Irma Klett, piano. Principal selections will be: Shepherd's Hey and Country Gardens, traditional Morris dances, and "Overture" from The Beggar's Opera by John Gay.

The play is being produced under the direction of Sister Mary Jane; Sister M. Olivia is trio director; and Sister Joan Marie is contributing to the costume construction.

Clare Watson, Barbara Vesely, and Therese Lowe are business managers; Jill Douglass and Patricia Mudd, stage managers.

Five Seniors Qualify for Membership In National Catholic Honor Societies

At induction ceremonies during commencement week, five seniors will receive the scholastic keys of national honor societies.

They are: Joyce Ann Edwards and Marie Martino, Delta Epsilon Sigma; Rita Sheridan, Audrey Kraus, and Mary Lu Method, Kappa Gamma Pi. Marie and Audrey have also been named members of Delta Mu Theta.

Studies, Activities Count

Gypsies Dance, Sing Around Camp Fire

"The Gypsy Rondo," sophomore costume dance, peopled the lounge with gala gypsies the night of Apr. 24.

The Blue Notes, four-piece combo directed by Douglas Jordan, set the dance mood.

Decorations created a woodland gypsy camp. With stars and moon overhead, Madame Fifi, alias Marilyn Miller, huddled over the crystal ball in her tent. Groups sang and danced around camp fires or munched refreshments near an old covered wagon.

Pat Doerger, general chairman, was assisted by Mary Jo McHugh, in charge of tickets; Zita Kriese, refreshments; Carol Welp, decorations; Peggy Mountain, dates; Clare Watson, chaperons; and Mary Evelyn Maloney, clean-up.

Sister Gonsalva Speaks at I. U.

Sister M. Gonsalva, professor of classical languages, will present a paper at the Indiana College Classical Teachers Association meeting, Indiana university, May 2.

Entitled "The Recovery of a Lost Fabula Praetexta in Livy," the paper centers around the reconstruction of a Latin drama, Sophonisba, from a fragment found in Livy's History of Rome. The fragment, shown to contain the essentials of a classic Greek play in a Roman setting, is inserted into the account of the Second Punic War.

This tragedy is one of four lost dramas discovered by Sister Gonsalva in Livy's work. Early Roman histories are thought to be the repositories of probably a hundred such national hero dramas, dating from the period of the Republic.

Promotion of the classics was emphasized at the 49th annual meeting of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South Cincinnati, Apr. 2-4. Sister M. Gonsalva attended.

Delta Epsilon Sigma is a scholastic honor society for students, alumni, and faculty members of Catholic colleges and universities. Membership is based on top-ranking scholarship and character.

Kappa Gamma Pi, an honor and activity society for graduates of Catholic women's colleges, chooses its members on the two-fold basis of outstanding work in studies and leadership in activities.

Delta Mu Theta is for junior and senior music students and alumni actively interested in Catholic music. Undergraduates must maintain a general scholastic rating of "B" and give promise of promoting the use of good Catholic music.

Language Majors Qualify

Joyce Ann Edwards, a Spanish major, English and history minor, plans a career in journalism after graduation. Besides her work as editor of The Phoenix, associate editor for two preceding years, and staff member of the Fioretti all four years, Joyce has been active as a member of the Inter-American club and Bel Canto.

Marie Martino, a Spanish-French major and English minor, who plans to teach in secondary schools, has been a member of Bel Canto and A Cappella choir all four years, leader of the class schola for three, and an active member of the orchestra for four.

Rita Sheridan, president of the student association, is a Spanish-French major, history minor, who

NF Sponsors Tours

This summer the NFCCS will sponsor low-priced tours of both Europe and Mexico. These tours are planned so as to allow the Catholic college student to derive the greatest possible benefit from them.

Groups of from 30 to 40 will each be accompanied by an appointed chaplain.

Full information may be obtained by writing to Catholic Student Travel Office 500 Fifth Avenue New York 36, New York.

Sodality, Legion of Mary Underscore Action To Prove Devotion to Queen of May Genuine

Why is May so special?

