THE VIEWS OF THIS PUBLICATION ARE THOSE OF THE INDIVIDUAL WRITER AND DO NOT NECESSARILY RE-

FLECT THOSE OF MARIAN COLLEGE

This editorial is written in concern for the publications of Marian College: Carbon, Phoenix, Fioretti, and The Marian. Each of these publications serves a distinct purpose in providing the essential balance necessary for the publications on this campus. Although they work together in providing an overall communication network and may seem to overlap at times, each publication's individual content and format does not justify one publication to replace another.

We feel that the Marian College community must realize the importance of their publications and recognize the immense power of the press.

These publications affect the entire community as they serve as a source of information, and present issues and events within the college community. Secondly, they are a means for exercising constructive freedom of speech and self-expression.

Working with publications this year has proven to be a valuable and educational experience. This experience encompasses managerial and organizational techniques, as well as developing one's writing skills (learning style, improving grammar, building vocabulary, and organizing thoughts). We are aware of this effect on everyone involved with campus publications. Yet, as editors we are even more aware of greater responsibilities associated with our positions.

Additionally, a good publication becomes excellent PR for a college, providing initial contact with prospective students and other members of the outside community. Very often, this contact is the only impression from which an opinion is formed of a college.

Finally, publications of high quality can provide a cohesive factor in unifying the college community. This is comparable with the pride found in a school with a championship athletic team or band.

Both of us feel that the Marian College community is taking their publications for granted. This includes many of the Administrators, faculty, and students.

This past year, some members of the college have taken the initiative to begin anew, to reorganize and to expand upon current publications. The Marian has reappeared after a two year absence; Phoenix has taken on a new format; Carbon has made a more conscience effort to upgrade its content; and the Fioretti expanded into two issues. All publications have re-established a firm foundation to build upon in future years.

Therefore, we demand that the college take the necessary measures needed for the insured perpetuation of Marian's publications. In an attempt to help in this effort, we propose the following:

- *Some type of academic compensation for actively participating in the productions of publications,
- *Requirement made for English majors to work on publications similar to the requirement of all music majors to actively participate in Chorale and/or Madrigals,
- *Contributions from writing courses in English and journalism,
- *Greater efforts made to recognize potential talent for publications, and encourage those students to actively participate.

There also is a need for additional financial support for campus publications due to the increased cost of paper, printing and photography bills. However, this financial burden could be justified if Marian College wants publications they can be proud of. This objective can only be accomplished if publications can hold a position of higher priority at Marian.

We recognize that a major part of the responsibility of quality publications rests with those directly involved. Yet, we need the support, encouragement and immediate action taken by Marian College in achieving a quality of excellence in their campus publications.

Respectfully submitted,
Danine Bettice

CAR WASH

Sunday April 22 from 3-10 p.m. by the intramural gym.
Cost: $1.50.

In reply to Col. Wagner's discussion on Parking Regulations Enforcement as reported by Danine Bettice in last week's Carbon, we would like to make a few comments. We believe that Mary Gardner was addressing the illogical manner of enforcing parking violations (whether it deals with parking in "no parking" areas, fire zones, or having automobiles not registered at the Business Office), not the rules and regulations set up by the school in the student handbook.

If however, rules and regulations are what you would like to address, we have a few questions. 1. Why was one car (Mary's) picked out of six cars in violation to be ticketed? 2. Why has the black Dodge been allowed to park in the fire lane at Doyle for the past two weeks? 3. What is the percentage of cars parked on campus that have parking stickers displayed for all to see? 4. How many of these cars will be properly registered by May 13th.

Three years ago security ticketed everything in sight: autos parked illegally behind the pool, in the fire lanes at Clare and Doyle and Marian Hall; and for improper registration. We may not have agreed upon the sly tactics used to catch violators, but rules are rules. We are not suggesting that the college should enforce the regulations or forget about them, but we do feel that they should be uniformly administered.