It is dedicated to the Blessed Mother—mother of God through the mystery of the Incarnation, our mother through the Redemption. On account of her twofold motherhood, she is also the Mediatrix of all graces, able and willing to help us.

But in order to secure her powerful and generous assistance we must have a sincere devotion to her. This devotion must be practical. It ought to consist not only in words but in action.

Here at Marian we have two appropriate organizations dedicated to our Lady. All of us have been enrolled in the Sodality. But what about this Sodality that we belong to?

Its motto is "To Jesus Through Mary." Its aim is to foster in its members an ardent devotion, reverence, and love of Mary, and to obtain her protection for all the faithful in unity with Christ.

The other group, The Legion of Mary, daily salutes our Lady with this tribute of praise:

"Who is she that comes forth as the morning rising, fair as the moon, bright as the sun, terrible as an army set in battle array?"

Its aim is to bring "dead" souls back to Christ, and to unify the world through Mary.

During the month of May our prayers and our activities in these organizations should be directed to the Blessed Mother, that, with her as Mediatrix, the world will be united with Christ.

P. D.

Student Association Elections Next Month Demand Thought on Qualifications of Nominees

Come May, Marian will be the scene of an election, and though we may not consider it quite so important or thrilling as the national one last November, certainly it will have a significance and excitement all its own.

The Student association constitution, which directs the procedure of college student government here on campus, states that officers of the association shall be elected in May. The slate of candidates is drawn up by a nominating committee made up of Student Board members during the month preceding the election. The offices to be filled include president and vice-president from the senior class, secretary and treasurer from the student body at large, the prefect of the Sodality, and the president of the CSMC. All the members of the Student association, which means all full time students of the college, elect the officers from those nominated.

As members of the executive board, those chosen are the "voices" of the entire student group. That's why, just as in all important elections, it's most important to vote and to "know" your candidates."

Of course, for us here, the "knowing" part isn't too hard, but to know just who will be best to carry out each particular work with responsibility, tact, and good common sense, is not quite so simple. Each office demands a person to fill it, a special person to whom that office belongs. The filling is up to us in May.

Popping Questions At St. Thomas Aquinas

By Patricia Miller

(Here are some of our questions. The answers are from the works of St. Thomas Aquinas.)

Q What must one do to become a saint?

A "Will it" — God cannot make a man a saint unless the man is willing to be one.

Q What would you do if you were given a beautiful city like Paris? (This question was put to St. Thomas by one of his University of Paris students.)

A "Truly I should much prefer to have at this moment the homilies of St. Chrysostom on St. Matthew."

Q What might be considered a sign of a soul's perfection?

A "If I saw a man fond of trifles in conversation, desirous of honor, and unwilling to be despised, I would not believe him perfect, even if I saw him work miracles."

Q Do you believe that all your assertions and arguments are truth?

A "I set down truth as I see it; for me, it is something holy, to be approached with pure motive, and with full attention."

Q What is necessary for the salvation of man?

A "Three things are necessary for the salvation of man: to know what he ought to believe; to know what he ought to desire; and to know what he ought to do."

Rounding It Out

By Rachel West

Among the books which have come into the college library recently are excellent biographies of men and women important either for their deeds or for the period during which they lived.

American history students, confirmed Lincoln lovers, and all those interested in good reading will enjoy Benjamin P. Thomas's Abraham Lincoln. The author, executive secretary of the Abraham Lincoln association in Springfield, Ill., is noted for his studies of the subject.

This newest one-volume biography is scholarly, but not dull; it presents some of the most recent and authentic material collected on Lincoln. Noteworthy are the photographs and the critical bibliography of Lincoln literature. Chapter XIX, "Profile of a President," which describes the every-day activities of the President during his most hectic days in the White House, is outstanding.

Most unusual is Ivan the Terrible, from the German by Hans von Eckhart. It portrays the life and times of the little known and still less understood Ivan IV of Russia. The book shows the great influence of "The

The nurses have literally put the "hospital" into "hospitality." Pre-holidays gave us the first of a series of St. Vincent-Marian social events. The opener was a swimming party here on campus. They responded with a roof top party. Recently Marianites joined in the fun at a square dance and cakewalk sponsored by the freshman student nurses.

Personification plus. Psychology classmates were amazed to hear the "image of a door" shut when called such, and to hear the green board, "which appears different shades to different individuals," knock a forceful reply to the statement. Both seemed to happen without apparent cause. Coincidence? A door slightly ajar and a dramatization next door might help to explain the mysteries.

Terrible's" life and work on the national growth of Russia.

If you have much free time, and a goodly amount of patience, you may be interested in the vigorously annotated biography, Caesar, from the French by Gerard Walter. Even if you have only a little time, a glance at chapters would be worthwhile, as the book is well-written, and, despite its size, readable. Of greatest value is the bibliography of writings by and about Caesar and his influence on history, literature, and music.

Hector Bolitho, an Englishman who specializes in Victorian history, has written what claims to be the most authoritative work on Queen Victoria. In The Reign of Queen Victoria, written with what appears to be intense devotion to the Queen and her consort, Prince Albert, he has given a charming and complete account of glorious days in England. An idol to her people and to the world, "she gave her name to an age of great intellectual enterprises which she did not comprehend. She was a stateswoman of fiery will and considerable wisdom, and an ambitious, devoted mother." Her sense of moral rights and wrongs has become legendary.

Trophy Contestants Deserve Support

Marian will soon be trying for the Newman club volleyball trophy for the third and final year. If we are successful, this will be our first sports trophy for a collection which will surely increase in future years.

Wouldn't it be something for the girls to be the ones to win the first trophy, especially in playing against fellows?

Let's go to Turkey Run and play our best, and, if we aren't on the team, let's cheer.

SPOTLIGHT . . .

The U. S. Secretary of Labor, Martin Durkin, chosen especially for his loyalty to the principles of Papal social encyclicals, received the 1953 Rerum Novarum award, conferred by St. Peter's college, Newark, N. J., Mar. 29. He is noted for his devout Catholicism and his work in labor-management relations.

The keynote theme of the 21st annual meeting of the National Catholic Family Life conference was "The Father, the Head of the Home."

President D. Eisenhower sent a message to the convention, terming it a "notable event" and wishing "success in your important deliberations." He wrote, "It strikes me as a theme representing a cardinal consideration in all efforts to build strong and enduring family life."

During the past six years the UN International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) has provided 69 million children in 72 countries with food, clothing, and drugs. This year it has been asked to contribute to leper colonies, but at present it looks as though this will be impossible. Why? Because the U. S. wishes to save the $9.8 million (one-third of the world's total contribution) the fund expected to give to this cause.

Legion Plan May 6 For Annual Picnic; Publish 'Notes'

Next event on the calendar of campus Legion of Mary activities will be the annual picnic May 6.

Pinicnicking for active and auxiliary members will follow Benediction at 4 p. m.

Comitium Publication Launched

First issue of Legion Notes, comitium quarterly publication, was recently circulated. The tabloid-size paper, containing editorials, features, and local Legion news, is a joint project of all the Indianapolis praesidia. Pat Doerger and Rosemary Tisserand represented the praesidium of Mary Immaculate at the meeting which launched the publication.

Acting the "big sister" role, Rosemary Haxton and Mary Agnes Kodama officiate each Wednesday at the junior praesidium meetings at Holy Trinity.

Legion Helps the Deaf, Blind

New among this year's projects is catechetical instruction of deaf children. Each Sunday Barbara Gingrich and Joann Hazlewood get an early start for St. Joan of Arc's, where they patiently and ingeniously try to explain the truths of faith via writing, careful enunciation, and visual aids.

Sharing this work, other legionaries prepare visual aids for this and other classes for the deaf.

Other handicapped recipients of legion service are a blind couple.

These are typical of the works which are helping 17 campus legionaries to accomplish, in many small ways, their active duty of bringing souls to Christ.

Freshman Contributes To Xavier Symposium

"Ultrasonics" was the topic of a paper presented by Joan Hazlewood at a Science Symposium at Xavier university, Cincinnati, Apr. 19.