MARIAN COLLEGE HEALTH CENTER

Sharon Osborn copes with student health problems in the best possible way under limited conditions. The only member of Marian's student health clinic, nurse Sharon Osborn has become like a "mother" to students at Marian. She tries to institute the family atmosphere for students with problems so they can feel more comfortable about discussing them. With some students away from home for the first time, parents want assurance of adequate health care for their sons and daughters.

Nurse Osborn on an average day can see between 0 and 16 students, She is trained to give flu shots, allergy shots, and TB tests. Even with good training though, some things need doctor's approval, such as writing prescriptions. Dr. Ronald Blankenbaker helped service Marian until 1977. Since his visits were discontinued it has put a burden on the students and nurse Osborn. "Unpaid bills by the students did not help the situation any," stated Osborn.

"One of the important factors is communication between the students and the health clinic," says Osborn. The RA's and RD's can be very helpful here. One male student was sick for three days in Doyle Hall and nobody knew about it. Foreign students have also posed communication problems when arriving at Marian

ABOUT ADMISSIONS

The Admissions staff of Marian College is currently undergoing a year of transition. Three out of four members are new, including the Admissions Director, Mr. Kevin Ryan. Additionally, the staff has initiated new recruiting efforts in an attempt to attract students to the college.

Mr. Frank Ziegler and Ms. Denise Brennen, both recent graduates of Marian, are the two added personnel for Admissions. However, Sr. Ruth Mary Forthofer has been on the staff for the past four years. All four of the members each concentrate in a certain area of a three state recruiting region, which consist of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

Director Ryan, in a recent interview said that the staff is proud of the fact that there is a 7% increase in total applications received so far this year, with a 20-25% increase ahead in accepting students. They are relying on various marketing techniques in searching for the prospective student for Marian.

The emphasis for this year has been a spring recruiting effort and developing a stronger relationship with parishes of the Indianapolis Archdiocese. Ryan pointed out that they have visited all but 1% of the high schools in Indiana, and have already been to each of the Marion County high schools twice.

The Admissions Director feels that the staff is doing a "fairly good job this year." Currently, 150 students have been accepted for enrollment for the 1979-80 academic year. Over 300 persons have completed application procedures for Marian. These numbers include LPN's who are attempting to complete requirements for an associate degree in nursing and earn the title of Registered Nurse (RN), transfer students, recent high school graduates.

There will be a lower pool of traditional students (fresh out of high school) in the late 1980's, due to the lowering birth rate. In an attempt to recruit prospective students for Marian, the Admissions staff believes that it is important to talk with high school sophomores and juniors, and show them the possibility of higher education. "Try to educate students a little sooner, than at the last minute," stated Ryan.

Colleges are trying to supplement the students' information by visiting with the students and providing more information than the high school counselors can give.

"In some schools the guidance counselors are considered an extra, and are being cut back. And in other schools the counselors can do it all. The high schools are going to have to realize that counselors are very important in preparing a student for his future," Ryan commented.

For further information on the admissions procedures for Marian, contact the Admissions Office.

Sister Margaret Horney, Financial Aid Director of Marian College, stated that there is a new Middle Income Students Grant which means there will be larger grants and more students receiving them.

"Often it is students' own initiative which will bring about scholarships," Sister Margaret said. Sometimes too many students apply for grants and they must be dealt with on a first-come, first-serve basis.

According to Sister Margaret, there are 90 students involved in the Federal Work Study Program. This year, a marked decline. 70% of the full-time students enrolled get financial aid. The Admissions and Financial Aid Committee decides on who will receive Maraina academic scholarships.

The National Direct Student Loan Fund is granted one-ninth of its monies by the school and the rest is from the government. This type of loan is administered through the school. It comes from a revolving fund and if money is not paid back by the students, they are hurting other students. Sr. Margaret explained that usually if a student gets involved in a monthly repayment program, he will begin to consider it routine. Four months with no repayment is considered delinquent. Marian works with a collection agency that has been successful so far.

Students interested in graduate school should check with the Financial Aid Office of the particular school.

The Marian College Alumni Association again has been honored for Distinguished Achievement in Alumni Annual Giving by the National Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.

The MCAA is one of a handful of college and university alumni associations named as finalists in competition for $60,000 in awards this year from the United States Steel Foundation.