Joann's paper dealt with the science of sounds and their mechanical operation. She told of the chemist's use of sounds inaudible to man's ear, for such purposes as speeding reactions and manufacturing colloids.

Other colleges represented on the program were: Xavier, Mt. St. Joseph-on-the-Ohio, Nazareth, and Ursuline colleges. About 135 students attended the lectures, exhibits, and demonstration.

Marian college had as representatives: Mary Lu Method, Theresa Chu, Doris Rudy, Gertrude Lenhardt, Frances Tietz, Barbara Becker, Martha Pictor, Judy Rahe, and Carolyn Zapp.

Regional NF Keynoter Points Out Encyclicals as Guide to Catholic Action

Keynote speaker for the tenth annual regional NFCCS congress at St. Joseph's college, Collegeville, Apr. 17-19, was Betty Schneider, director of the Friendship House in Chicago.

Speaking on the congress theme, "The Pontiffs Speak to the Students," Miss Schneider expressed the belief that all answers to present day problems are to be found in the papal encyclicals. Family life and labor relations were emphasized as fields for lay people "going out with the strength of Christ and bringing the world back to Him."

President Sums Up Year

Beginning Saturday afternoon with the first plenary session, the congress was preceded by sessions of the regional council, at which Miro Pregelj, the out-going president, presided. Given at this meeting were the reports of the president, vice-president, and treasurer. Marian was rated "very good" in the president's report.

Elected at this meeting were officers for the coming year. They are: Harry Hadlock, Notre Dame university, president; Jane Michael, St. Mary-of-the-Woods college, vice president; Elaine Fredrick, St. Francis college, secretary; and Pat Cutter, St. Mary's college, treasurer. These officers took over their respective positions at the meetings on Sunday.

Panels Convened

Saturday afternoon was taken up with panels held in all the regional commissions, including family life, student government, Christian doctrine, science, international relations, inter-racial justice, and forensics. These panels formulated resolutions which were later approved at the plenary session.

In line with the theme of the congress, the apostolic commission resolved that more emphasis be placed on Catholic action.

Continuation of Scoop, the regional NFCCS publication, was recommended by the press commission.

Besides these panels, special meetings discussed fine arts and industrial relations as possible new commissions. These meetings asked that the colleges find units on the campus which would be within the scope of the two areas considered.

Looking Ahead

Plans recommended for the coming year include an orientation period at the national congress for all senior delegates, and several changes in the regional by-laws. Attendance at the national congress in Cincinnati, Aug. 25-30, was urged.

Marian students attending were: Janice Gaughan, senior delegate, Barbara Vesely, junior delegate, Clare Watson, Therese Lowe, Rita Griest, Margaret Mountain, Charlene Hatherly, Mary Jo McHugh, Ann Herber, Phyllis Guidone, Patricia Mudd, Jo Anne Krieger, and Margaret Ann Barbee.

Best Wishes . . .

Weddings

Wanda Toffolo, '49, to Mr. Joseph Kilies, Mar. 7, St. Francis de Sales church, Indianapolis.

Catholic Players Give Scottish Musical Next

Marian students and alumnae will participate in the forthcoming Catholic Theatre guild musical production, Brigadoon, to be given Apr. 29 and May 3.

Erna Santarossa will direct the chorus. Other alumnae taking part are Catherine and Antoinette Pangallo, Wanda Toffolo Kilies, and Margaret Mellen, and Virginia Koelker.

Sophomores Lee Lieland and Miriam Kern are also in the chorus.

Guild members exhibited their talent in a 40-minute one-act comedy "Dismas Did It", in the college gymnasium Apr. 22.

Congratulations

Clarita Dattilo, ex '55, to Mr. George Wesbecker, Apr. 7, St. Mary church, Madison, Ind.

Josephine McCann, ex '54, to Mr. Donald William Kuehr, May 2, SS. Peter and Paul cathedral, Indianapolis.

Kathleen Holtel, '47, to Mr. Jess Hattrup, May 9, Holy Family church, Oldenburg, Ind.

Births

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fiederman (Eileen Busam, '47) a son, Thomas Michael, Apr. 4.

To Mr. and Mrs. Howard Batta a son, Kevin Howard, Apr. 14. Mr. Batta is resident employee of Marian college.

'Creating' is a joy for Marta Kilcer.

Temperament Studies, Historic Design Highlight Senior's Year-End Art Exhibit

Art exhibit of Marta Kilcer, senior, is scheduled for May 24 through June 7, in the library building. It will be open to the public.

Design, still life studies, portraits, and commercial art will be represented. Work in pastel, water-color and oil will be shown.

Most unusual of Marta's creations are four pastels, each illustrating one of the four temperaments. The choleric, for example, is expressed in a lurid face surrounded by flames for hair.

Indicative of patriotic interest in her native land is a design reflecting the history of Hungary. Its motif is a torch, whose flames, consuming the Turkish crescent, the Nazi swastika, and the Communist sickle-and-hammer, light up the national emblem of Hungary.

Marta is a graduate of the Englisches Institut in Lindau on Lake Constance, Germany. Arriving at Marian Dec. 1, 1949, she was the second DP to enroll at the college.

With an art major, she has combined a minor in German and has been active in dramatics and in German and World Affairs clubs. She is now chairman of the college committee of the Catholic Art association.

NCEA Meeting Says, Achievements Great Shortage Acute

Shortage of several thousands of teachers in Catholic elementary and high schools for 1953-1954 is the most striking fact learned by the 9000 delegates to the national convention of the National Catholic Educational association in Atlantic City, N. J., Apr. 7-10.

Marian faculty members who trod the board-walk and crossed part of the Atlantic were Fr. Harry Hoover and Sister Mary Edgar. As co-founder of the Beta Eta chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, Sister Mary Edgar also attended that organization's meeting during the convention.

Of special interest in the College and University department were the review of the 50-year contribution of this department to the growth and development of Catholic higher education, by Monsignor Julius W. Haun, Winona, Minn., and the 10-year prediction concerning that same growth, by Bishop William T. Mulloy, Covington, Ky.

Most prominent general session speakers were: Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter, St. Louis, retiring president of NCEA; Most Rev. Amleto G. Cicognani, apostolic delegate; and Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education.

Present for the Midwest regional meeting of NCEA, Chicago, Mar. 24, were Fr. William F. Stineman, Sister Mary Carol, and Sister Mary Jane.

Care of Mentally Ill Topic of Dr. Nielsen

Dr. Juul C. Nielsen, superintendent of the new Larue D. Carter memorial hospital, spoke on the care of the mentally ill and the Indiana mental health program, at an assembly Apr. 23.

Former superintendent at two other state mental hospitals, Dr. Nielsen served as neuropsychiatrist and chief of the mental hygiene consulting service during World War II. He is also medical director of the Indiana council for mental health and has written numerous publications in psychiatry.

National Conventions, Local Meetings Prominent on Recent Faculty Calendar

At Columbia club, Indianapolis, Sister Mary Kevin attended a session of the workshop conducted by the Association of American Colleges, Commission on College and Industry, Apr. 13-15, and, with Sister Clarence Marie, a meeting of the Indiana Association of Church-related and Independent Colleges there, Apr. 21.

Chicago was the meeting ground for two recent administrative gatherings—the convention of the North Central Association of colleges and Secondary Schools, attended by Sister Marie Pierre and Sister M. Olivia, Mar. 25-27, and the quarterly meeting of the Central Catholic College association, Apr. 7, at which Sister Mary Esther and Sister Ruth Irma were present.

Education, Library, Home Ec

Further developments in the Indiana Scholarship program took Sister Marie Pierre and Sister Mary Rachel to Butler university, Apr. 2.

From the national convention of the Catholic Library association, Columbus, Ohio, Apr. 8-10, via Sister Clarence Marie, comes the plea for more Catholic college students to enter librarianship as a profession.

Evaluating home economics education in colleges and universities was one of the objectives of the meeting of the American Home Economics association, Indiana section, at Indiana university, Apr. 10. Sister Joan Marie and Sister Miriam Clare attended.

Philosophy, Music

Monsignor John J. Doyle and Fr. William Stineman spent Apr. 19 with the Indiana Philosophical association at Indiana State Teachers college, Terre Haute.