In 1975 our Association won $3000 first place award based on the rate of participation in the annual fund drive. Marian has been a finalist in the national competition three of the past four years.

for the first time. One foreign student was rushed to the hospital only three days after arriving with a case of hepatitis. This has been the most common health problem among foreign students.

The student health clinic is located in the northwest corner of the Clare Hall basement. Nurse Osborn is on duty from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. during the week and on call at night and weekends until 10:00p.m. The telephone extension for the clinic is 552. As Osborn says, "Under these limited circumstances there is only so much care that the students can receive."

OLD BUSINESS: The proposal to give the Senior Class $350 was passed as was the proposal to give the Yearbook $1000.

NEW BUSINESS: Beth reports that she received several compliments on the reception which was held Thursday, April 12, to introduce the new Student Board Officers. Beth has also seen Col. Wagner concerning a sound system. He said that one could be purchased but it must be funded by student Board and that the students therefore must assume responsibility for its storage and usage. A committee was set up to look into the matter of purchasing a sound system. Members include: Mary Moll, Cindy Schroeder, Nick Fohl, and Beth Wathen. The question was also raised as to the usage of the student activity fee. It was pointed out that some students feel either the money should be spent wisely or the activity fee lowered. It was the general consensus of the Board that the money should be put to good use that would benefit all students. Action such as the purchase of the sound system and funding of the Yearbook are steps toward this goal. It was suggested that at the end of each year the surplus should be evaluated and the money spent, leaving allowing a minimal amount to carry forward. The meeting was adjourned at 10 p.m.

Mary Moll

A growing number of the Marian College Community are concerned about the attitudes between American and Foreign Students at Marian.

A discussion program has been formed to open the lines of communication. These discussions will take place Monday, April 23 in the Perc at 11:30 a.m. and again Wednesday April 25 in the Clare Hall Lounge at 6 p.m.

BASEBALL NEWS—

Victory - EEEHAAAA!!! That's right, victory at last. The mighty Knights have started playing up to their potential and the results have been four victories in a row. After losing 7 in a row, the Knights have finally gotten their sh t together.

The Knights played Earlham College Tuesday and swept a double header from them. Tim Beringer was on the mound for the first game. Tim had a very good outing—he threw the entire game striking out 8, walking 1, and giving up only 5 hits. The offensive punch was provided by Tom Philpot, Fred Shipley, Dale Wernke, Ken Schmutte, and Daryl Simko. The Knights won 8-4.

The second game found Gary McGee getting the starting nod. Gary also had a good game—he threw for 52/3 innings, striking out 3, and allowing only three hits. Tom Maples came in to put the fire in for the Knights. Tom threw 1 1/3 innings allowing only 1 hit and struck out 1. Once again the Knights got their sticks going with Fred Shipley and Dale Wernke each getting to hits. Mark Bateman had one hit. Again the Knights won 2-0.

Marian had its home-opener yesterday against Franklin. The Knights responded with two more victories. The first game went 12 innings, before Marian could claim the victory. Maples threw started for the Knights and pitched 6 innings. Paul Dodson came in the 7th inning and threw exceptionally well chalking up his victory for the season. The offensive punch was provided by Mike Cowan, Tom Philpot, Shipley, Wernke, Simko, Schmutte and Bob Greer. Also Kurt Guldner and Beringer. This game proved that the Knights have what it takes to make a championship team.

The second game found Jeff Zartman on the mound. Jeff had a rough start but came on strong for 4 1/3 innings before giving away to Mark Bateman., but Beringer came in the sixth to see his first victory of the season. The Knights scored 13 runs in all and Fred Shipley hit a towering 360' blast over the left center field fence. Schmutte proved that he too could hit the long ball as he drove one 345' hit over the left field fence. Good job men!!

Marian's next home game will be Sunday at 1:00 p.m. This will be a double-header, so come on out and watch the men at work.

A special thanks to all the fans at the games; it was a real inspiration, even though Col. Wagner broke up the rowdies in the outfield. (hey guys he won't be there all the time so come on back to the games!)