May 3-7 will find Sister M. Vitalis in Atlanta, Ga., serving on the executive board of the National Catholic Music Educators association at the association's national meeting.

Red Cross Members Share I. U. Conference

Red Cross activity leaders of five Indiana colleges met at Indiana university Apr. 11 for the annual College Activities conference.

Representing Marian's unit in the reports and discussions were: Pauline Siefert, chairman, Thelma Runyan, Charlene Hatherly, Ann Herber, and Gloria Hamilton. Sister Marie Bernard, moderator, and Sister Mary Rose also attended.

Blood - donation, promoted through a wide variety of publicity devices and social events, is the concentrated objective at Ball State, De Pauw, Earlham, and Indiana. Marian alone reported personal services such as those at Veterans' hospital, the blood-donor center, and the home service center.

Next year's College Activities conference is scheduled to meet on campus.

Thelma Runyan took part in a TV discussion on home service work, Apr. 9.

plans to do work in Spanish translation. Rita has been active in the school clubs especially as chairman of the Red Cross during her junior year and associate editor of the Fioretti for two years. As a junior she received the Alliance Francaise award for proficiency in French.

Music, Science Majors Achieve

Music, especially the violin, has been the main activity of Audrey Kraus, who plans to teach school music. Director of A Cappella and Bel Canto groups for three and a half years, Audrey has also been active in college clubs. She is now vice-president of the French club, and treasurer of the Third Order and the Inter-American club.

Mary Lu Method, senior Sodality representative, has been especially prominent in her major field of science. A winner of the undergraduate research certificate in chemistry in her junior year, Mary Lu will be employed by Pittman-Moore company, pharmacists. Mary Lu was president of the science club during her junior year.

Joyce and Rita were chosen earlier this year for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and for recognition in the Leader publications.

A little reminder—the Turkey Run Picnic is coming up, May 24. This means volleyball. If we win this time, the trophy is ours. The other teams are aware of this too, and will be fighting to take it away from us. Will we let them? Now is the time to stop them by early and consistent practice. Let's go, Marian, onward to victory.

Except for intramurals, scheduled but not played off as yet, basketball is reluctantly going to rest and spring sports are awakening. The "Big Team" played its final game of the season on Mar. 28 with Ursuline college. Marian humbly bowed to the Louisville "champions" 32-10.

Gym classes are all lined up for outdoor sports, especially archery and tennis, but Mother Nature has been stirring up the atmosphere and sending us a mixture of April showers, snow, sleet, and sunshine.

Visiting PTA Attend Luncheon, Assembly; Boost Building Fund

PTA members of Our Lady of Angels high school, St. Bernard, Ohio, spent an afternoon at Marian college Apr. 16.

With a Marian Guild committee as hostesses, they were guests at a luncheon and tour of the buildings and grounds. They were also present at a program commemorating Pan-American Day.

Latin-American students entertained with Spanish dances and songs. Lillian Gonzales and Leonor Rodriguez, of Puerto Rico, Connie Mansylla and Magdalena Solares, of Guatemala, and Iris Pena, of Peru, took part.

Judy Rahe, mistress of ceremonies, gave a brief talk on Inter-American relations, with special stress on the Pan-American Union and the present Organization of American States.

The PTA guests, who have repeatedly assisted in fund-raising for Marian college since 1937, will give a card party for the college Apr. 30. Their objective is to boost the building fund.

Fr. Ryan Speaks On Racial Justice

Fr. William P. Ryan, O.M.I., St. Bridget's parish, Indianapolis, will address the student assembly May 7 on the subject of inter-racial relations.

Missioned at St. Ann's, Fayetteville, N. C., for 12 years before coming to Indianapolis, Fr. Ryan has devoted the whole of his 15 years in the priesthood to service among the Negroes.

Outstanding among Indianapolis activities has been his share in organizing and promoting the Indianapolis Interracial Council.

With headquarters in Buffalo, N. Y., the O.M.I. Fathers preach missions, novenas, and retreats, and supply their missions with missionaries and material aid.
